Stories by Egyptian Women ,1993 Cultural Criticism in Egyptian Women's Writing Caroline

Seymour-Jorn, 2011-12-23 The five influential women writers discussed in Seymour Jorn's timely work Salwa Bakr Nemat el Behairy Radwa Ashour Etidal Osman and Ibtihal Salem all emerged on the literary scene in the late 1970s and early 1980s They came of age at a time when women's writing was attracting critical attention and more venues for publication were opening up This widening platform enabled these writers to develop and mature as cultural critics resulting in the creation of a successful blend of politically and socially committed literature with artistically innovative literary techniques Artfully combining literary analysis with ethnographic research Seymour Jorn explores the ways in which these writers generate new patterns of thinking and talking about women society and social change She describes how the writers conceive of their role as authors particularly as female authors and how they refigure the Arabic language to express themselves as women By examining these authors works and lives Seymour Jorn illuminates the extent to which writing brings women into the public sphere an arena in which they have traditionally had limited access to positions of power and authority Mothers and Daughters in Arab Women's Literature Dalya Abudi, 2010-11-11 This study explores the mother daughter relationship as the most fundamental and most intimate female relationship and as the cornerstone of Arab family life Drawing on autobiographical and semifictional works by women writers from across the Arab world the study offers a first hand account of how Arab women view and experience this primary bond The author uses both early and contemporary writings of Arab women to illuminate the traditional and evolving nature of mother daughter relationships in Arab families and how these family dynamics reflect and influence modern Arab life The compelling narratives demystify the institutions of family and motherhood and show the potential of mothers and daughters to transform the patriarchal family and thus the fabric of Arab society A groundbreaking work that fills a void in cross cultural studies it is of interest to scholars and students of Middle Eastern studies women s studies and family studies Memoirs from the Women's Prison Nawāl Sa'dāwī,1994-11-18 If Kafka had been a feminist his prisoner might have had Nawal el Sa adawi s feistiness maybe like her he would have hoed a prison garden led veiled and unveiled cellmates in rebellious calisthenics strategized with a murderess to foil state illogic This book gives me hope even makes me laugh Cynthia Enloe author of The Morning After Third World Women's Literatures Barbara Fister,1995-09-14 This reference volume serves as a companion to Third World women s literatures in English and in English translation by presenting entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes What plays have been written by women in the developing world What books have been written by Sri Lankan or Brazilian women Which works address themes of feminism or exile or politics in the Third World These are the types of questions that can now be answered through Fister s companion to Third World women s literatures in English and English translation Organized alphabetically this reference volume presents entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes By providing information about and leads to works by and about Third World women an important and largely marginalized literature Fister has created a unique reference tool that will help teachers scholars and librarians both public and academic expand their definitions of the literary making the voices of Third World women available in the same format in which many companions to Western literature do An important book for all public and college level libraries Historical Dictionary of Egypt Arthur Goldschmidt, Jr.,2023-07-25 Egypt is the world s oldest continuous country with a recorded past of over 6 000 years Often invaded conquered and occupied by foreign armies Egypt has never lost its identity The Egyptians of today although they have changed their language once and their religion twice descend mainly from the Egyptians who built the Giza Pyramids and the Temple of Karnak who served Alexander the Great and his heirs who submitted to Augustus Caesar and raised much of the grain that fed the Roman Empire who started Christian monasticism and the veneration of the Virgin Mary and who advanced and sustained Muslim learning in what is now the world s oldest functioning university It was and is one of the most important countries in the world Historical Dictionary of Egypt Fifth Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 600 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country s politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Egypt May Her Likes Be Multiplied Marilyn Booth, 2001-07-30 Marilyn Booth's elegantly conceived study reveals the Arabic tradition of life writing in an entirely new light. Though biography had long been male authored in the late nineteenth century, short sketches by and about women began to appear in biographical dictionaries and women's journals. By 1940 hundreds of such biographies had been published featuring Arabs, Turks, Indians, Europeans, North Americans, and ancient Greeks and Persians. Booth uses over five hundred famous women biographies which include subjects as diverse as Joan of Arc, Jane Austen, Aisha bt Abi Bakr, Sarojini Naidu, and Lucy Stone to demonstrate how these narratives prescribed complex role models for middle class girls in a context where nationalist programs and emerging feminisms made defining the ideal female citizen an urgent matter. Booth begins by asking how cultural traditions shaped women's biography and to whom the Egyptian biographies were directed. The biographies were published at a time of great cultural awakening in Egypt when social and political institutions were in upheaval. The stories suggested that Islam could be flexible on social practice and gender, holding out the possibility for women to make their own lives. Yet ultimately they indicate that women would find it extremely difficult to escape the nationalist ideal, the nuclear family with woman at its center. This conflict remains central to Egyptian politics today and in her final chapter Booth examines Islamic biographies of women's lives that have been published in more recent years.

The Middle East Today Don Peretz, 1994-04-30 In this completely updated sixth edition Peretz offers a comprehensive introduction to the history, politics, and contemporary life of the Middle East. This is the book for those who have little or no previous academic background to the region. Since its initial publication in 1963, this definitive survey has been widely acclaimed and frequently used in history and political science classes. As with previous editions, this volume offers a basic understanding of the forces that shape life and politics in Israel, Egypt, Iran, Iraq, Lebanon, Jordan, Syria, Turkey, Saudi Arabia, and the Gulf States, and is up to date through the September 1993 Israeli PLO accords.

The Wiles of Men and Other Stories Salwá Bakr, 1993-01-01 Here finally is some writing with a genuine purchase on things of worth. The collection of pithy short stories filled with a sad wonder tells of contemporary Egyptians timorously rebelling against the conformism of life along the Nile. Observer Bakr emerges as a fine observer of her country's times with a vision which remains for all its engagement, quirky, and distinctively personal. Times Literary Supplement. Set among the poor of contemporary Cairo, these thirteen stories and one short novella tell of women struggling to provide themselves with the basic necessities of life. They explore the limits of self-awareness, the pressures to conform, and some of the strange paths to escape that women resort to in a conservative society shot through with social and sexual prejudice and preconceptions.

The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions Wail S. Hassan, 2017 The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions encompasses the genesis of the Arabic novel in the second half of the nineteenth century and its development to the present in every Arab country as well as Arab immigrant writing in many languages around the world.

Conscience of the Nation Richard Jacquemond, 2008 Artfully combining social and literary history, this unique study explores the dual loyalties of contemporary Egyptian authors from the 1952 Revolution to the present day Egypt's writers have long had an elevated idea of their social mission considering themselves the conscience of the nation At the same time modern Egyptian writers work under the liberal conception of the writer borrowed from the European model As a result each Egyptian writer treads the tightrope between authority and freedom social commitment and artistic license loyalty to the state and to personal expression in an ongoing quest for an elusive literary ideal With these fundamentals in mind Conscience of the Nation examines Egyptian literary production over the past fifty years surveying works by established writers as well as those of dozens of other authors who are celebrated in Egypt but whose writings are largely unknown to the foreign reader Novelists and poets scriptwriters and playwrights critics and journalists all have battled with and tried to resolve the tensions inherent in the conflicting forces of self and society

Points of the Compass Sahar Tawfiq,1995-11-01 This collection of short stories recipient of a 1994 University of Arkansas Press Award for Arabic Literature in Translation presents one of Egypt's most innovative contemporary fiction writers In her first collection published in English Sahar Tawfiq explores the consciousnesses of young women alienated from their surroundings in today's rapidly changing Egyptian society In questioning the place of long powerful myths and beliefs she is in the forefront of writers examining the legacy of the Pharaohs as it permeates current Egyptian identities and practices especially in the countryside Her characters are shaped by journeys through modern social and economic trials and the ageless troubles of the human spirit and heart

A Bibliography for After Jews and Arabs Ammiel Alcalay,2021 Ammiel Alcalay's groundbreaking work After Jews and Arabs published in 1993 redrew the geographic political cultural and emotional map of relations between Jews and Arabs in the

Levantine Mediterranean world over a thousand year period Based on over a decade of research and fieldwork in many disciplines including history and historiography anthropology ethnography and ethnomusicology political economy and geography linguistics philosophy and the history of science and technology the book presented a radically different perspective than that presented by received opinion Given the radical and iconoclastic nature of Alcalay's perspective After Jews and Arabs met great resistance in attempts to publish it Though completed and already circulating in 1989 it didn't appear until 1993 In addition when the book was published there wasn't enough space to include its original bibliography a foundational part of the project A Bibliography for After Jews and Arabs presents the original bibliography as completed in 1992 without changes as a glimpse into the historical record of a unique scholarly political poetic and cultural journey The bibliography itself had roots in research begun in the late 1970s and demonstrates a very wide arc In addition to the bibliography we include two accompanying texts here In Behind the Scenes Before After Jews and Arabs Alcalay takes us behind the closed doors of the academic process reprinting the original readers reports and his detailed rebuttals and in On a Bibliography for After Jews and Arabs Alcalay contextualizes his own path to the work he undertook in methodological historical and political terms

The Open Door Latifa al-Zayyat, 2004-10-01 A landmark in women's writing set during the struggle for Egyptian independence called a must read set in Cairo by Electric Literature February 1946 Cairo is engulfed by demonstrations against the British Layla's older brother Mahmud returns wounded in the clashes and the events of that fateful day mark a turning point in her life an awakening to the world around her Latifa al-Zayyat's acclaimed modern classic follows Layla through her sexual and political coming of age Her rebellious spirit seeks to free itself from the stifling social codes that dictate a young woman's life just as Egypt struggles to shake off the yoke of imperialist rule
