The Problem with Survey Research George Beam, 2017-09-08 The Problem with Survey Research makes a case against survey research as a primary source of reliable information George Beam argues that all survey research instruments all types of asking including polls face to face interviews and focus groups produce unreliable and potentially inaccurate results Because those who rely on survey research only see answers to questions it is impossible for them or anyone else to evaluate the results They cannot know if the answers correspond to respondents actual behaviors objective phenomena or to their true beliefs and opinions subjective phenomena Reliable information can only be acquired by observation experimentation multiple sources of data formal model building and testing document analysis and comparison In fifteen chapters divided into six parts Ubiquity of Survey Research The Problem Asking Instruments Asking Settings Askers and Proper Methods and Research Designs The Problem with Survey Research demonstrates how asking instruments settings in which asking and answering take place and survey researchers themselves

skew results and thereby make answers unreliable The last two chapters and appendices examine observation other methods of data collection and research designs that may produce accurate or correct information and shows how reliance on survey research can be overcome and must be

Infrastructure Investments in Developing Economies Giang Dang, Low Sui Pheng, 2014-10-18 This book aims to provide knowledge on how infrastructure is planned and built in a typical developing country and what key variables are there in the system limiting the efficient use of public investments in infrastructure The book begins with a comprehensive literature review on construction and economic development and trade and economic development The focus of the book is on the case of Vietnam with lessons drawn for other developing economies The book employs the mixed use of data to provide a stronger basis for analysis and interpretation of related government policies Based on the research findings the book recommends significant capacity building work for Vietnam to develop capacities that would remove constraints on the efficient use of public investments in infrastructure The general principles of significant capacity building work which are useful for policy implications are introduced in the book Analysts academics public and private communities in developing countries can adopt the research findings as guiding principles to bring about changes in their current use of public investments in infrastructure thus supporting their trade and economic growth in the long term

A Survey of Voluntaristics David Horton Smith, 2015-11-24 This article provides a survey of the growth of research on Nonprofit Sector and Voluntary Action Research now termed simply voluntaristics The author founded the organized global interdisciplinary socio behavioral science field of voluntaristics in 1971 with his formation and establishment of the Association for Research on Nonprofit Organizations and Voluntary Action ARNOVA www.arnova.org Both ARNOVA and its interdisciplinary academic journal Nonprofit and Voluntary Sector Quarterly NVSQ have served as initial models for the global diffusion of this interdisciplinary field now present in all inhabited continents and with upwards of 20 000 academic participants in at least 130 nations and territories and likely more Voluntaristics after more than 40 years of growth now qualifies as a new global integrative academic discipline in the socio behavioral sciences and related social professions not just as one of many interdisciplinary fields of research according to six defining criteria for a discipline However the author prefers to label voluntaristics as an inter discipline since its hallmark is the interdisciplinary study of all voluntary nonprofit sector VNPS phenomena
