Making People Friendly Towns Improving The Public Environment In Towns And Cities:

Making People-friendly Towns Francis Tibbalds,1992 Considers the design maintenance and management of towns and cities particularly the central areas with a view to establishing what makes a successful and enjoyable public environment The author blends practical guidelines with text and original drawings Making People-Friendly Towns Francis Tibbalds,2012-09-10 Making People Friendly Towns explores the way our towns and cities particularly their central areas look and feel to all their users and discusses their design maintenance and management Francis Tibbalds provides a new philosophical approach to the problem suggesting that places as a whole matter much more than the individual components that make up the urban environment such as buildings roads and parks This informative book suggests the way forward for professionals decision makers and all those who care about the future of our urban environment and points the reader in the direction of a wealth of living examples of successful town planning Developing Age-Friendly

Communities in the UK Stephen J. Page,Joanne Connell,2022-12-23 The ageing population is a global societal issue Policymakers planners and the public third and private sectors must rethink how the built environment and services are delivered to meet the needs of a changing demographic This is the first book to systematically review the evolution development and progress of age friendly thinking in the UK with a primary focus on the real world experiences of the people leading place based initiatives The book presents the findings of the first in depth national study of age friendly programme leaders in the UK completed in 2021 and provides insights into the development of age friendly communities the formative influences from a social policy perspective the management challenges and the progress towards achieving age friendly goals Using primary interview data and narrative analysis the experiences of working with age friendly programmes in different organisational forms are explored The book promotes a greater understanding of what it means to become an age friendly community in practice how the programmes have different development pathways and what influences different outcomes Embellished with detailed narratives from practitioners informative tables and diagrams and figures throughout the book carefully gathers the voices of a diverse range of decision makers and leaders associated with the age friendly movement and provides unique insights on the drivers of change in specific localities This is a must read for anyone involved in ageing research or ageing policy and practice as it provides an insightful look into the real world of embedding this community development model in different localities to make a difference to the lives of older people Topical themes include how these agendas connect with other issues such as dementia friendly programmes and the work of the third sector as well as the growing challenge of what it means to be friendly as a community and place and whether friendly is becoming an over used term in relation to place identity The book has national and global interest for all communities engaged in age friendly activity offering exemplars of best practice achievements in transforming local communities and views on the meaning of ageing as well as the age friendly lens as an approach that champions the world through the eyes of older people It offers a thought provoking read for anyone with an interest in this expanding area of ageing irrespective of disciplinary focus

Transformation of Cities in Central and Eastern Europe F. E. Ian Hamilton, Kaliopa Dimitrovska Andrews, Nataša Pichler-Milanović, 2005 Annotation This volume is one in a series initiated by the United Nations University Institute of Advanced Studies on the inter relationship between globalisation and urban transformation It identifies and describes the inter and intra urban transformations of Central and Eastern European cities and considers their pre 1945 historic legacies the socialist period and their contemporary transition towards market oriented and democratic systems The dramatic changes since 1989 including the collapse of Communist ideology the break up of the Soviet Union Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia the end of the Cold War and the impact of globalisation and European integration have reconfigured this region and affected their re integration into European and global networks This book first examines the similarities and differences between significant Central and Eastern European cities comparing the differing patterns of historical context and socialist legacies before 1990 and the impacts of internal and external forces on re shaping these cities and their paths of transformation since 1990 It also examines the role of contemporary planning within the overall development of Central and Eastern European cities The conclusion demonstrates the similarities and differences between Central and Eastern European cities and their re integration into global networks Toward an Integrative Theory of Urban Design Hossein

Bahrainy, Ameneh Bakhtiar, 2016-05-13 This book takes a bold epistemological approach to address the fundamental questions that urban design has faced since its inception questions concerning its legitimacy definition nature content purpose theory methods jurisdiction and above all its knowledge base The appropriate level of urban design global or local is another critical and emerging question discussed At the end an integrative theory of urban design is introduced on the basis of which a set of principles is developed for application by practicing urban designers These principles are presented at three essential levels general global and local Iranian Toward an Integrative Theory of Urban Design is intended to dispel many of the ambiguities still troubling urban design as a discipline and profession Place Identity, Participation and Planning

Cliff Hague, Paul Jenkins, 2005 Can regional identities create a more sustainable alternative to the increasingly standardised environments in which we live Is bottom up rather than top down planning possible Housing Transformations Bridget Franklin, 2006-08-21 Including illustrated case study examples this original and groundbreaking book explores a wide range of literature combines social theory with elements from the built environment disciplines and explores how and why we build where we do Social Exclusion in European Cities Judith Allen, Goran Cars, Ali Madanipour, 2012-08-21 Across Europe concern is rising over the disintegration of social relations and the growing number of people who are being socially excluded social Exclusion in European Cities the first major study of this topic provides a definition of social exclusion and looks at both the processes which cause it and the dimensions of the problem throughout Europe The experiences of people living in areas or neighbourhoods with low rates of social integration are considered illuminating the human impact of exclusion where it is most visible Finally the contributors evaluate the various policy and community initiatives which are currently confronting the problem in a wide sample of European Cities on a variety of levels from inform individual actions to supra national European Union policy and suggest new ways in which social exclusion could be tackled With most large cities experiencing some degree of social exclusion this is an important volume for all those working in the areas of regional policy town planning housing management social work community development sociology political science and urban studies By

The Top Books of the Year Making People Friendly Towns Improving The Public Environment In Towns And Cities The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the captivating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Making People Friendly Towns Improving The Public Environment In Towns And Cities : Colleen Hoover "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Making People Friendly Towns Improving The Public Environment In Towns And Cities : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Making People Friendly Towns Improving The Public Environment In Towns And Cities : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
