Making Of Equal Opportunities Policies In Universities:

The Making of Equal Opportunities Policies in Universities Sarah Neal,1998 This is an exploration of how higher education in contemporary Britain has responded to questions of equal opportunities particularly questions of race what types of responses have been made and how effective they have been The book analyzes the political character of equal opportunities policies the process of their formation and the structure put in place to implement them Foregrounding research dilemmas the author draws upon four university case studies using both equal opportunities documents and interviews with key personnel She focuses on the institutional discourses which surround equal opportunities in the universities and is concerned not only with their treatment of the issues but also with the positions taken up by academic trade unions

Equal Opportunities in Colleges and Universities Maureen Farish,1995

Education Policy and Equal Opportunity in Japan Akito Okada,2011-12-01 In many societies today educational aims or goals are commonly characterized in terms of equality equal opportunity equal access or equal rights the underlying assumption being that equality in some form is an intelligible and sensible educational ideal Yet there are different views and lively debates about what sort of equality should be pursued in particular the issue of equality of educational opportunity has served as justification for much of the postwar restructuring of educational systems around the world The author explores different interpretations of the concept of equality of educational opportunity in Japan especially as applied to post World War II educational policies By focusing on the positions taken by key actors such as the major political parties central administrative bodies teachers unions and scholars he describes how their concepts have developed over time and in what way they relate to the making of educational policy especially in light of Japan's falling birthrate and aging society

Gender, Policy and Educational Change Sheila Riddell,Jane Salisbury,2003-05-20 Gender equality has been a major educational theme for the past two decades and has become interwoven with other policy themes including those of marketisation and managerialism Contributors to this strong collection are key researchers in their fields and seek to address the following questions What patterns are discernible in the educational attainment of girls and boys over the past two decades To what extent are changes attributable to gender equality policies What form have gender equality policies taken in different parts of the UK What has been the impact of European equality policies How have gender equality policies been experienced by particular groups including pupils from ethnic minority and working class backgrounds This book aims to take an overall look at how significant have been the changes in experiences aspirations and culture of girls and boys and male and female teachers It explores how attempts to improve equal opportunities in education have fared and examines the tensions and contradictions in recent policies

Equality and Inequality in Education Policy Liz Dawtrey,1995 Discusses the history and gendered nature of education policy and the impact of policies on practice in education The articles represent a range of views and approaches to education demonstrating the complexity of educational experience and the influence of class race culture and gender

Racism and Equal Opportunity Policies in the 1980s Richard Jenkins, John Solomos, 1989 This edition first published in 1989 looks at the problems of racism and equal opportunity in employment and government policies towards them in Britain It brings together a group of specialist contributors and covers the major areas of debate including the law policies towards unemployment job training and the labour market the role of the public and private sectors the role of trade unions the gap between policies and pronouncements on equal opportunity and their implementation and the related issue of sectarian discrimination in Northern Ireland It looks at the future prospects for equal opportunities and provides conclusions for policy In particular it aims to address important topics such as the assumptions underlying policies and whether they realistically reflect reality the actual effect of legislation and the relationship between power disparities in society as a whole and racial inequality

Promoting Gender Equity in Selected Public Universities of Kenya Jane Onsongo, 2011 The purpose of this study was to examine sustainable gender equity interventions in selected public universities The study used descriptive survey and case study research methods to carry out an in depth analysis of the gender equity interventions in selected public universities in Kenya The sample consisted of four public universities that were selected because they had established gender centers institutes that were assumed to be coordinating gender equity intervention The study has the following objectives To establish the existing gender inequalities in the formal organisational structure of the selected universities To identify and assess sustainability of gender equity interventions in the selected public universities To analyse the national regional international and organisational culture and policy contexts that have influenced and supported the introduction of the identified gender equity interventions To investigate the attitudes of staff students and management towards the gender equity interventions and to recommend appropriate institutional strategies to address existing gender inequities

Illusions of Equality (International Library of the Philosophy of Education Volume 7) David Cooper,2010-02-25 Educational policy and discussion in Britain and the USA are increasingly dominated by the confused ideology of egalitarianism David E Cooper begins by identifying the principles hidden among the confusions and argues that these necessarily conflict with the ideal of educational excellence in which conflict it is this ideal that must be preserved He goes on to criticize the use of education as a tool for promoting wider social equality focussing especially on the muddles surrounding equal opportunities social mix and reverse discrimination Further chapters criticize the new egalitarianism favoured on epistemological grounds by various sociologists of knowledge in recent years and cultural egalitarianism according to which standard criteria of educational value merely reflect parochial and economic interests

Resources in Education ,2000 Feminist Critical Policy Analysis II Catherine Marshall,2005-10-26 This text sets out to challenge the traditional power basis of the policy decision makers in education It contests that others who have an equal right to be consulted and have their opinions known have been silenced declared irrelevant postponed and otherwise ignored Policies have thus been formed and implemented without even a cursory feminist critical glance The chapters in this text illustrate how to incorporate critical and feminist lenses and thus create policies to meet the lived realities the needs aspirations and values of women and girls A particular focus is the primary and secondary sectors of education The Under-Representation of Black and Minority Ethnic Educators in Education Chris Guy Vieler-Porter,2020-11-01 The Under Representation of Black and Minority Ethnic Educators in Education evidences that discrimination at an individual institutional and structural level is still experienced in the leadership of children s learning The analysis evaluates the extent to which under representation is a result of chance coincidence or design Based on original research using a mixed methods approach and drawing on Critical Race Theory this book examines the under representation of Black and minority ethnic BAME educators in education It identifies over 40 separate codes emerging from interviews with BAME leaders in children s learning These codes include surveillance isolation awareness of their position the need to be better professional development the complexity of racism and the difficulties of talking about racism The book contributes to educational leadership in questioning the extent to which equitable outcomes can be delivered when the education service is itself a site and source of inequality and discrimination It brings to front the suppressed narratives of under representation of people of colour and offers insights based on comprehensive data collection This book will be of great interest for academics

researchers and post graduate students in the fields of education management and leadership Critical Race Theory and the Sociology of Education Security: Welfare, Crime And Society Cochrane, Allan, Talbot, Deborah, 2008-10-01 Why is the concept of security so important in modern society Why do people and governments invest so much in the pursuit of different forms of security How do we make sense of the changing nature of the relationship between security and insecurity This book focuses on the concept of security as an idea an ideal and a practice and explores the ways in which it can shed light on the relationship between welfare and crime and the ambiguities that arise from them The authors investigate these issues by examining particular areas of social life and policy development with a focus that ranges from global to local and neighbourhood concerns The book is integrated with engaging activities such as case studies review and reflection sections Adopting an inter disciplinary approach to explore criminological and social policy perspectives the chapters reflect the increasingly blurred area between social and crime control policy and the way in which it is managed The contributors delve into the consequences and implications of policies and practices aimed at creating security which can all too often have the opposite effect Security is key reading for students in criminology social policy and social justice Voicing Concerns Madeleine Arnot, Len Barton, 1992-01-01 Since the early 1980s sociology of education has been the subject of serious criticism much of it emanating from supporters of the New Right in education The discipline has been depicted as subversive irrelevant and offering no really useful knowledge In this collection of original articles the authors seek to address such criticisms through an examination of key reforms The chapters thus provide a critical commentary on past work as well as identifying a series of agendas for future research and analysis Overall the intention is to encourage debate and dialogue
