

Today as I reflect on International Women's Day, I think of my Kookum whom we just laid to rest this past Saturday. She lived a simple life and was a pillar in her community not because of what education she had or the job she possessed but because of her kindness and heart. She left behind a legacy of 188 immediate family and I am forever grateful to be a part of that. I celebrate her strength, courage and the life she lived. I owe so much of who I am because of her.

look into the life of a Métis Cree man who refused to give up. Abandoned by his parents as a toddler, Jesse Thistle briefly found himself in the foster care system with his two brothers cut off from all they had known. Eventually the children landed in the home of their paternal grandparents whose tough love attitudes quickly resulted in conflicts. Throughout it all, the ghost of Jesse's drug-addicted father haunted the halls of the house, and the memories of every family member. Struggling with all that had happened, Jesse succumbed to a self-destructive cycle of drug and alcohol addiction and petty crime, spending more than a decade on and off the streets, often homeless. Finally, he realized he would die unless he turned his life around. In this heartwarming and heart-wrenching memoir, Jesse Thistle writes honestly and fearlessly about his painful past, the abuse he endured, and how he uncovered the truth about his parents. Through sheer perseverance and education and newfound love, he found his way back into the circle of his Indigenous culture and family. An eloquent exploration of the impact of prejudice and racism, From the Ashes is, in the end, about how love and support can help us find happiness despite the odds. Learning with Literature in the Canadian Elementary Classroom Joyce Bainbridge, Sylvia Joyce Pantaleo, 1999-11. Grade level 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, K, P, E, I, T. Reserve Community of Saskatchewan Gr. K-2 Vera Trembach, 1997-01-01. A Reserve Community is designed to supplement Saskatchewan Education's Grade Two Social Studies curriculum for classroom studies about the family and the community. The nucleus of this unit is the story Cody's Community. The story includes the concepts of identity, location, tradition, responsibility, transportation, occupation, community services, and political structure. During the course of our unit, students will understand that a reserve is a community of First Nations families; a reserve provides services to its residents; a reserve has a political structure; reserves have a history and much more. This Canada lesson provides a teacher and student section with task cards, big book, storybooks, word search, and answer key to create a well-rounded lesson plan. Reading Practices, Postcolonial Literature, and Cultural Mediation in the Classroom Ingrid Johnston, Jyoti Mangat, 2012-03-24. In this book, Johnston and Mangat consider ways in which particular postcolonial and multicultural literary texts are able to provide a space of cultural mediation for readers from various backgrounds. The studies described in the five chapters of the book explore the spaces of convergence of identity, culture, and literature with students and teachers in high school contexts and undergraduates in university settings. In each study, readers are responding to texts that are culturally distant from their own literary and experiential histories. An objective of each study was to consider the nature of the cultural locations of the reader and the text and the interstitial spaces between these locations. The book interrogates readers' attempts to negotiate cultural difference in literary contexts and questions how this negotiation requires reading practices traditionally ignored in North American classrooms. The book will offer educators at the secondary and post-secondary levels rich material to draw upon for a rethinking of the school curriculum and will be of interest to scholars of postcolonial and literary studies. Reading Diversity through Canadian Picture Books Ingrid Johnston, Joyce Bainbridge, 2014-01-31. What is the value of picture books in educating a diverse society? This collection of original essays explores how preservice teachers from faculties of education across Canada engage with issues of diversity and national identity as represented in children's picture books. Based on research drawn from education courses and student teaching experiences, the book illustrates new and culturally relevant approaches to curricula that meet the needs of increasingly diverse student bodies. The volume focuses on picture books as a central body of texts drawing on recent reading theory and exploring the implications of bringing the works into school classrooms. Together, the essays offer a unique cross-Canada perspective on how picture books can help students and teachers explore identities, uncover personal and national histories, and locate a sense of place.

Constructing Meaning
Joyce Bainbridge, Grace Malicky, 2000. This text introduces all aspects of language arts instruction while emphasizing the integration and interdependence of each element: reading, writing, speaking, and listening. Topical coverage includes language development and emerging literacy, the teaching of reading and writing, the role of drama, and children's literature in the classroom and methods of assessment.

My Kookum Called Today Iris Loewen, 1994-01-01 Indigenous STEM Education Pauline W. U. Chinn, Sharon Nelson-Barber, 2023-08-04. This book explores ways in which systems of local knowledge, culture, language, and place are foundational for STEM learning in Indigenous communities. It is part of a two-volume set that addresses a growing recognition that interdisciplinary, cross-cultural, and cross-hybrid learning is needed to foster scientific and cultural understandings and move STEM learning toward more just and sustainable futures for all learners. Themes of learning from elders through practice and place-based experiences are found across cultures. Each chapter brings a uniquely Indigenous point of view to the educational transformation efforts taking place in these distinct contexts. In the second section, the chapters use authentic research stories to explain many ways in which regular disciplinary policies and practices can impact Indigenous students' participation in STEM classrooms and careers. These authors go on to discuss ways to engage learners in STEM activities that are interconnected with the contexts of their lives.

The English Quarterly, 2001 Super Gay Poems Stephanie Burt, 2025. Esteemed scholar, poet, and critic Stephanie Burt anthologizes five decades of verse for and by queer Americans. Interpreted by Burt, the poems of Frank O'Hara, Audre Lorde, Judy Grahn, James Merrill, Thom Gunn, Jackie Kay, Adrienne Rich, Chen Chen, The Cyborg, Jillian Weise, and others trace a flourishing of queer life from Stonewall to today.

Kids Love Canada: Symbols & Communities Gr. K-2 Vera Trembach, 2004-01-01. We each live in one of the thousands of communities in Canada, all having similarities and differences. Through story, chants, and hands-on activities, students will discover the geographical vastness of Canada and the diversity of its people. While discovering their creativity, students will learn about the symbolism behind the tartan and that the provinces and territories each have an official tartan. Students will discover the maple leaf and the beaver as significant symbols of our country. The stories and activities are easy to assemble, and the chants are designed for young readers to enjoy. This Canada lesson provides a teacher and student section with reading passages, activities, rebus poems, and match games to create a well-rounded lesson plan.

Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975 The Strangers Katherine

Vermette,2024-03 The Strangers a breathtaking companion to Vermette's bestselling debut The Break is a fierce exploration of bonds that refuse to be broken even in the most traumatic of circumstances Cedar Phoenix and Elsie these are the strangers each haunted in her own way Cedar grapples with the pain of being separated from her mother Elsie and her sister Phoenix From a youth detention center Phoenix gives birth to a baby she'll never get to raise And Elsie struggling with addiction and determined to turn her life around is buoyed by the idea of being reunited with her daughters and striving to be someone they can depend on unlike her own distant mother Between flickering moments of warmth and support the women diverge and reconnect fighting to survive in a fractured system that pretends to offer success but expects them to fail Facing the distinct blade of racism from those they trusted most they urge one another to move through the darkness all the while wondering if they'll ever emerge safely on the other side

Journeys in Narrative Inquiry D Jean Clandinin,2019-09-20 Organized around a metaphor of an academic journey D Jean Clandinin offers published tracings of an unfolding journey over 40 years that at its outset appeared to focus only on questions of epistemology However the book illuminates how that apparent beginning focus shape shifted to questions of methodology ethics ontology and subsequently political concerns Clandinin shows that even at the outset her research wonders were grounded in relational understandings of experience understandings that were simultaneously ontological methodological epistemological and ethical Jean's work is collaborative an engagement alongside others and within the contexts in which they and she lived and worked including those who were participants in the research She continues to acknowledge that narrative inquiry changes people's ways of being in the world and those changes have ethical significance While what she and her colleagues now call relational ethics has always been central recently her sense of ethics has become more explicitly political She shows the development of ideas over time beginning as she entered doctoral work and continuing through 2019 and onward Jean's work centered on relational understandings of experience highlights ethical dimensions and has come to define narrative understandings for generations of researchers This book will be an invaluable resource for researchers and graduate students and professional researchers in both educational and healthcare settings
