Marshal Akhromeev:

The Fading Threat, 1990 Air Force Magazine, 1985 Soviet Nuclear Weapons Policy William C. Green, 2019-07-11 This research guide is intended primarily for two groups of specialists The first consists of Sovietologists interested in acquiring a more complete knowledge of Soviet strategic and military policy The second includes strategic analysts interested in expanding their expertise to cover Soviet strategy and thinking However it was assembled so as to be useful as well for non specialists interested in investigating Soviet nuclear weapons policy Approaches to Naval Arms Control United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Armed Services. Subcommittee on Projection Forces and Regional Defense, 1990 Soviet Views of National Security Issues in the 1990s United States. Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services, 1989 Soviet Views on National Security Issues in the 1990s United States. Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services, 1989 Second-hand Time Svetlana Alexievich, 2016 Nobel Prize winner Svetlana Alexievich invents a new genre of narrative non fiction as she writes the life stories of housewives artists party workers students soldiers traders living through a time of political upheaval the fall of the Soviet Union and the two decades that followed it War Scare Peter Pry, 1999-09-30 Why do some American intelligence officials maintain fallout shelters and private contingency plans to evacuate their families in the event of a Russian nuclear strike even in today's post Cold War era of U S Russian partnership The frightening answer lies within the pages of War Scare a terrifying assessment of the prospect for nuclear holocaust in our day Written by Peter Vincent Pry a former CIA military analyst War Scare provides a history of our country's little known brushes with nuclear war and warns that contrary to popular opinion and the assurances of our political leaders the possibility of a Russian attack still exists Nuclear deterrence has been the foundation of Western security for the last 50 years but since the end of the Cold War Russian military doctrine has become more destabilizing and much more dangerous than is commonly believed By making use of a wealth of declassified and unclassified material Dr Pry illustrates how Russia's brutal past continues to shape the consciousness and decision making of its leaders many of whom are unreconstructed ideologues from the old Soviet regime Gripped by a perpetual perception of imminent threat a war scare the Russian General Staff which controls the technical capability of launching a nuclear strike has shown itself to be unstable at best The author explores recent history and near disasters such as the Bosnian crisis the Norway missile incident and U S air strikes on Iraq from the perspective of the Russian General Staff believing that only by understanding their viewpoint can we minimize the risk of unintentionally provoking a deadly attack Wary of NATO expansion and reeling from the Russian economy's descent into chaos the General Staff may interpret Western military exercises and operations in the Middle East and elsewhere as concealing surprise aggression against Russia This is a grave situation indeed as even after the START I II and III agreements Russia will retain enough nuclear weapons to destroy the world not to mention significantly expanded chemical and biological warfare capability War Scare convincingly shows that we ignore these facts at our peril All Hands, 1988
