Bluepoint that resort of millionaires to which it is as difficult for a poor man to gain admittance as it is for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven Marygold Dare heiress has just arrived at The Castle her aunt Mrs Castleton's summer residence at Bluepoint Every August since she was left an orphan five years ago she has spent here not from desire did she consult her desire she would never set foot within it but from duty and as duty is a mighty tedious thing except to saints and Marygold is no saint August is the longest month in the calendar in her estimation About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Audiobooks, Literature, and Sound Studies Matthew Rubery, 2011-05-09 This is the first scholarly work to examine the cultural significance of the talking book since the invention of the phonograph in 1877 the earliest machine to enable the reproduction of the human voice Recent advances in sound technology make this an opportune moment to reflect on the evolution of our reading practices since this remarkable invention Some questions addressed by the collection include How does auditory literature adapt printed texts What skills in close listening are necessary for its reception What are the social consequences of new listening technologies In sum the essays gathered together by this collection explore the extent to which the audiobook enables us not just to hear literature but to hear it in new ways Bringing together a set of reflections on the enrichments and impoverishments of the reading experience brought about by developments in sound technology this collection spans the earliest adaptations of printed texts into sound by Charles Dickens Thomas Hardy and other novelists from the late nineteenth century to recordings by contemporary figures such as Toni Morrison and Barack Obama at the turn of the twenty first century As the voices gathered here suggest it is time to give a hearing to one of the most talked about new media of the past century

A Sweet Misfortune Maggie Brendan, 2016-02-02 Rachel Matthews isn't one to rely on others to take care of her Destitute and alone she still wants to make her own way and her own money even if she's forced into the life of a dance hall girl Horrified by her circumstances Rachel's brother sends a friend the widely admired cattle baron John McIntyre to rescue her then sets off to earn enough money to buy back the family ranch But when months pass without her brother's return Rachel isn't sure she can take one more day in John McIntyre's home especially once she discovers that he's the one who holds the deed to her family's ranch Sparks fly between this spunky independent heroine and the ruggedly handsome hero as they navigate the snarled terrain of pride greed faith and love in Maggie Brendan's delightful series set in the Old West

Secrets made public. A novel James Norris BREWER, 1808 The Sentimental Education of the Novel Margaret Cohen, 2018-06-05 The nineteenth century French novel has long been seen as the heroic production of great men who confronted in their works the social consequences of the French Revolution And it is true that French realism especially as developed by Balzac and Stendhal was one of the most influential novelistic forms ever invented Margaret Cohen however challenges the traditional account of the genesis of realism by returning Balzac and Stendhal to the forgotten novelistic contexts of their time Reconstructing a key formative period for the novel she shows how realist codes emerged in a hostile take over of a prestigious contemporary sentimental practice of the novel which was almost completely dominated by women writers Cohen draws on impressive archival research resurrecting scores of forgotten nineteenth century novels to demonstrate that the codes most closely identified with realism were actually the invention of sentimentality a powerful aesthetic of emerging liberal democratic society although Balzac and Stendhal trivialized sentimental works by associating them with frivolous women writers and readers Attention to these gendered struggles over genre explains why women were not pioneers of realism in France during the nineteenth century a situation that contrasts with England where women writers played a formative role in inventing the modern realist novel Cohen argues that to understand how literary codes respond to material factors it is imperative to see how such factors take shape within the literary field as well as within society as a whole The book also proposes that attention to literature as a social institution will help critics resolve the current vital question of how to practice literary history in the wake of poststructuralism Frederick the Great and His Family Luise Mühlbach,1904

Vasil Byka? Zina J. Gimpelevich,2005-09-16 In the first English biography of his life and work Zina Gimpelevich describes the conditions under which Bykau lived in the former USSR and provides a literary and political history of Belarus from 1918 2003 Based on interviews that she conducted with Bykau she illuminates his life of as an artist and a defender of human rights She also provides literary criticism of Bykau s work including The Ordeal and Pack of Wolves and discusses the psychological realism of his early novels and his interest in existentialism Isle of Misfortune Geoffrey Leavenworth,2003 Gordo a freelance writer is married to Ana an attorney The couple has built a genteel life in the Oleander City Sons Jake and Sam attend private schools the family is active in the community life is good Misfortune's Friend Sarah Aldridge,1985 Set in Baltimore and London just before World War II Althea disabled by polio as a child finds love and companionship with Fern Mrs Henshaw who is indeed a friend to the unfortunate nevertheless learns from these young women that she must correct a mistake she has made in the past The Romantic school in France Georg Brandes,1904
