Making A Middle Class Student Life In English Canada During The Thirties:

Making a Middle Class Paul Axelrod,1990-10-01 Using a rich array of archival and quantitative sources and oral testimony from ex students across Canada Axelrod explores the characteristics and significance of university life during a trying decade He describes who went to university what they were taught how they amused themselves how they responded to the pressing political issues of the day and what became of them after graduation Axelrod argues that these students shared the aspirations of middle class communities elsewhere Dreading the prospect of downward social mobility they craved the status a university degree and professional credentials might produce Accordingly they forged an associational life on campus that challenged the control of paternalistic authorities perpetuated the values of middle class culture and helped them cope with the stresses of the time Women composed almost one quarter of the student population and faced discrimination inside and outside the classroom How they coped with this how they adapted their own expectations and how they contributed to campus and community culture are extensively discussed Through the prism of the student experience Making a Middle Class furnishes fresh insights into the social history of higher education the history of youth the history of the middle class and the history of the Depression Making a Middle Class Paul Douglas Axelrod,2007 Varsity's

Soldiers Eric McGeer,2019-09-04 The role of Canadian universities in selecting and training officers for the armed forces is an important yet overlooked chapter in the history of higher education in Canada For more than fifty years the University of Toronto supported the largest and most active contingent of the Canadian Officers Training Corps COTC which sent thousands of officer candidates into the regular and reserve forces Based on the rich fund of documents housed in the university archives Varsity's Soldiers offers the first full length history of military training in Toronto Beginning with the formation of a student rifle company in 1861 and focusing on the story of the COTC from 1914 to 1968 author Eric McGeer seeks to enlarge appreciation of the university's remarkable contribution to the defence of Canada the place of military education in an academic setting and the experience of the students who embodied the ideal of service to alma mater and to country No Ordinary Academics Shirley Spafford,2000-01-01 Describes the circumstances and people that turned a department in an isolated prairie university into a thriving intellectual community that would nurture some of Canada's best minds Integrating School and Workplace Learning in Canada Hans G. Schuetze,Robert Sweet,2004-04 In response to concerns that the educational system from public schools through colleges universities and apprenticeship programs cannot adequately prepare students for work in the new economy Integrating School and Workplace Learning in Canada proposes alternation a hybrid form of learning that by combining experiential and cognitive learning skills allows individuals to develop the relevant skills and intellectual capabilities to address and solve complex problems encountered in the workplace Alternation involves not only a curricular balance between the theoretical and the practical but also two distinct venues for learning the classroom and the workplace The authors discuss cognitive and social learning its implementation in a variety of settings its role in smoothing the school work transition process and its potential to contribute to the knowledge and skills needed by the workforce They bring a wide range of disciplinary perspectives to bear in their analyses of the principles and practices of alternation providing historical theoretical and practical insights Their analysis contributes to and extends the current debate and discussion surrounding necessary changes in our education and training practices Faces in the Crowd Franklin Bialystok, 2022-06-29 Starting with the first steps on Canadian soil in the eighteenth century to the present day Faces in the Crowd introduces the reader to the people and personalities who made up the Canadian Jewish experience from the Jewish roots of the NHL's Ross trophy to Leonard Cohen and all the rabbis artists writers and politicians in between Drawing on a lifetime of wisdom and experience at the heart of the Canadian Jewish community Franklin Bialystok adds new research unique insights and best of all memorable stories to the history of the Jews in Canada Youth and Work in the Post-Industrial City of North America and Europe, 2002-10-01 In North American and European cities youth live in precarious social and economic conditions The issue of employment has become a political problem In this volume sociological economical and ethnographical perspectives are used to explain ethnic discrimination inequalities at school unemployment and marginalization Work remains a central value in young peoples lives who not only are victimized but also try to find escapes Originally in French this extended and updated book contains contributions by Enrico Pugliese Saskia Sassen Min Zhou Fran ois Dubet Paul Anisef Paul Axelrod Ida Susser and others Setting the Agenda Roberta Hamilton, 2002-01-01 The biography of Jean Royce Registrar of Queen's University for thirty five years provides a close look at the development and politics of a major Canadian university Revivalists Kevin Bradley Kee, 2006 How prominent Canadian revivalists used commerce and entertainment to advance their Christian causes An Officer and a Lady Cynthia Toman, 2008-05-20 During the Second World War more than 4 000 civilian nurses enlisted as Nursing Sisters a specially created all female officers rank of the Canadian Armed Forces They served in all three armed force branches and all the major theatres of war yet nursing as a form of war work has long been under explored An Officer and a Lady fills that gap Cynthia Toman analyzes how gender war and medical technology intersected to create a legitimate role for women in the masculine environment of the military and explores the incongruous expectations placed on military nurses as officers and ladies Women in Higher Education, 1850-1970 E. Lisa Panayotidis, Paul Stortz, 2017-09-19 This edited collection illustrates the way in which women's experiences of academe could be both contextually diverse but historically and culturally similar It looks at both the micro individual women and universities and macro level comparative analyses among regions and countries within regional national trans national and international contexts The contributors integrally advance knowledge about the university in history by exploring the intersections of the lived experiences of women students and professors practices of co education and intellectual and academic cultures They also raise important questions about the complementary and multidirectional flow and exchange of academic knowledge and information among gender groups across programmes disciplines and universities Historical inquiry and interpretation serve as efficacious ways with which to understand contemporary events and discourses in higher education and more broadly in community and society This book will provide important historical contexts for current debates about the numerical dominance and significance of women in higher education and the tensions embedded in the gendering of specific academic programs and disciplines and university policies missions and mandates

Canadian Intellectuals, the Tory Tradition, and the Challenge of Modernity, 1939-1970 Philip Massolin, 2015-05-27 In this well researched book Philip Massolin takes a fascinating look at the forces of modernization that swept through English Canada beginning at the turn of the twentieth century Victorian values agrarian religious and the adherence to a rigid set of philosophical and moral codes were being replaced with those intrinsic to the modern age industrial secular scientific and anti intellectual This work analyses the development of a modern consciousness through the eyes of the most fervent critics of modernity adherents to the moral and value systems associated with Canada's tory tradition The work and thought of social and moral critics Harold Innis Donald Creighton Vincent Massey Hilda Neatby George P Grant W L Morton Northrop Frye and Marshall McLuhan are considered for their views of modernization and for their strong opinions on the nature and implications of the modern age These scholars shared concerns over the dire effects of modernity and the need to attune Canadians to the realities of the modern age Whereas most Canadians were oblivious to the effects of modernization these critics perceived something ominous far from being a sign of true progress modernization was a blight on cultural development In spite of the efforts of these critics Canada emerged as a fully modern nation by the 1970s Because of the triumph of modernity the toryism that the critics advocated ceased to be a defining feature of the nation s life Modernization in short contributed to the passing of an intellectual tradition centuries in the making and rapidly led to the ideological underpinnings of today s modern Canada

University Women Sara Z. MacDonald,2021-11-15 Bessie Scott nearing the end of her first year at university in the spring of 1890 recorded in her diary Wore my gown for first time It didn t seem at all strange to do so Often deemed a cumbersome tradition by men the cap and gown were dearly prized by women as an outward sign of their hard won admission to the rank of undergraduates For the first generations of university women higher education was an exhilarating and transformative experience but these opportunities would narrow in the decades that followed In University Women Sara MacDonald explores the processes of integration and separation that marked women s contested entrance into higher education Examining the period between 1870 and 1930 this book is the first to provide a comparative study of women at universities across Canada MacDonald concludes that women s higher education cannot be seen as a progressive narrative a triumphant story of trailblazers and firsts of doors being thrown open and staying open The early promise of equal education was not fulfilled in the longer term as a backlash against the growing presence of women on campuses resulted in separate academic programs closer moral regulation and barriers that restricted their admission into the burgeoning fields of science technology engineering and mathematics The modernization of higher education ultimately marginalized women students researchers and faculty within the diversified universities of the twentieth century University Women uncovers the systemic inequalities based on gender race and class that have shaped Canadian higher education It is indispensable reading for those concerned with the underrepresentation of girls and women in STEM and current initiatives to address issues of access and equity within our academic institutions
