One Irish Summer William Eleroy Curtis,2020-09-28 For those who have never spent a summer in Ireland there remains a delightful experience for no country is more attractive unless it be Japan and no people are more genial or charming or courteous in their reception of a stranger or more cordial in their hospitality The American tourist usually lands at Queenstown runs up to Cork rides out to Blarney Castle in a jaunting car and across to Killarney with a crowd of other tourists on the top of a big coach then rushes up to Dublin spends a lot of money at the poplin and lace stores takes a train for Belfast glances at the Giant s Causeway and then hurries across St George s Channel for London and the Continent Hundreds of Americans do this each year and write home rhapsodies about the beauty of Ireland But they have not seen Ireland No one can see Ireland in less than three months for some of the counties are as different as Massachusetts and Alabama Six weeks is scarcely long enough to visit the most interesting places The railway accommodations the coaches the steamers and other facilities for travel are as perfect as those of Switzerland The hotels are not so good and there will be a few discomforts here and there to those who are accustomed to the luxuries of London and Paris but they can be endured without ruffling the temper simply by thinking of the manifold enjoyments that no other country can produce And Ireland is particularly interesting just now because of the mighty forces that are engaged in the redemption of the people from the poverty and the wretchedness in which a large proportion of them have been submerged for generations No government ever did so much for the material welfare of its subjects as Great Britain is now doing for Ireland and the improvement in the condition of affairs during the last few years has been extraordinary In order to observe and describe this economic evolution the author spent the summer of 1908 visiting various parts of the island and has endeavored to narrate truthfully what he saw and heard This volume contains the greater part of a series of letters written for The Chicago Record Herald and also published in The Evening Star of Washington The Times of St Louis and other American papers By permission of Mr Frank B Noyes editor and publisher of The Chicago Record Herald and to gratify many readers who have asked for them they are herewith presented in permanent form

The Selborne Magazine and "Nature Notes", 1910 Philosophical Magazine, 1821 The Philosophical Magazine and Journal, 1821 The Mermaid Beside the Stream Stephen David Eteng, 2015-07-29

The Mermaid beside the Stream is a philosophical fiction that depicts an uncommon characteristic of a fledgling entity too soon given to the pursuit of independence. It is a tale about a stripling who desires to be allowed to do things on his own at an age when most children are still totally dependent on their mothers for everything, including blowing their noses. The young one finally got what he was looking for: an opportunity to enjoy a couple of hours of freedom, free of adult monitoring. But as almost always happens, albeit in disparate forms and shapes to those stubbornly striving for yet unattainable heights, he would encounter a mermaid beside the stream, a terror-inflicting meeting that complicated his world and doomed him and his relatives and friends to a lifetime of adversity. It seeks to look in depth into family values, the troubles faced by parents in the upbringing of children, it exposes the mistake inherent in the modern trend of not whipping children when they go astray, with an underlying criticism of embracing the white man's culture at the expense of pure tradition handed down by our African forefathers. It exposes the debilitating effects of fear and seeks to educate and liberate those who have allowed themselves to be shackled by it. This book will appeal to all classes, for like the stages of life it unfolds with bloodcurdling suspense, life from cradle to early adulthood with each stage underscored by lively original poetry Aquatic Life ,1917 The Saturday Evening Post ,1929 The Saturday Magazine ,1843 When French Women Cook Madeleine Kamman,2010-08-10 Part memoir part cookbook this classic of food literature is an immersion course in authentic regional French home cooking from a world renowned culinary authority As a young woman Madeleine Kamman developed her passion for food by working in the kitchens of France s most respected regional cooks She dedicates one chapter to each of these remarkable women who nourished her appetite for the tradition rigor and deeply personal nature of cooking Her exuberant memoir originally published over 30 years ago tells of collecting mussels at the shore churning butter from the milk of village cows gathering mushrooms in nearby woods and then transforming them into glorious meals under the tutelage of her beloved mentors Over 250 recipes for the simple dishes Kamman learned at their sides accompany her evocative reminiscences of a bygone era in rural France Now in paperback this classic is required reading for anyone who wants to know more about la cuisine fran aise and the life times and tastes of a woman who helped to shape American cooking Of Rickshaws and Rebellion Jane Buffington,2012-08-27 In this real life adventure Jane Buffington and her brother are left to their own devices when they are caught in Shanghai in the tumultuous times just before World War II This memoir chronicles her trials trying to survive in a world on the brink of war
