Religious Concerns In Contemporary Education:

Contemporary Challenges for Religious and Spiritual Education Arniika Kuusisto, Terry Lovat, 2017-10-02 From being on the margins of scholarly debate for much of the past century and a half religion is being recognized once again as an area of concern for scholars politicians and public policy makers and thus the role of religious and spiritual education has taken on a new importance Apart from its socio political ramifications the place of religiousness and spirituality in the make up of individuals has been given renewed prominence through updated brain science and neuroscientists regularly refer to elements of this brain science in terms such as spiritual intelligence and even mystical consciousness This book explores many of the new directions being taken in the field of religious and spiritual education as new developments challenge the priorities of formal education and open up new avenues for incorporating religion and spirituality into the modern curriculum It asks whether the educational aims of teachers should be focused on specifically personal development or whether religious education should be used to develop understanding of more global and social issues such as citizenship conflict and ethics The book also addresses neuroscientific insights which suggest a need to engage with cognition and emotion in order to create a rich learning environment something to which a particularly contested subject area like religion and spirituality is well placed to contribute This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Beliefs Values

Religious Concerns in Contemporary Education Philip H. Phenix, 1959 "Education Has Nothing to Do with Theology" Edward J. Newell, 2006-08-01 Does education have any relation to theology How do the educator's worldview commitments speak to his or her practice of education James Michael Lee brought a definite answer to these questions a firm no to the relations question and an advocacy for empirical findings over and against any speculative or theoretical positions in reply to the commitments question Lee claimed to have a universal neutral metatheory for all religious education a theory that would apply to all religious educators in any and every religion But in proposing his theory he overlooked the way that empirical facts express worldviews This book is a detective story tracing commitments that lay underneath empirical neutrality In the process the reader will see avenues that unmistakably link education to theology Education turns out to be a thoroughly worldview conditioned process This new work is essential reading for professors and students in both religious and general education

International Handbook of the Religious, Moral and Spiritual Dimensions in Education Marian de Souza,Gloria Durka,Kathleen Engebretson,Robert Jackson,Andrew McGrady,2007-06-04 Traditionally spirituality has resided and been contained within religious frameworks but while the links between the two areas are still acknowledged by many in the contemporary world spirituality is perceived by some as an aspect of human life that is distinct from religion Consequently many are searching for meaning within and without religious traditions today and seeking answers to ethical and moral questions that have been generated by the knowledge and technological explosion One outcome is the renewed interest in the religious spiritual and moral dimensions of education throughout the life cycle This International Handbook presents the research and professional practice of scholars who are daily engaged in the consideration of these dimensions in education The result is a collection of essays which reflects the discipline in all of its internationality as it is today Embedded within the chapters is also an agenda for the future where the religious moral and spiritual dimensions in education are proposed as an exciting and challenging way forward for educators at all levels in society As well it offers a vision for the emergence of a peaceful and just world
