Lutyens And The Edwardians An English Architect And His Clients:

Lutyens and the Edwardians Jane Brown, 1997 This book is designed as a companion to the author's book about the association between Edwin Lutyens and Gertrude Jekyll Gardens of a Golden Afternoon Lutyens and the Edwardians Jane Brown, 1996 Illustrated with sketches drawings and photographs from family archives Lutyens and the Edwardians tells the story of the clients often ordinary people who made it possible for the architect to fulfil his dreams Directory of British Architects, 1834-1914 Antonia Brodie, British Architectural Library, Royal Institute of British Architects, 2001-12-20 A comprehensive biographical directory of some 11 000 British architects who worked between 1834 and 1914 Studies in Construction History: the proceedings of the Second Construction History Society Conference James Campbell, Karey Draper, Amy Boyington, Gabriel Byng, Amy DeDonato, Wendy Andrews, 2015 The proceedings of second conference of the Construction History Society which took place on 20 and 21 March 2015 at Queens College Cambridge featuring 28 peer reviewed papers covering a wide variety of subjects on the theme of construction history Victorian Perceptions of Renaissance Architecture Katherine Wheeler, 2017-07-05 In the mid 1880s The Builder an influential British architectural journal published an article characterizing Renaissance architecture as a corrupt bastardization of the classical architecture of Greece and Rome By the turn of the century however the same journal praised the Renaissance architect Filippo Brunelleschi as the Christopher Columbus of modern architecture Victorian Perceptions of Renaissance Architecture 1850 1914 examines these conflicting characterizations and reveals how the writing of architectural history was intimately tied to the rise of the professional architect and the formalization of architectural education in late nineteenth century Britain Drawing on a broad range of evidence including literary texts professional journals university curricula and census records Victorian Perceptions reframes works by seminal authors such as John Ruskin Walter Pater John Addington Symonds and Geoffrey Scott alongside those by architect authors such as William J Anderson and Reginald Blomfield within contemporary architectural debates Relevant for architectural historians as well as literary scholars and those in Victorian studies Victorian Perceptions reassesses the history of Renaissance architecture within the formation of a modern British architectural profession The Memorial to the Missing of the Somme Gavin Stamp, 2010-08-06 Edwin Lutyens Memorial to the Missing of the Somme at Thiepval in Northern France visited annually by tens of thousands of tourists is arguably the finest structure erected by any British architect in the twentieth century It is the principal tangible expression of the defining event in Britain's experience and memory of the Great War the first day of the Battle of the Somme on 1 July 1916 and it bears the names of 73 000 soldiers whose bodies were never found at the end of that bloody and futile campaign This brilliant study by an acclaimed architectural historian tells the origin of the memorial in the context of commemorating the war dead it considers the giant classical brick arch in architectural terms and also explores its wider historical significance and its resonances today So much of the meaning of the twentieth century is concentrated here the Thiepval Memorial to the

Missing casts a shadow into the future a shadow which extends beyond the dead of the Holocaust to the Gulag to the disappeared of South America and of Tianenmen Reissued in a beautiful and striking new edition for the centenary of the Somme

Guilhermina Suggia: Cellist Anita Mercier, 2017-07-05 Born in 1885 in Porto Portugal to a middle class musical family Guilhermina Suggia began playing cello at the age of five A child prodigy she was already a seasoned performer when she won a scholarship to study with Julius Klengel in Leipzig at the age of sixteen Suggia lived in Paris with fellow cellist Pablo Casals for several years before World War I in a professional and personal partnership that was as stormy as it was unconventional When they separated Suggia moved to London where she built a spectacularly successful solo career Suggia's virtuosity and musicianship along with the magnificent style and stage presence famously captured in Augustus John's portrait made her one of the most sought after concert artists of her day In 1927 she married Dr Jos asimiro Carteado Mena and settled down to a comfortable life divided between Portugal and England Throughout the 1930s Suggia remained one of the most respected musicians in Europe She partnered on stage with many famous instrumentalists and conductors and completed numerous BBC broadcasts The war years kept her at home in Portugal where she focused on teaching but she returned to England directly after the war and resumed performing When Suggia died in 1950 her will provided for the establishment of several scholarship funds for young cellists including England's prestigious Suggia Gift Mercier's study of Suggia's letters and other writings reveal an intelligent warm and generous character an artist who was enormously dedicated knowledgeable and self disciplined Suggia was one of the first women to make a career of playing the cello at a time when prejudice against women playing this traditionally masculine instrument was still strong A role model for many other musicians she was herself a fearless pioneer

Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott, 2004 For more information including the introduction a full list of entries and contributors a generous selection of sample pages and more visit the Encyclopedia of 20th Century Architecture website Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world this three volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism Unlike existing works this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types movements styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries

Edwin Lutyens Gavin Stamp, 2001 Presenting a stunning collection of the architectural designs of Edward Lutyens throughout the many phases of his acclaimed career this beautifully presented study includes examples of his Surrey vernacular style early arts and crafts houses and his carefully composed classical houses

Lutyens Abroad Andrew Hopkins, Gavin Stamp, 2002 The studies in this volume offer the first serious examination of Sir Edwin Lutyens's hugely significant work beyond Great Britain With the exception of New Delhi far less attention has been paid to Lutyens's work abroad than to his work at home Sir Edwin Lutyens 1869-1944 made his name by designing romantic vernacular weekend houses at home in southern England however he also responded to opportunities offered by Britain's Imperial ambitions abroad The studies in this volume offer the first serious examination of Sir Edwin Lutyens's hugely significant work beyond Great Britain With the exception of New Delhi far less attention has been paid to Lutyens's work abroad than to his work at home some buildings indeed being almost unknown although it is arguable that his finest creations works of transcendent humanity and originality within the Western tradition are to be found along the former battlefields of the Western Front and the hot plains of India

Architecture of England, Scotland, and Wales Nigel R. Jones, 2005-06-30 The British terrain is a gold mine for the student of architecture Ranging in era from ancient times to the present day from Stonehenge to the Millennium Dome this volume's 76 entries include palaces castles bridges churches country houses and various public buildings and monuments as well as such well known features of British architecture and design as terraced houses suburban semi detached houses and public telephone kiosks Detailed yet accessible to nonspecialist readers the alphabetical entries also provide cross references and lists of additional information sources in both print and electronic formats Appendixes list the entries by location architectural style and architect designer explain the defining characteristics of major British architectural styles and discuss the importance of the Crown peerage and Parliament in British architectural history Besides a detailed subject index the volume includes a timeline a general bibliography a glossary of architectural terms and an introduction that traces the development of British architecture from prehistoric and Roman times to the 21st century Written by an associate professor of architecture at Oklahoma State University Architecture of England Scotland and Wales part of Greenwood's Reference Guides to National Architecture series presents architectural biographies of these countries most famous and significant structures

Lutyens and the Modern Movement Allan Greenberg, 2007 In the exclusionary world of high modern architecture it is curious to discover that two icons of the movement both admired the work of Sir Edwin Lutyens an architect who had little or no interest in modernism Le Corbusier and Frank Lloyd Wright created buildings that are very different and the two men did not even like each other but they shared a fascination for Lutyens distinctively non international style architecture This polemical text is an account of why this occurred By exposing common aesthetic and structural themes in the architecture of these three giants including the cities of New Delhi and Chandigarh in India the author explains why Wright and Le Corbusier may have had more in common with Lutyens than with many of their modern peers The primary text in the book was written in 1967 and was published in a student journal in the U S with a small circulation It has remained an underground classic since then perhaps because its contents are so disruptive of our current views of 20th century modernism
