David Jenneson's tight, funny first-person wit will keep you reading, smiling, and nodding in agreement. His broad brush covers everything from beating up Spammers to destroying Andy Warhol sculptures in the name of art, from the Beatles to being chased by shotgun-wielding millionaires. Even his more serious pieces like Freedom 54 about the pitfalls of being fired at age 50 and My Little Cancer Doll about providing home care to a companion with serious breast cancer still raise a smile here and there. And yes, there is even a first-person experience about finding faith on a frozen stretch of highway in 1967. It gives a broad look at a generation coming to age and remarkably always finds humor even in the darkest of circumstances. A great gift for someone who truly loves the written word. Faith Through the Journey: My One-Year Journal of God's Grace in the Midst of Breast Cancer Beth Veenstra, 2012-06-03 Diagnosed with breast cancer at 41 while still raising young children with her husband, Beth thought she was doomed to an early death. This year-long journal tells of her journey into the abyss of diagnosis and treatment and the climb out into the light as God healed her. With a wide blend of facts about treatment, raw emotions centered on the fear of the unknown, and humorous incidents often involving baldness, this book will have readers laughing and crying. Eloquently written, this book is the perfect read for any woman undergoing breast cancer treatment who wants to know what the year will hold for her. Written from a Christian perspective, this book will encourage the reader and confirm that God is in control. Anjonius Rev. Msgr. Dr. Theophilus A. Joseph, 2016-07-12 The book relates the dynamics of the relationships between the healthy and the sick in this case, Anjonius, and follows the progression of his illness until the moment of his death. Sickness, especially a sick child, an only child, and only grandchild, has devastating effects on the family. They blame themselves, they blame each other, they blame God, and they blame even those who are reaching out to them. Other stories in the book are about two brothers who were suffering from Sickle Cell anemia. They were aware that that disease would end in death, but they eventually came to accept after fear, anger, depression, and bargaining with God. Another story is of a young girl who tried to punish her parents by ingesting a weed killer. She wanted to live and cried to God for a second chance, but she was too late. She died. The book really brings us face to face with the celebration of life as persons face the reality of death. Finding the Light in Cancer's Shadow Lynn Eib, 2006 Author and cancer patient.
