Mother Me Zara H. Phillips, 2011 The adopted daughter of loving parents Zara Phillips nonetheless felt out of place in her family and a misfit in the world around her Although cherished by a well meaning mother and father she grew up feeling deeply insecure and alone consumed by a void she found impossible to fill Isolation led to alienation yet her talent brought her to the center of the thriving London rock n roll scene of the 1980s Her downward spiral fueled by its lifestyle Zara became lost in drugs alcohol and destructive relationships An intense search for the truth of her birth led to an awakening and successful recovery Yet it was her experience of becoming a mother that revealed what being an adopted person really meant to her For the first time she gained deep understanding and compassion for both her birth mother and her adoptive mother and was able to start the healing process The tale of Zara's search for her birth mother and her path to health is riveting as are the stories of many people sharing her past Zara's activism for adoptee rights springs from a very personal passion Mother Me is a brave and compelling memoir that illuminates the lifelong impact of adoption on every member of the adoption triad adoptee birth mother and adoptive mother as well as the families of each

My Mother's Daughter Perdita Felicien, 2021-03-30 NATIONAL BESTSELLER A phenomenal human story I could not put this book down CLARA HUGHES An instant national bestseller this raw and affecting memoir is the story of a mother and daughter who beat the odds together Decades before Perdita Felicien became a World Champion hurdler running the biggest race of her life at the 2004 Olympics she carried more than a nation's hopes she carried her mother Catherine's dreams In 1974 Catherine is determined and tenacious but she's also pregnant with her second child and just scraping by in St Lucia When she meets a wealthy white Canadian family vacationing on the island she knows it's her chance They ask her to come to Canada to be their nanny and she accepts This was the beginning of Catherine's new life a life of opportunity but also suffering Within a few years she would find herself pregnant a third time this time in her new country with no family to support her and this time with Perdita Together in the years to come mother and daughter would experience racism domestic abuse and even homelessness but Catherine's will would always pull them through As Perdita grew and began to discover her preternatural athletic gifts she was edged onward by her mother's love grit and faith Facing literal and figurative hurdles she learned to leap and pick herself back up when she stumbled This book is a daughter's memoir a book about the power of a parent's love to transform their child's life

In My Mother's House Kim Chernin, 2019-10-15 In My Mother's House depicts a profound intergenerational struggle between a powerful politically engaged mother Rose and her spiritually inclined poet and writer daughter Kim Framing this collision are two other generations There is Rose's mother from the shtetl a broken woman regularly beaten by her husband but the source of the family's stories And Kim's daughter a second generation fully assimilated girl of eight at the time the book begins Four generations from the shtetl to an affluent intellectual household in Berkeley California the story is a historical record and reckoning between the old activist left and a beginning feminist movement The double narrative allows Kim to explore the evolving relationship between mother and daughter who through their storytelling are brought to a profound understanding and reconciliation

M. Ramsey,2023-09-20 About the Book Megan is a ten year old biracial girl growing up in a small town in the southeastern corner of Washington state in the early 1960s Megan has the usual struggles of growing up that most children have but her concerns are complicated with the reality that she is half Japanese and half white She also struggles with one concern that is unique to her understanding why her mother Hitomi is overly protective and hovering so different from the mothers of her friends The mystery grows when she discovers her sister a sister she never knew existed until she finds pictures of her mother standing with a little Asian girl she had never seen before in front of a drab and desolate looking building somewhere in an empty and arid landscape On the back of the picture is written Minidoka 1943 My Mother Told Me Stories is a heart wrenching story of loss tragedy and one woman s journey through the shadows of despair But it is also a story of surprising kindness generosity and friendship of forgiveness and reconciliation and the enduring love of family About the Author I M Ramsey has worked in a variety of roles in counseling teaching and administration at the collegiate level and feels very fortunate to have spent her entire professional career in academia Her primary research interest has focused on the impact of empathy and forgiveness and the relational dynamics between perpetrators and those who extend forgiveness to them This is her first novel with the story based upon the themes found in her South African research of political perpetrators who received empathy and forgiveness from family members of their victims I M Ramsey lives in Washington state and enjoys spending time with her husband their daughters sons in law and three grandsons a k a the three scampering squirrels

The Ferrying of Dr David Livingstone from Zambia to East Africa Chengo Mulala, 2020 While this book is primarily not concerned with British imperialism or colonial history it has been written to contribute to the study and understanding of the root cause of what led to political and liberation consciousness among Africans from the 1890s 1950s In this book an African girl outlines the effects of colonialism from colonial scenarios she witnessed and stories told to her by her charismatic charming cunning hero and Victorian grandfather named Ngosa Kabaso Shompolo Mulutula who was recruited by Dr David Livingstone s entourage to help ferry the explorer s embalmed body from Chitambo Village in Serenje district of present day Zambia where he died in May 1873 to Bagamoyo in Tanganyika present day Tanzania on the East Coast of Africa for shipment to United Kingdom on the Indian Ocean via Suez Canal and the Mediterranean Sea The author states that her grandfather was a young teenager with a relentless enduring spirit for survival It is as a result of this strong mentality in him that made him accept to undertake a six months journey of 1 500 miles on foot with other pallbearers to ensure that Dr Livingstone s body should be taken to sleep among his people She also points out that her grandfather did not meet the British explorer per say as he was already dead at the time he got recruited to undertake the great epic journey across the crocodile infested swamps and rivers while fending off dangerous animals in the thick forests of Africa to Tanganyika It is in her belief that her grandfather and Dr Livingstone may have met in spirit as porters carried Dr Livingstone s remains on their bare shoulders day and night probably whispering to him and asking for guidance whilst in despair for directions to Tanganyika Their belief in their beloved great doctor missionary and explorer whose corpse they were carrying was total and unquestionable hence in times of total danger frustration and despair his African porters called out his African petty name of Bwana Munali Big Hunter and asked his spirit to protect them until they arrived at Unyanyembe and later Bagamoyo on the Indian Ocean East Coast of Africa in October 1873 Of the three senior porters Susi Chuma and Jacob Wainwright and 79 other porters only Wainwright who was most literate was accorded the chance to escort Dr Livingstone s coffin to United Kingdom and witnessed

Livingstone's funeral at Westminster Abbey on 18th April 1874. It is reported that Chuma and Susi whom Livingstone rescued from a slave trader and worked for him longest were later sent for by James Young in 1874 to visit the United Kingdom three months after the funeral mainly to assist with compiling Livingstone's last part of his expedition. The remaining 79 porters who endeavored the Great Epic Journey including Mlututula were paid off and summarily dismissed by the Acting Consul at Zanzibar Captain W F Prideaux who discriminated against female porters and were not paid their final wages. A warship HMS Vulture collected the corpse from Bagamoyo for delivery at Zanzibar from where the body was repacked and shipped to Aden on the first mail ship and thereafter got transferred to the P O Liner Malwa still watched over by Wainwright and from Alexandria also accompanied by Livingstone's son Tom. They arrived at Southampton on 15th April 1874. The dismissed 79 unsung heroes then embarked on a disastrous torturous return journey back home without medical facilities nor equipment for navigation as they were taken away from them at Unyanyembe by Lieutenant Verney Lovett Cameron which were not returned as he continued across Africa leaving the corpse at Bagamoyo. In his own words Mlututula said: Most porters died on their return trek from starvation, natural fatigue, malaria, diarrhea, snake, crocodile bites and occasional attacks from wild animals and villagers who mistook them for Arab slave traders. However, wandering through unknown territories resulted in fortune and fame to Mlututula who for example accidentally wandered off into Mulala kingdom where he met and married the chief's granddaughter Lucie Mulala. Chief Mulala could not give consent to Mlututula's first proposal to his granddaughter because he considered him as a commoner, a wandering traveler and foreigner known in the local dialect as abena fyalo and a man of no fixed abode. Unperturbed, Mlututula returned after securing documents introducing him as a descendant of Chiefs and a son of a respected village headman. Armed with those documents, presents and accompanied by a number of elders as per his tribe's tradition when seeking a woman in marriage, Mlututula headed back to Mulala Kingdom to officially ask for Lucie Mulala's hand in marriage, traditional marriage proposal. As a way to welcome Mlututula and his entourage into his royal family, Chief Mulala gave his new son-in-law massive pieces of land. It is out of his courage, desire to prosper and fighting spirit that Mlututula later established Katobole village which resonates to the author's mind, unspeakable memories of bravery, love and true understanding of how Dr Livingstone's death resulted in a marriage that outlived the test of time, bringing forth offsprings who among them is the author of this book. Thanks to Livingstone's Great Epic journey in our area for without his death in our country, my grandfather would have never met and married grandma Princess Lucie Mulala. oooooOOOOOooooo
