MY LIFE IN THE STRUGGLE FOR THE LIBERATION OF

ZIMBABWE J M Mpofu, 2014-09-09 This is an elucidation of accumulation of personal experience within the context of socio cultural internalization in particular and the socio political environment in general that is intended to provide some insights into a plethora of ingredients that converged and crystallized into a catalytic impetus that socially transformed my generation from village boys to highly politicised freedom fighters during the 1960s to the 1970s in Rhodesia I have done this by tracing the footprints of my experience which show multiple stages and strands of cultural social political and physical determinants that landed themselves on my growth path starting from socialization in my parents home all the way through the local community traditions and schooling to active service for the freedom of my country at local and national levels Here the crucial elements that moulded my social being in a very profound way have been ventilated to show when and how I became able to distinguish antagonistic differences between justice and injustice at my very early age Proceeding from here I have brought out how I teamed up with others whose political outlook and aspirations were identical with mine as we all voluntarily joined anti colonial struggle starting from invisible low intensity activism in schools and towns up to risky adventures that finished up in armed struggle within a broad national perspective The narration further demonstrates the domesticity of the movements that championed liberation struggle as drivers were citizens who grew up in the rural villages and urban African Townships where they progressively became aware that they were born unlike their parents in a country under colonial administration In doing all this I had to spell out how my interaction with informative social vectors brought awareness on how my country Zimbabwe was colonized and governed by Europeans without the consent of the indigenous natives who showed their resentment to foreign rule by rebelling First Chimurenga within six years of colonization but failed only to succeed in the second rebellion Second Chimurenga after ninety years of racial domination Furthermore I believe I have laid bare how I became a civilian freedom fighter together with peers of my generation in the second rebellion where intolerable weight of oppression caused us to abandon nonviolent methods of struggle in favour of using arms of war to face a cobweb of security forces led by superb military machine of the colonial state wherein lay formidable challenges confronting rebelling citizens The armed struggle phase meant that fighters and their collaborators had to face those challenges in the theatre of operation Initially they exhibited more weaknesses than strengths and lost opportunities that were in the form of abundance of political support of masses of people in the country The overall process of the struggle exhibited strengths and costly weaknesses right from the civilian phase up to the armed struggle phase with or without my participation It was not until freedom fighters gained experience in planning and undertaking field operations that they became able to apply appropriate tactics that caused the struggle to gain sustainability in the theatre of operation More importantly the narration makes the point that the Rhodesian colonial system was presided over by European settler leaders who hardly recognized African citizens as entitled to participation in governance of the country with equal rights in social political economical and juridical spheres of societal setting of two main races Exclusion of African from consensus on the act of Unilateral

Declaration of Independence UDI by Ian Douglas Smith was a fundamental blunder that precipitated nationwide fury that led to a civil war in which a deprived citizen fought against a privileged citizen who was indoctrinated with falsehood that his adversary freedom fighter was sponsored by foreign powers of a communist type while the latter rightly believed that he was fighting to free his country from racially imposed injustices of deprivation. More importantly the narration lays emphasis on the creation of massive political structures throughout the country well below the radar of legality for the purpose of sustaining guerrilla warfare in the face of the super professional Rhodesian security forces. In this connection the final phase of armed struggle demonstrated to all at home and abroad that freedom fighters became significantly effective because they were politically rooted in the oppressed population whence came their strength against superior military hardware and a water tight counter insurgency strategy of the Rhodesian security forces. Essentially it was that political strength not Communist powers or betrayal by the West which caused all stakeholders to become willing to come to a negotiating table at Lancaster House in Britain in 1979 to settle the armed conflict decisively.

Africa: What It Gave Me, What It Took from Me Margarethe von Eckenbrecher, 2015-05-28 Africa: What It Gave Me, What It Took from Me is a memoir of an extraordinary woman who as a newlywed travelled with her husband to German South West Africa, a colony situated just above South Africa on the Atlantic coast. Here they begin a farm in a quite remote area where they raise cattle, sheep and goats and plant large gardens on the banks of the Omaruru River. They build a comfortable home and welcome their first child. As the von Eckenbrechers work hard to build their farm, natives whose land has been appropriated by the colonial government are planning a revolt against colonial rule. Insurrection begins and the von Eckenbrechers are in the midst of it all. As the rebellion strengthens, Frau von Eckenbrecher returns to Germany to wait out the insurrection. Her husband eventually returns as well. Frau von Eckenbrecher never feels completely at home again in Germany. The von Eckenbrechers divorce and Frau von Eckenbrecher returns to South West Africa with her two sons. Her former husband emigrates to Paraguay. Frau von Eckenbrecher eventually takes a position in a German language school in Windhoek, the capital city, and rears her two sons there. In her book she chronicles colonial life, the natives of the colony, how the Spanish Influenza pandemic raged in Namibia, World War I in Africa, German surrender and the South African occupation of German South West Africa and the eventual ceding of the colony to South Africa. We bring the memoir to a close with an update of Frau von Eckenbrecher's later life and death and a short remembrance from one of her two grandsons.

Baker, Elvis Imafidon, Kobus Moolman, Emelda Ngufor Samba, 2025-08-29 While Disability Studies has become more diversified in recent years contemporary debates still favour the Northern Hemisphere ignoring the lived experience of disabled people in much of the global South Few theoretical studies pay sufficient attention to the range of beliefs and attitudes towards disability in specific African contexts despite the fact that beliefs and explanations for disability permeate daily existence in sub Saharan African places and can have real consequences for persons with disabilities leading to stigmatisation marginalisation and even violence This volume is a timely intervention that seeks to address some of these imbalances and biases Through frank life writing evocative poetry and critical reflections on African arts and literatures the contributors highlight the urgent need for more culturally informed understandings of disability as a means by which to challenge existing explanations They examine the powerful role of different creative forms tools and methodologies in enhancing understandings of disability in African contexts Demonstrating the power of cultural representation in building sensitivity to the range of issues related to disability this book is of key relevance not just to scholars and students of disability studies African studies and sociology but to all who seek to advocate for social change The volume is a key outcome of the Disability and Inclusion Africa Network It is edited by Charlotte Baker Lancaster University UK Elvis Imafidon SOAS University of London UK Kobus Moolman University of the Western Cape South Africa and Emelda Ngufor Samba University of Yaound 1 Cameroon This Generation Leads: The Latest Leadership Ideas from South Africa Mike Teke, Muzi

Kuzwayo, 2022-03-01 This book was born out of an idea that I had during the period in which I spent time with several young people who had approached me to assist them in different ways including personal development career advancement and growth as well as growing their businesses and entrepreneurial acumen and skills I took the challenge but felt that more could be achieved hence this book The chapters in this book are written by each one of these young people They chose the topics guided by me and the plan was to simply convey a message from each one of them about leadership They did not do this for fame or to sell this book to make money but to share their ideas The topics covered in this book will appeal to different readers and some readers might find more lessons in one chapter or in more chapters than one I urge each one of you who read this book to pick one or a few lessons and share it with those you wish to make a difference to Mentorship of young people is critical but this does not mean that the mentors will provide handouts in the form of money People who wish to grow are not interested in money they are interested in a piece of your generous heart Mike Teke My Life's Journey
