Making Connections:

Making Connections High Intermediate Teacher's Manual Kenneth J. Pakenham, 2005-07-11 The Teacher's Manual contains teaching suggestions and an answer key for the Student's Book

Making Connections, 2006-01-01 In this book comparisons are made between the practices of classrooms in a variety of different school systems around the world The abiding challenge for classroom research is the realization of structure in diversity The structure in this case takes the form of patterns of participation regularities in the social practices of mathematics classrooms The expansion of our field of view to include international rather than just local classrooms increases the diversity and heightens the challenge of the search for structure while increasing the significance of any structures once found In particular this book reports on the use of lesson events as an entry point for the analysis of lesson structure International research offers opportunities to study settings and characteristics untenable in the researcher's local situation Importantly international comparative studies can reveal possibilities for practice that would go unrecognized within the established norms of educational practice of one country or one culture Our capacity to conceive of alternatives to our current practice is constrained by deep rooted assumptions reflecting cultural and societal values that we lack the perspective to question The comparisons made possible by international research facilitate our identification and interrogation of these assumptions Such interrogation opens up possibilities for innovation that might not otherwise be identified expanding the repertoire of mathematics teachers internationally and providing the basis for theory development

Making Connections Carol Gilligan, Nona Lyons, Trudy J. Hanmer, 1990 These essays are a series of exercises en route to a new psychology of adolescence and of women and part of a process that they also describe of changing a tradition by including girls voices of listening to girls and asking again about the meaning of self relationship and morality concepts central to any psychology of human development

Making Connections Peggy Hackney, 2020-08-26 This book explores how we go about creating the connections within us that allow us to become fully embodied human beings in the world It provides some very personal memories of Irmgard Bartenieff and the development of her approach to Fundamentals

Making Connections Andrew Orton, Todd Stockdale, 2014-05-01 This book examines how deacons within Methodist Church in Britain have understood their ministry and sought to address its challenges

Making Connections Kathleen Pithouse, Claudia Mitchell, Relebohile Moletsane, 2009 This book follows on from a symposium that was held in Durban South Africa in July 2007 The symposium was called Seeing for Ourselves Exploring the Practice of Self Study in Teaching Learning and Researching for Social Change The Durban Symposium as called in this book was actually the second in a series of invitational international symposia organized through the second in a series of invitational international symposia organized through the Centre for Visual Methodologies for Social Change in the Faculty of Education University of KwaZulu Natal Committed as it is to the use of visual and other participatory methods within textual research in order to bring about social action the Centre for Visual Methodologies for Social Change started off its symposia series with Putting People in the Picture an event that eventually led to the publication of an edited book Putting People in the Picture Visual Methodologies for Social Change edited by Naydene de Lange Claudia Mitchell Jean Stuart 2007

Making Connections Bettie Higgs, Shane Kilcommins, Tony Ryan, 2010 In this volume the authors document examples of programmes courses activities that are designed intentionally to build students capacity to be integrative thinkers and learners In doing so they try to analyse and name the learning that is taking place and so make it visible to the reader The work is intended as a resource for all those involved in teaching and student learning in Higher Education and beyond The ultimate goal is to ensure that students in higher education can make meaningful connections within and between disciplines for example by integrating on campus and off campus learning experiences and tying together and synchronising different perspectives and ways of knowing This paper contains the following chapters 1 Drawing on Medical Students Representations to Illuminate Concepts of Humanism and Professionalism in Newborn Medicine C Anthony Ryan 2 Integrative Learning in a Law and Economics Module John Considine 3 Making Connections for Mindful Inquiry Using Reflective Journals to Scaffold an Autobiographical Approach to Learning in Economics Daniel Blackshields 4 Integrative Learning on a Criminal Justice Degree Programme Sinead Conneely and Walter O Leary 5 The Use of Learning Journals in Legal Education as a Means of Fostering Integrative Learning through Pedagogy and Assessment Shane Kilcommins 6 Beyond Wikipedia and Google Web Based Literacies and Student Learning James G R Cronin 7 Archetype or for the Archive Are Case Histories Suitable for Assessing Student Learning Martina Kelly Deirdre Bennett and Suin O Flynn 8 The Arts in Education as an Integrative Learning Approach Marian McCarthy 9 Assessing the Role of Integrated Learning in the BSc International Field Geosciences IFG at University College Cork Ireland Pat Meere 10 The Confluence of Professional Legal Training ICT and Language Learning towards the Construction of Integrative Teaching and Learning Maura Butler 11 Integrative Learning with High Fidelity Simulation and Problem Based Learning An Evaluative Study Nuala Walshe Sinead O Brien Angela Flynn Siobhan Murphy and Irene Hartigan 12 Facilitating Learning through an Integrated Curriculum Design Driven by Problem Based Learning Perceptions of Speech and Language Therapy Catharine Pettigrew 13 Building Student Attributes for Integrative Learning Bettie Higgs and 14 End Game Good Beginnings are Not the Only Measure of Success C Anthony Ryan Bettie Higgs and Shane Kilcommins Each chapter contains tables figures and references Making Connections Mary Kennedy, Cathy Lubelska, Val Walsh, 2005-08-04 This collection brings together contributions which address issues and debates within contemporary women s studies and feminism The variety of feminist perspectives which emerge reveal the extent to which the diversities of women s experiences continue to reshape feminist knowledge and politics Making Connections Thomas Canavan, 2011-12-15 Provides mathematical puzzles to strengthen skills in pattern recognition Making Connections Margaret Walsh, 2017-05-15 This book argues that legal persuasion results from making and breaking mental connections To support this argument it follows a cognitive science roadmap while the authors road test

the directions through rhetorical analysis By taking a rhetorical approach to persuasion the authors are able to integrate research from cognitive science with classical and contemporary rhetorical theory and then to apply both to the taking apart and the putting together of effective legal arguments The combination of rhetorical analysis and cognitive science yields a new way of seeing and understanding legal persuasion one that promises theoretical and practical gains The work has three main functions First it brings together the leading models of persuasion from cognitive science and rhetorical theory blurring boundaries and leverage connections between the often separate spheres of science and rhetoric Second it illustrates this persuasive synthesis by working through concrete examples of persuasion from real life legal contexts In this way the book demonstrates the advantages of a deeper and more nuanced understanding of persuasion Third the volume assesses and explains why how and when certain persuasive methods and techniques are more effective than others The book is designed to appeal to scholars in law rhetoric persuasion science and psychology to students learning the practice of law and to judges and practicing lawyers who engage in persuasion

Building Communities and Making Connections Susana Rivera-Mills, Juan Antonio Trujillo, 2010-02-19 Building Communities and Making Connections explores areas of academic and community engagement through various studies that include community service learning and the development and implementation of university programs that contain a community dimension Academic endeavors have long been seen as separate from the realities of local and regional communities This book closes the gap by looking at ways in which both academia and the communities it serves can collaborate to create authentic and applied learning environments

Making Meaning by Making Connections Kathy L. Schuh, 2016-10-20 This book documents those first links that students make between content they learn in their classrooms and their prior experiences Through six late elementary school case studies these knowledge construction links are brought to life The links of the students are often rich in describing who these individuals are where they are in their learning process and what is meaningful to them Many times these links point to what has been learned both in and out of school and the contexts when and where that learning took place The mind as rhizome metaphor was used to guide the development and interpretation of the studies while the lens of Peircian semiotics provides an interpretation for these initial links The resulting grounded theory is presented through a rich and extensive presentation of excerpts from classroom observations student interviews and a student writing activity and describes the varying types of student links how the links were prompted the relationships between what the students were learning and what they already knew and specific types of in school links The narrative includes how these links were supported or inhibited in the classroom drawing on the roles of the teachers in the classrooms and what constituted authority sources of information in those classrooms Before exploring the students linking as a process of ongoing semiosis and how this process is part of a dynamic system a study of the relationship between student knowledge links and achievement is shared This rich narrative will be of interest to scholars and practitioners alike and includes an extensive appendix documenting the research methods

Making

Connections Heather Devere, 2024-10-27 This book is a historical review of literature and ideas that make the connections between friendship and politics. Using pertinent quotations from a wide variety of sources, the book is divided into three main parts. Firstly, it explores interpretations of the concept of friendship, tracing its use from the Ancient Greek and Roman philosophical works through to modern and postmodern perspectives, touching on different cultural, religious, and ethical connections. Secondly, the concept of the political is identified according to different aspects and ideological emphases, looking at influences in different time periods and demonstrating the importance of relational politics as viewed through feminism, identity, culture, globalism, and the ethics of care. The third part draws together the political and friendship, highlighting the importance of relational politics and civic friendship as a topic relevant for academic consideration of politics.
