Making Place Making Self Travel Subjectivity And Sexual Difference:

Making Place, Making Self Inger Birkeland, 2017-03-02 Making Place Making Self explores new understandings of place and place making in late modernity covering key themes of place and space tourism and mobility sexual difference and subjectivity Using a series of individual life stories it develops a fascinating polyvocal account of leisure and life journeys These stories focus on journeys made to the North Cape in Norway the most northern point of mainland Europe which is both a tourist destination and an evocation of a reliable and secure point of reference an idea that gives meaning to an individual's life The theoretical core of the book draws on an interweaving of post Lacanian versions of feminist psychoanalytical thinking with phenomenological and existential thinking where place making is linked with self making and homecoming By combining such ground breaking theory with her innovative use of case studies Inger Birkeland here provides a major contribution to the fields of cultural geography tourism and feminist studies discourses Sometimes the Arctic is seen as synonymous with modernity itself Sometimes it appears as a utopian space signalling a different future However it still often represents the continued survival within modernity of the past as nostalgia longing dream and myth

Spatial Politics in the Postcolonial Novel Sara Upstone, 2016-04-01 In her innovative study of spatial locations in postcolonial texts Sara Upstone adopts a transnational and comparative approach that challenges the tendency to engage with authors in isolation or in relation to other writers from a single geographical setting. Suggesting that isolating authors in terms of geography reinforces the primacy of the nation Upstone instead illuminates the power of spatial locales such as the journey city home and body to enable personal or communal statements of resistance against colonial prejudice and its neo colonial legacies. While focusing on the major texts of Wilson Harris Toni Morrison and Salman Rushdie in relation to particular spatial locations Upstone offers a wide range of examples from other postcolonial authors including Michael Ondaatje Keri Hulme J M Coetzee Arundhati Roy Tsitsi Dangarembga and Abdulrazak Gurnah. The result is a strong case for what Upstone terms the postcolonial spatial imagination independent of geography though always fully contextualised. Written in accessible and unhurried prose Upstone's study is marked by its respect for the ways in which the writers themselves resist not only geographical boundaries but academic categorisation.
