Johnson, 2012-09-01 With full color maps From the foreword The Reports of General MacArthur include two volumes being published by the Department of the Army in four books reproduced exactly as they were printed by General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters in 1950 except for the addition of this foreword and indexes Since they were Government property the general turned over to the Department in 1953 these volumes and related source materials In Army and National Archives custody these materials have been available for research although they have not been easily accessible While he lived General MacArthur was unwilling to approve the reproduction and dissemination of the Reports because he believed they needed further editing and correction of some inaccuracies His passing permits publication but not the correction he deemed desirable In publishing them the Department of the Army must therefore disclaim any responsibility for their accuracy But the Army also recognizes that these volumes have substantial and enduring value and it believes the American people are entitled to have them made widely available through government publication Volume II on Japanese operations brings together a mass of information on the enemy now only partially available in many separate works

Reports of General Macarthur Douglas MacArthur, 2012-09-01 With full color maps From the foreword The Reports of General MacArthur include two volumes being published by the Department of the Army in four books reproduced exactly as they were printed by General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters in 1950 except for the addition of this foreword and indexes. Since they were Government property the general turned over to the Department in 1953 these volumes and related source materials. In Army and National Archives custody these materials have been available for research although they have not been easily accessible. While he lived General MacArthur was unwilling to approve the reproduction and dissemination of the Reports because he believed they needed further editing and correction of some inaccuracies. His passing permits publication but not the correction he deemed desirable. In publishing them the Department of the Army must therefore disclaim any responsibility for their accuracy. But the Army also recognizes that these volumes have substantial and enduring value and it believes the American people are entitled to have them made widely available through government publication. Volume I narrates the operations of forces under General MacArthur's command from the Japanese attack on Luzon in 1941 through the surrender in 1945. While service histories have covered much of the same ground in separate volumes no single detailed narrative of General MacArthur's leadership as commander of the Southwest Pacific Area has yet appeared. Chapters dealing with the reconquest of Borneo, plans for the invasion of Japan and the Japanese surrender make a distinctly new contribution.

Reports of General MacArthur Gen Douglas MacArthur, MacArthur's General Staff, 2016-11-23. Reports of General MacArthur are the official after action reports of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur. Long out of print this facsimile edition contains not only MacArthur's own perspective of his operations against the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific Area during World War II but also the enemy's unique account of Imperial Army campaigns against MacArthur's forces. Collectively the reports have substantial and enduring value for military historians and students of military affairs providing an illuminating record of momentous events influenced in large measure by a distinguished Soldier and towering figure in American historiography.

Reports of General MacArthur: suppl. MacArthur in Japan: The occupation, military phase Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, 1966. Reports of General MacArthur: supplement. MacArthur in Japan: the occupation, military phase Douglas MacArthur, 1994. General MacArthur Speeches and Reports 1908-1964, 2000-06-14. The two year search for General Douglas MacArthur's speeches and reports was truly a labor of love. My Administrative Assistant Ellen Schaefer and I culled over 1 000 sources including memories, biographies, histories, military magazines such as the Army and Air Force Journals, unit histories, commercial magazines and newspapers. Magazines included such publications as National Geographic, Life Magazine and many esoteric, less circulated literature such as Military Magazine, Retired Officers Magazine, Air Force Magazine and so many others. We received guidance and assistance from such sources as the U S Military Academy, the Engineering School at Ft Leavenworth, the Command and General Staff School at Leavenworth, the Army War College, the MacArthur Archives, Director James Zobel, the Library of Congress, the War Department. The sources seemed endless. We do believe we were able to capture all the major public speeches and reports covering MacArthur's truly productive years from 1908 through 1964. Contains more than 125 speeches, reports. It will be interesting to note MacArthur established his personality early in his military career and never veered from this His admonition from his Mother when MacArthur was a student at West Point was never cheat never lie never tattle Adhering to this edict MacArthur offered to resign from the Academy rather than answer questions from the Academy panel investigating hazing and harassment by a group of fellow students MacArthur continued to develop his hard line against political and military intrigue by resolving to always do what he believed right even if he knew no one was watching Further he was determined never to refuse to carryout the order of a senior officer never be insubordinate to constituted authority
