Marriage Among A Matrilineal Elite:

Marriage Among a Matrilineal Elite Christine Oppong, 2009-01-08 A study of conjugal and kin relationships in a group of urban educated West Africans Akan Senior Civil Servants in Accra As well as representing a contribution to the growing body of data on marriage and family life in West Africa the book is an exercise in methodology in which the aim has been to evolve ways of documenting and comparing two major aspects of conjugal family relationships the division of labour resources and power between spouses and the extent to which the conjugal family is a functionally discrete unit in a number of domestic activity areas This documentation and analysis leads to the examination of marital continuity and change among urban migrants from a region characterised by matrilineal descent and inheritance Onions Are My Husband Gracia

Clark, 1995-01-01 In the most comprehensive analysis to date of the world of open air marketplaces of West Africa Gracia Clark studies the market women of Kumasi Ghana in order to understand the key social forces that generate maintain and continually reshape the shifting market dynamics Probably the largest of its kind in West Africa the Kumasi Central Market houses women whose positions vary from hawkers of meals and cheap manufactured goods to powerful wholesalers who control the flow of important staples Drawing on more than four years of field research during which she worked alongside several influential market Queens Clark explains the economic political gender and ethnic complexities involved in the operation of the marketplace and examines the resourcefulness of the market women in surviving the various hazards they routinely encounter from coups d'etat to persistent sabotage of their positions from within African Gender Studies

Oyeronke Oyewumi, 2016-09-27 This is the first comprehensive reader that brings African experiences to bear on the ongoing global discussions of women gender and society Bringing together the essential writing on this topic from the last 25 years these essays discuss gender in Africa from a multi disciplinary perspective Anthropology and Africa Sally Falk

Moore, 1994 African studies in anthropology throw light on the way Anglo Europeans and Americans have conceived of the rest of the world and the way academic disciplines have changed in this century Changing Social Structure in Ghana Jack Goody, 2018-08-16 Originally published in 1975 this book presents the results of research into social change in Ghana The book looks in detail at the problems of particular sub groups and sectors in one single nation and they show that the field worker with a wide comparative background in the range of pre industrial societies has a positive role to play in contemporary social science Informal Institutions and Citizenship in Rural Africa Lauren M. MacLean, 2010-05-24

This book challenges previous assumptions about institutions social capital and the nature of the African state by investigating the history of political and economic change in villages on either side of the Ghana Cote d'Ivoire border Prior to European colonial rule these Akan villages had very similar political and cultural institutions By the late 1990s however Lauren M MacLean found puzzling differences in the informal institutions of reciprocity and indigenous notions of citizenship MacLean argues that divergent histories of state formation not only shape how villagers help each other but also influence how local groups and communities define citizenship and then choose to engage with the state on an everyday basis She examines the historical construction of the state role in mediating risk at the local level across three policy areas political administration social service delivery and agriculture Women And Work In Africa Edna G. Bay,2019-04-18 This collection of articles grows out of a symposium on the subject of women and work in Africa held on the Urbana Champaign campus of the University of Illinois in the spring of 1979 The organizing committee for that program sought first to update the field of economic studies of women in Africa and second to provide a forum for the exchange and stimulation of ideas among scholars and professionals concerned for women in Africa The publication here of the majority of the symposium papers represents a logical final step in the fulfillment of the objectives of the symposium program committee Law and the Family in Africa Simon A. Roberts,2019-07-08 No detailed description available for Law and the Family in Africa

Family Violence From a Global Perspective Sylvia M. Asay,John DeFrain,Marcee Metzger,Bob Moyer,2013-06-17 This one of a kind edited collection draws on the expertise of authors from 16 countries representing 17 cultures to tell the story of domestic violence in their respective parts of the world The book incorporates a strengths based approach including individual relationship community and societal strengths The collection draws on multiple perspectives academics counselors organizers activists and victims to determine strengths and analyze how they can translate into greater safety for victims increased accountability of perpetrators and improved policy formation and research Each chapter focuses on the lived experiences of victims of intimate partner violence child abuse or elder abuse and includes information about the abuser the family the community and the culture Families in the U.S. Karen V. Hansen,Anita Iltis Garey,1998 Attempts to do justice to the complexity of contemporary families and to situate them in their economic political and cultural contexts This book explores the ways in which family life is gendered and reflects on the work of maintaining family and kin relationships especially as social and family power structures change over time
