

My Lady's Sanctuary

"Wherein she implores secrecy."

"Beauty to so complexion is confined;
Is of all colours, and by none defined."

MONDAINES possess a magic wand; at the commencement of the war they discarded it. The men came back from the front on leave. They were grieved when they saw them sitting disconsolate. They realised that something was lacking. They consoled them with the words, "How ill

"Her azure veins, her alabaster skin,
Her coral lips, her snow-white dimpled chin."

you are looking." The literal translation of these words is, "How plain and unattractive you are." The mondaines resented this; they were not slow to translate it accurately. When the time came for the next leave there was a marvellous change. The mondaines in the interval had assumed the magic wand. What is the magic wand? It consists of the numerous preparations that enable us, one and all, to bring the gifts with which nature has endowed us to the highest state of perfection. As a matter of fact, the mondaines by their aid when they emerge from their toilets may be likened unto a June rose in freshness. Let us suppose that the magic wand has been prepared by a notable specialist in the art of beauty. The result is that only the most suitable creams and lotions are used.

The Toning of the System.

A cup of tea or, better still, hot water must be sipped ere rising. This tones the system and is of assistance in counteracting the tendency to superfluous tissue from which many women suffer. On leaving the couch the face is carefully anointed with a cream, which must be rubbed into every crevice as well as into the column of the throat, as by this means the pores are cleansed and the tissues fed. The eyes must be bathed with a soothing lotion; the strenuous life of to-day is reflected in them. The teeth have next to be treated with a good dentifrice, which in addition to cleansing the teeth must possess antiseptic qualities.

The Bath.

Ere the dressing of the face is continued the bath must be taken. There are many delightful preparations for softening the water; very high in favour are those which bear the elusive fragrance of the favourite perfume. Some like effervescing tablets while others prefer crystals. Then comes the question of soap—an important one, although realised by few women. There are the bath bowls that float about on the surface of the water, monster cakes fragrant with simple yet delicious odour. There are the splendid skin soaps from which to make a selection. By the aid of these myriad preparations the morning dip is equal in luxury to the baths of the patricians of ancient Rome. The mondaines come therefrom with delicately perfumed skins and complexions "clear as morning roses washed with dew."

Dressing the Complexion.

Touches that tell in "dressing" the complexion have now to be carefully considered. It is necessary to look in the face the ravages brought by time. The skin is the first consideration. Any superfluous cream that has remained on from the previous anointing must be carefully removed with a soft piece of flannel. An astringent or beautifying lotion endowed with protective qualities must be applied and the entire face generously powdered; not only the prominent features must be embellished, but beneath the eyes

"Her fair soft hair
That like a golden shower about her fell."

and the sides of the nose. Now comes the most crucial moment of all; the powder that has alighted on unbecoming promontories must be removed. The eyebrows and lashes must be brushed and combed with a make-up brush and comb; a doll's brush and comb is preferable for this purpose. The lips must be treated with lip salve, and if they are paler than is becoming, a salve must be selected that has a hint of cherry in its composition. It is often an improvement to pale women so add a touch of colour to the cheeks, but this must be done with the utmost discretion. Last season everyone was talking about the sunburn tint that the mondaines had assumed; now the accepted shade is a deep cream in alliance with a fading blush. It is verisimilitude. Truly does "beauty draw with a single blush."

"Her feet beneath her petticoat
Like little mice stole in and out."
