Rerun Nation How Repeats Invented American Television:

Rerun Nation Derek Kompare, 2006-07-13 Rerun Nation is a fascinating approach to television history and theory through the ubiquitous yet overlooked phenomenon of reruns Kompare covers both historical and conceptual ground weaving together a refresher course in the history of television with a critical analysis of how reruns have shaped the cultural economic and legal terrains of American television Given the expanding use of past media texts not only in the United States but also in virtually every media rich society this book addresses a critical facet of everyday life The Generic Closet

Alfred L. Martin, 2021-04-06 Even after a rise in gay and Black representation and production on TV in the 1990s the sitcom became a generic closet restricting Black gay characters with narrative tropes Drawing from 20 interviews with credited episode writers key show runners and Black gay men The Generic Closet situates Black cast sitcoms as a unique genre that uses Black gay characters in service of the series heterosexual main cast Alfred L Martin Jr argues that the Black community is considered to be antigay due to misrepresentation by shows that aired during the family viewing hour and that were written for the imagined traditional Black family Martin considers audience reception industrial production practices and authorship to unpack the claim that Black gay characters are written into Black cast sitcoms such as Moesha Good News and Let's Stay Together in order to closet Black gayness By exploring how systems of power produce ideologies about Black gayness The Generic Closet deconstructs the concept of a monolithic Black audience and investigates whether this generic closet still exists The Synchronized Society

Randall Patnode, 2023-03-17 The Synchronized Society traces the history of the synchronous broadcast experience of the twentieth century and the transition to the asynchronous media that dominate in the twenty first century with particular attention to the rise and fall of the schedule and the water cooler conversations that accompanied it Television and New Media Jennifer Gillan, 2010-10-18 Television and New Media introduces students to the ways that new media technologies have transformed contemporary television production distribution and reception practices Drawing upon recent examples including Lost 24 and Heroes this book closely examines the ways that television programming has changed with the influx of new media transforming nearly every TV series into a franchise whose on air online and on mobile elements are created simultaneously and held together through transmedia storytelling This book is essential for understanding how creative and industrial forces have worked together in the new media age to transform the way we watch TV Television Brandcasting Jennifer Gillan, 2014-11-20 Television Brandcasting examines U S television's utility as a medium for branded storytelling It investigates the current and historical role that television content promotion and hybrids of the two have played in disseminating brand messaging and influencing consumer decision making Juxtaposing the current period of transition with that of the 1950s 1960s Jennifer Gillan outlines how in each era new technologies unsettled entrenched business models an emergent viewing platform threatened to undermine an established one and content providers worried over the behavior of once dependable audiences The anxieties led to storytelling promotion and advertising experiments including the Disneyland series embedded rock music videos in Ozzie Harriet credit sequence brand integration Modern Family's parent company promotion episodes second screen initiatives and social TV experiments Offering contemporary and classic examples from the American Broadcasting Company Disney Channel ABC Family and Showtime alongside series such as Bewitched Leave it to Beaver Laverne Shirley and Pretty Little Liars individual chapters focus on brandcasting at the level of the television series network schedule Blu ray DVD Digital combo pack the promotional short the cause marketing campaign and across social media In this follow up to her successful previous book Television and New Media Must Click TV Gillan provides vital insights into television's role in the expansion of a brand centric U S culture

ITV Cultures Catherine Johnson,Rob Turnock,2005-09-16 This exciting book goes to the heart of a creative commercialand public service culture it shows why ITV matters and howit was made to work so well A tremendous contribution Professor Jean Seaton University of Westminster This is a valuable addition to studies of ITV's history andprogramming Tom O Malley Professor of Media Studies University of Wales Aberyswyth and Co Editor of Media History Since breaking the BBC's monopoly in 1955 ITV has been at thecentre of the British television landscape To coincide with thefiftieth anniversary of the first ITV broadcast this accessible bookoffers a range of perspectives on the complex and multifaceted history ofBritain's first commercial broadcaster The book explores key tensions and conflicts which have influenced theITV service Chapters focus on particular institutions includingLondon Weekend Television and ITN and programme forms includingWho Wants to be a Millionaire Upstairs Downstairs and Trisha The contributors show that ITV

has had to tread an uneasy line between public service and commercial imperatives between a pluralistic regional structure and a national network and between popular appeal and quality programming A timeline of key events in the history of ITV is also included ITV Cultures provides a timely intervention in debates on broadcasting and cultural history for academics and researchers and a lively introduction to the history of ITV for students and general readers Contributors Rod Allen City University Jonathan Bignell University of Reading John Ellis Royal Holloway University of London Jackie Harrison University of Sheffield Jamie Medhurst University of Wales Aberystwyth Matt Hills Cardiff University Steve Neale University of Exeter Helen Wheatley University of Reading Sherryl Wilson Bournemouth University

Below the Stars Kate Fortmueller, 2021-07-13 Longlisted for the 2022 Kraszna Krausz Book Award Moving Image Category Despite their considerable presence in Hollywood extras and working actors have received scant attention within film and media studies as significant contributors to the history of the industry Looking not to the stars but to these supporting players in film television and recently streaming programming Below the Stars highlights such actors as precarious laborers whose work as freelancers has critically shaped the entertainment industry throughout the twentieth and twenty first centuries By addressing ordinary actors as a labor force Kate Fortmueller proposes a media industry history that positions underrepresented and quotidian experiences as the structural elements of the culture and business of Hollywood Resisting a top down assessment Fortmueller explores the wrangling of labor unions and guilds that advocated for collective action for everyday actors and helped shape professional norms She pulls from archival research in person interviews and firsthand observation to examine a history that cuts across industry boundaries and situates actors as a labor group at the center of industrial and technological upheavals with lasting implications for race gender and labor relations in Hollywood

Beyond the Multiplex Barbara Klinger, 2023-09-01 Since the mid eighties more audiences have been watching Hollywood movies at home than at movie theaters yet little is known about just how viewers experience film outside of the multiplex This is the first full length study of how contemporary entertainment technologies and media from cable television and VHS to DVD and the Internet shape our encounters with the movies and affect the aesthetic cultural and ideological definitions of cinema Barbara Klinger explores topics such as home theater film collecting classic Hollywood movie reruns repeat viewings and Internet film parodies providing a multifaceted view of the presentation and reception of films in U S households Balancing industry history with theoretical and cultural analysis she finds that today cinema s powerful social presence cannot be fully grasped without considering its prolific recycling in post theatrical venues especially the home Since the mid eighties more audiences have been watching Hollywood movies at home than at movie theaters yet little is known about just how viewers experience film outside of the multiplex This is the first full length study of how contemporary enterta

The Archivability of Television Lauren Bratslavsky, Elizabeth Peterson, 2025-06-01 This anthology critically evaluates archives and archival processes that collect order and preserve elements of television as historically culturally socially politically and economically significant material What do we know about how television moved from ephemeral broadcasts and mounds of paperwork documenting bureaucratic and creative processes to become historical material housed in archives This book s guiding principles are to interrogate where television as historical material lives and to collect the stories of some ways television preservation has been and continues to be deeply circumstantial and idiosyncratic Bringing together work by academics archivists and practitioners the book offers insights into the archival processes that confer television programs with historical value With a focus on television s archival spaces the book contributes more broadly to theories histories and practices of archiving Likewise the theories and questions about archives provide insights into the specificities of the medium the relations between technologies and culture the political economy of the culture industries and the minutiae of television s place in American society

Immersive Longform Storytelling David Dowling, 2019-03-13 A deep dive into the world of online and multimedia longform storytelling this book charts the renaissance in deep reading viewing and listening associated with the literary mind and the resulting implications of its rise in popularity David O Dowling argues that although developments in media technology have enabled the ascendance of nonfictional storytelling to new heights through new forms it has done so at the peril of these intensely persuasive designs becoming deployed for commercial and political purposes He shows how traditional boundaries separating genres and dividing editorial from advertising content have fallen with the rise of media hybridity drawing attention to how the principle of an independent press can be reformulated for the digital ecosystem Immersive Longform Storytelling is a compelling examination of storytelling covering multimedia features on demand documentary television branded digital documentaries interactive online documentaries and podcasting This book s focus on both form and effect makes it a fascinating read for scholars and academics interested in storytelling and the rise of new media

Cultural Specificity in Transnational Television Drama Elke Weissmann, 2025-08-08 Cultural Specificity in Transnational Television Drama examines two European television industries those of Germany and Wales This book analyses how near global shifts towards the fragmentation of audiences the convergence of media and the transnationalisation of the television industries impact in culturally specific ways It shows that these larger developments in the industries intersect with specific local histories and cultures which influence how the changes are experienced and what kind of stories they lead to Offering a comparative cultural analysis of these two industries and their output and drawing on a variety of methods which include interviews analysis of published interviews in the trade and other press some archival research and textual analysis this book shows that the global shifts in television impact in locally specific ways which implies a continuation and indeed exaggeration of existing cultural differences at the same time as we see increasing collaboration internationalisation and as a result also homogenisation between nations This book presents a unique emphasis on both transnationalising and localising tendencies highlighting the need to maintain analytical focus on the nation in this supposedly post national world It will be of particular interest to scholars and researchers in contemporary television landscape literary and film studies modern languages philosophy and economics

TV Snapshots Lynn Spigel, 2022-04-08 In TV Snapshots Lynn Spigel explores snapshots of people posing in front of their television sets in the 1950s through the early 1970s Like today's selfies TV snapshots were a popular photographic practice through which people visualized their lives in an increasingly mediated culture Drawing on her collection of over 5 000 TV snapshots Spigel shows that people did not just watch TV women used the TV set as a backdrop for fashion and glamour poses people dressed in drag in front of the screen and in pinup poses people even turned the TV setting into a space for erotic display While the television industry promoted on screen images of white nuclear families in suburban homes the snapshots depict a broad range of people across racial ethnic and class backgrounds that do not always conform to the reigning middle class nuclear family ideal Showing how the television set became a central presence in the home that exceeded its mass entertainment function Spigel highlights how TV snapshots complicate understandings of the significance of television in everyday life

The Indecent Screen Cynthia Chris, 2019-01-07 The Indecent Screen explores clashes over indecency in broadcast television among U S based media advocates television professionals the Federal Communications Commission and TV audiences Cynthia Chris focuses on the decency debates during an approximately twenty year period since the Telecommunications Act of 1996 which in many ways restructured the media environment Simultaneously ever increasing channel capacity new forms of distribution and time shifting in the form of streaming and on demand viewing options radically changed how when and what we watch But instead of these innovations quelling concerns that TV networks were too often transmitting indecent material that was accessible to children complaints about indecency skyrocketed soon after the turn of the century Chris demonstrates that these clashes are significant battles over the role of family the role of government and the value of free speech in our lives arguing that an uncensored media is so imperative to the public good that we can and must endure the occasional indecent screen
