Popular Visual Shows

1800-1914 Joe Kember, John Plunkett, 2025-04-23 This book tells the story of the growth of picturegoing as a popular habit between 1800 and 1914 Encouraged by urbanisation and changes in transportation education and leisure patterns the regular and widespread provision of exhibitions and shows became a defining characteristic of cultural life Painted panoramas and dioramas awed with enormous tableaux the stereoscope immersed viewers in a 3D world the many varieties of peepshow promised a marvellously garish experience of patriotic battles gruesome murders and far off places If that was not enough the ever versatile magic lantern projected hundreds of thousands of slides of every imaginable subject from travelogues and temperance tales to illustrated hymns and adaptations of popular fiction Then after 1896 audiences experienced the cinematograph and were able to enjoy film at the many fixed venue cinemas that emerged from around 1908 Moving and projected images were displayed not only in town halls theatres and other large exhibition spaces but also in workhouses schools churches empty shops and fairgrounds Picturegoing in all its variety became a national pastime integrating itself more and more pervasively into the structures of everyday life as the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries progressed Drawing on a wealth of new evidence this book details the shows that were on offer where and what they were the networks and infrastructure they existed within and above all how their audiences experienced them

Xuanhe Catalogue of Paintings Amy McNair, 2019-05-31 Xuanhe Catalogue of Paintings is the first complete translation of the well known document produced at the court of Emperor Huizong r 1100 1125 Dated to 1120 the Catalogue is divided into ten categories of subject matter Under Daoist and Buddhist Subjects Figural Subjects Architecture Barbarian Tribes Dragons and Fish Landscape Domestic and Wild Animals Flowers and Birds Ink Bamboo and Vegetables and Fruit are biographies of 231 painters ranging from famous early masters such as Wu Daozi ca 685 758 and Li Cheng 919 967 to otherwise unknown artists of the Song dynasty court including fourteen eunuch officials and sixteen male and female members of the royal family

Titles of their pictures held in the palace collection are listed for each artist These 6 396 paintings testify to the visual culture experienced by viewers of the twelfth century The author s Introduction analyzes the Catalogue as a source of evidence about the formation of the Song dynasty palace collection and argues that the majority of its pictures were already in the collection before Huizong s reign as a result of conquest confiscation tribute gift culture collecting by earlier emperors and the production of academy artists and regular officials at the Song court Under Huizong s reign around a thousand other pictures were added to the Catalogue through acquisition and reattribution Open access edition funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities Cinema and Cinema-Going in Scotland, 1896-1950 Trevor Griffiths,2013-08-20 This book deals with the growth of cinema going in Scotland in an extended scholarly manner integrating the study of cinema into wider debates in social and economic history Hearing the Movies James Buhler,David Neumeyer,2016 Hearing the Movies Second Edition combines a historical and chronological approach to the study of film music and sound with an emphasis on building listening skills Through engaging accessible analyses and exercises the book covers all aspects of the subject including how a soundtrack is assembled to accompany the visual content how music enhances the form and style of key film genres and how technology has influenced the changing landscape of film music The Home Front Scott Lomax,2014-01-15 The First World War saw many changes to Sheffield that have helped shape what the city is today It is apt that as we mark the centenary of the outbreak of the war whilst paying our respects to those who were killed serving our country we recognise the impact that the war had on those at home This brand new publication details the human experiences thoughts concerns fears and hopes of a city during one of the most important periods in its history including the run up to war and the reaction to its outbreak the efforts of those who could not fight industry and how workers were instrumental in creating the weapons and tools that would help Britain win the war along with the city s role in treating and entertaining wounded soldiers and the role of the University of Sheffield and the effect of the war on education The part women played in the munitions factories plus a devastating Zeppelin raid over Sheffield are also covered in detail For the first time in its history Sheffield realised that the horrors of war were not confined to overseas battles but that they could be witnessed and experienced in their own neighbourhoods As seen in The Yorkshire Post Sheffield Telegraph The Star Sheffield Bradway Bugle and Grapevine Magazine Designing Women Lucy Fischer,2003-07-30 Grand sensational and exotic Art Deco design was above all modern exemplifying the majesty and boundless potential of a newly industrialized world From department store window dressings to the illustrations in the Sears Roebuck Co catalogs to the glamorous pages of Vogue and Harper s Bazar Lucy Fischer documents the ubiquity of Art Deco in mainstream consumerism and its connection to the emergence of the New Woman in American society Fischer argues that Art Deco functioned as a trademark for popular notions of femininity during a time when women were widely considered to be the primary consumers in the average household and as the tactics of advertisers as well as the content of new magazines such as Good Housekeeping and the Woman s Home Companion increasingly catered to female buyers While reflecting the growing prestige of the modern woman Art Deco inspired consumerism helped shape the image of femininity that would dominate the American imagination for decades to come In films of the middle and late 1920s the Art Deco aesthetic was at its most radical Female stars such as Greta Garbo Joan Crawford and Myrna Loy donned sumptuous Art Deco fashions while the directors Cecil B DeMille Busby Berkeley Jacques Feyder and Fritz Lang created cinematic worlds that were veritable Deco extravaganzas But the style soon fell into decline and Fischer examines the attendant taming of the female role throughout the 1930s as a growing conservatism challenged the feminist advances of an earlier generation Progressively muted in films the Art Deco woman once an object of intense desire gradually regressed toward demeaning caricatures and pantomimes of unbridled sexuality Exploring the vision of American womanhood as it was portrayed in a large body of films and a variety of genres from the fashionable musicals of Josephine Baker and Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers to the fantastic settings of Metropolis The Wizard of Oz and Lost Horizon Fischer reveals America s long standing fascination with Art Deco the movement s iconic influence on cinematic expression and how its familiar style left an indelible mark on American culture

Martin L. Johnson,2018-01-23 See yourself in the movies Prior to the advent of the home movie camera and the ubiquitousness of the camera phone there was the local film This cultural phenomenon produced across the country from the 1890s to the 1950s gave ordinary people a chance to be on the silver screen without leaving their hometowns Through these movies residents could see themselves in the same theaters where they saw major Hollywood motion pictures Traveling filmmakers plied their trade in small towns and cities where these films were received by locals as being part of the larger cinema experience With access to the rare film clips under discussion Main Street Movies documents the diversity and longevity of local film production and examines how itinerant filmmakers responded to industry changes to keep sponsors and audiences satisfied From town pride films in the 1910s to Hollywood knockoffs in the 1930s local films captured not just images of local people and places but also ideas about the function and meaning of cinema that continue to resonate today

Moving Pictures: How They Are Made and Worked Frederick Arthur Ambrose Talbot,2022-08-21 In Moving Pictures How They Are Made and Worked Frederick Arthur Ambrose Talbot provides an insightful exploration of the early mechanics and artistry behind filmmaking Written during a period of rapid technological advancement in cinema the book combines accessible language with meticulous detail reflecting both the scientific principles of motion and the emergent narrative techniques of the silent film era Talbot delves into the complexities of cinematography editing and projection illustrating the intricate processes involved in bringing moving images to life thereby laying a foundation for readers to appreciate the artistic and technical synergy of filmmaking at the time Frederick Arthur Ambrose Talbot a noted British inventor and writer was deeply passionate about both technology and the performing arts. His background in engineering and his close ties to the evolving film industry provided him with a unique perspective allowing him to demystify the filmmaking process for a wider audience. Talbot's innovative spirit and dedication to educating the public about the art and science of cinema are evident in this work, making it a significant contribution to film literature. This book is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of cinema or the revival of visual storytelling. With its detailed explanations and historical context, Talbot's work serves not only as an informative guide to the technical aspects of filmmaking but also as an inspiring introduction to the captivating world of moving images.

Silent Film Sound Rick Altman, 2004. Based on extensive original research and filled with gorgeous illustrations, Silent Film Sound reconsiders all aspects of sound practices during the silent film period in America. Beginning with sound accompaniment and continuing through to the more familiar sound practices of the 1920s, renowned film historian Rick Altman discusses the variety of sound strategies cinema exhibitors used to differentiate their products. During the nickelodeon period prior to 1910, this variety reached its zenith with carnival-like music, automatic pianos, small orchestras, lecturers, synchronized sound systems, and voices behind the screen. In the 1910s, musical accompaniment began to support a film's narrative and emotional content with large theaters and blockbuster productions driving the development of new instruments, new music publication projects, and a new style of film music. A monumental achievement, Silent Film Sound challenges common assumptions about this period and reveals the complex and swiftly changing nature of silent American cinema.
