My Neighbour's Faith - and Mine ,1986 Christians and Muslims Jutta Sperber,2017-04-24 No detailed description available for Christians and Muslims My neighbour's faith - and mine World Council of Churches. Dialogue avec les religions et idéologies de notre temps,1988 Virtue in Dialogue Mara Brecht,2014-03-05 Religious diversity is a persistent theological predicament for Christian thinkers Historically theologians have wrestled with the relationship between believing Christians and religious others The clash between the Christian doctrine of salvation and non Christian belief systems often comes down to the question can non Christians be saved In a pluralist world a second question arises can believers of divergent traditions reconcile their theological differences Is the logical answer that one believer abandon her faith convictions and promote a relativistic mindset This book draws upon original research documenting conversations by women in an interreligious dialogue group to show that when believers converse in honesty empathy and patience in short when engaged in virtuous dialogue they can bridge the gap left by theory When believers from different faiths come together in open conversation it need not lead to relativism but instead can lead to strengthened belief Sharing convictions with people who believe differently sincere believers find they often come to hold their own core beliefs with newfound strength

Christianity from the Northern Hemisphere to the South But the contradictory aspect of the massive African conversion to Christian faith is the grinding poverty level in Africa This condition raises important theological and ecclesiological questions that demand urgent answers Therefore the research objectives of this book are to examine African Catholicism's involvement in human promotion and to seek a new way of theologizing Christianity that moves sub-Saharan African peoples to action against the massive injustices that keep them poor Drawing on Africae Munus the Post Synodal Apostolic Exhortation of the Second African Synod 2011 and Bernard Lonergan's notion of culture African Catholicism and Hermeneutics of Culture argues that to truly be the spiritual lung of humanity African Catholicism must appropriate the Christian message to transform African attitudes and personhood and so foster a self-reliant commitment to integral African development

, 2009 International Handbook of Inter-religious Education Kath Engebretson, Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Liam Gearon, 2010-08-17 This Handbook is based on the conviction of its editors and contributing authors that understanding and acceptance of as well as collaboration between religions has essential educational value The development of this Handbook rests on the further assumption that interreligious education has an important role in elucidating the global demand for human rights justice and peace Interreligious education reveals that the creeds and holy books of the world's religions teach about spiritual systems that reject violence and the individualistic pursuit of economic and political gain and call their followers to compassion for every human being It also seeks to lead students to an awareness that the followers of religions across the world need to be and to grow in dialogical relationships of respect and understanding An essential aim of interreligious education is the promotion of understanding and engagement between people of different religions and therefore it has great potential to contribute to the common good of the global community Interreligious education has grown from the interfaith movement whose beginning is usually identified with the World Parliament of Religions held in Chicago in 1893 This was the first time in history that leaders of the eastern and western religions had come together for dialogue and to consider working together for global unity Hindus and Christians S. Strangers or Co-Pilgrims? S. Wesley Ariarajah, 2017-11-01 This book argues that interfaith dialogue begins with the basic goal of improving Christian relationships with people of other religious traditions But gradually we become aware that this new ministry when taken seriously presents many new challenges We are forced to reexamine our approach to religious plurality to the Bible and to our understanding of Christian missions and our theology of religions

The Church and Other Faiths Douglas Pratt, 2010 This book investigates the coming to be principal features and theological outcomes of interreligious dialogue as an activity of the World Council of Churches WCC and the Roman Catholic Church Vatican The embrace of dialogical engagement represents a dramatic departure from almost two millennia of hostile Christian regard toward other faiths The development of this phenomenon is outlined and explored with research focussed on the work of relevant offices of the WCC and the Vatican during the final four decades of the 20th century A principal task has been to construct a comparative narrative that provides the basis for a close analysis and assessment of policy and practice together with theological reflection and critique A hypothesis of three dimensions or theological moments that constitute a theology of dialogue has both informed and been tested by the undergirding research The conclusion suggests that the more inclusive term interfaith engagement today better encapsulates the ongoing field of concern action and theological reflection with respect to Christian relations to other religions and that a model of transcendental dialogue is now requisite for the future of this engagement
