Cassandra Schumacher, 2018-07-15 The Taliban rose to power in the 1990s in Afghanistan and then in Pakistan Taliban insurgents implement strict Islamic law and any perceived transgressions are punished swiftly and brutally Armed insurgents have attacked civilians and are notorious for limiting the rights of women and girls including restricting access to education This book tells the stories of teens who lived through the horrors of the Taliban occupation surviving in the face of fear and resisting injustice My Forbidden Face Latifa, Chékéba Hachemi, 2001 A young woman's account of growing up under the repressive Taliban rule in Afghanistan Words, Not Swords Farzaneh Milani, 2011-05-16 A woman not only needs a room of her own as Virginia Woolf wrote but also the freedom to leave it and return to it at will for a room without that right becomes a prison cell The privilege of self directed movement the power to pick up and go as one pleases has not been a traditional right of Iranian women This prerogative has been denied them in the name of piety anatomy chastity class safety and even beauty It is only during the last 160 years that the spell has been broken and Iranian women have emerged as a moderating modernizing force Women writers have been at the forefront of this desegregating movement and renegotiation of boundaries Words Not Swords explores the legacy of sex segregation and its manifestations in Iranian literature and film and in notions of beauty and the erotics of passivity Milani expands her argument beyond Iranian culture arguing that freedom of movement is a theme that crosses frontiers and dissolves conventional distinctions of geography history and religion She makes bold connections between veiling and foot binding between Cinderella and Barbie between the figures of the female Gypsy and the witch In so doing she challenges cultural hierarchies that divert attention from key issues in the control of women across the globe Southern Bound John S. Sledge, 2013-03-15 Southern Bound represents a running conversation on books writers and literary travel written for the Mobile Press Register Books page from 1995 to 2011 by John S Sledge The collection includes more than one hundred of the best pieces culled from Sledge's total output of approximately seven hundred columns Numerous classic authors are celebrated in these pages including Homer Plato Gibbon Melville Proust Conrad Cather and Steinbeck as well as modern writers such as Walter Edgar Tom Franklin and Eugene Walter While some of the essays are relatively straightforward book reviews others present meditative and deeply personal perspectives on the author's literary experiences such as serving on the jury in the play version To Kill a Mockingbird spending the night alone in a Jesuit college library's venerable stacks rambling through funky New Orleans bookshops talking to Square Books owner Richard Howorth while overlooking the Oxford Mississippi courthouse rereading Treasure Island on the shores of Mobile Bay and remembering a beloved father's favorite books Engaging and spirited Southern Bound represents the critical art at its most accessible and will prove entertaining fare for anyone who loves the written word Adolescents in the
