Speak Well of Me W. Sydney Robinson, 2021-10-07 Sir Ronald Harwood 1934 2020 was one of the most prolific playwrights and screenwriters of his generation His acclaimed play The Dresser has been constantly revived since its premiere in 1980 and has been adapted for both cinema and television most recently the 2015 BBC production starring Sir Anthony Hopkins and Sir Ian McKellen Harwood's other notable film adaptations included Roman Polanski's haunting depiction of life in the Warsaw Ghetto The Pianist 2002 Baz Luhrmann's frontier epic Australia 2008 and Dustin Hoffman's poignant celebration of old age Quartet 2012 His many awards included an Oscar for The Pianist and a BAFTA for The Diving Bell and the Butterfly 2007 Speak Well of Me turns the focus onto Harwood himself Based on extensive interviews with the playwright during his final years the biography recounts Harwood's gradual transformation from lacklustre South African schoolboy to doyen of theatreland and Hollywood While dissecting each of his major works the book candidly explores Harwood's friendships with the likes of Harold Pinter J B Priestley Andr Previn Sir Donald Wolfit who inspired The Dresser and most controversially Roman Polanski The result is a biography as gripping and morally complex as one of Harwood's own dramas This new paperback edition includes memoirs and assessments of Harwood by Gyles Brandreth Sir Tom Courtenay Lady Antonia Fraser Frederic Raphael Sir Antony Sher and the playwright's oldest friend Gerald Masters

Transatlantic Crossings Sarah Street, 2002-01-01 Transatlantic Crossings is the first major study of the distribution and exhibition of British films in the USA Charting the cross cultural reception of many British films Sarah Street draws on a wide range of sources including studio records film posters press books and statistics While the relative strength of Hollywood made it difficult for films that crossed the Atlantic Street's research demonstrates that some strategies were more successful than others She considers which British films made an impact and analyzes conditions that facilitated a positive reception from critics censors exhibitors and audiences Case studies include Nell Gwyn 1926 The Private Life of Henry VIII 1933 The Ghost Goes West 1935 Henry V 1946 Black Narcissus 1947 The Red Shoes 1948 Ealing comedies The Horror of Dracula 1958 Tom Jones 1963 A Hard Day's Night 1964 Goldfinger 1964 The Remains of the Day 1993 Four Weddings and a Funeral 1994 and Trainspotting 1996 Against a background of the economic history of the British and Hollywood film industries Transatlantic Crossings considers the many fascinating questions surrounding the history of British films in the USA their relevance to wider issues of Anglo American relations and to notions of Britishness on screen

Shadow Economies of Cinema Ramon Lobato, 2019-07-25 How do people access movies today What are the most popular and powerful channels for media distribution on a global scale How are film industries changing in the face of media convergence and digitisation To answer questions such as these argues Ramon Lobato we must shift our gaze away from the legal film business and toward cinema's shadow economies All around the world films are bought from roadside stalls local markets and grocery stores they are illegally downloaded and streamed they are watched in makeshift video clubs on street corners and in restaurants shops and bars International film culture in its actually existing forms is a messy affair and it relies to a great extent on black and grey media markets Examining the industrial dynamics of these subterranean film networks across a number of different sites from Los Angeles to Lagos Melbourne to Mexico City this book shows how they constitute a central rather than marginal part of audiovisual culture and commerce Combining film industry analysis with cultural theory Shadow Economies of Cinema opens up a new area of inquiry for cinema studies putting industry research into dialogue with wider debates about economic informality and commodity circulation Written in an accessible style this book offers an original bottom up perspective on the global cinema industry for researchers and students in film studies cultural studies and media and communications

A Companion to British and Irish Cinema John Hill, 2019-07-18 A stimulating overview of the intellectual arguments and critical debates involved in the study of British and Irish cinemas British and Irish film studies have expanded in scope and depth in recent years prompting a growing number of critical debates on how these cinemas are analysed contextualized and understood A Companion to British and Irish Cinema addresses arguments surrounding film historiography methods of textual analysis critical judgments and the social and economic contexts that are central to the study of these cinemas Twenty nine essays from many of the most prominent writers in the field examine how British and Irish cinema have been discussed the concepts and methods used to interpret and understand British and Irish films and the defining issues and debates at the heart of British and Irish cinema studies Offering a broad scope of commentary the Companion explores historical cultural and aesthetic questions that encompass over a century of British and Irish film studies from the early years of the silent era to the present day Divided into five sections the Companion discusses the social and cultural forces shaping British and Irish cinema during different periods the contexts in which films are produced distributed and exhibited the genres and styles that have been adopted by British and Irish films issues of representation and identity and debates on concepts of national cinema at a time when ideas of what constitutes both British and Irish cinema are under question A Companion to British and Irish Cinema is a valuable and timely resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students of film media and cultural studies and for those seeking contemporary commentary on the cinemas of Britain and Ireland

Historical Dictionary of British Cinema Alan Burton, Steve Chibnall, 2013-07-11 British cinema has been around from the very birth of motion pictures from black and white to color from talkies to sound and now 3D it has been making a major contribution to world cinema Many of its actors and directors have stayed at home but others ventured abroad like Charlie Chaplin and Alfred Hitchcock Today it is still going strong the only real competition to Hollywood turning out films which appeal not only to Brits just think of Bridget Jones while busily adding to franchises like James Bond and Harry Potter So this Historical Dictionary of British Cinema has a lot of ground to cover This it does with over 300 dictionary entries informing us about significant actors producers and directors outstanding films and serials organizations and studios different films genres from comedy to horror and memorable films among other things Two appendixes provide lists of award winners Meanwhile the chronology covers over a century of history These parts provide the details countless details while the introduction offers the big story And the extensive bibliography points toward other sources of information

The Romantic Age in Britain Boris Ford, 1992 This is a comprehensive survey for students specialists and general readers of all major branches of the arts in 16th century Britain It also reveals the cultural and social setting in which writers musicians architects and other artists of the period worked

The People's Pictures James Caterer, 2011-08-08 When John Major launched the UK's National Lottery in 1994 he christened it the people's Lottery and handed it to the mythical stewardship of the Everyman But when the proceeds began to be distributed to worthy causes including the British film industry this populist rhetoric came under increasing strain If Lottery funding is used to produce the type of British films which the public want to see such as romantic comedies then many question whether the market deserves such subsidy Short films and low budget experimental cinema which often require state support tend to go unwatched by large swathes of the Lottery ticket buying public This book explores the debates which were sparked by the arrival of the people s pictures and places them in historical context by examining their many precedents Is public patronage a boon or a burden for filmmakers And how do institutional cultures or political buzzwords affect the finished films Case studies include the popular hits Billy Elliot 2000 and Shooting Fish 1997 art house releases such as Love Is The Devil 1998 and Gallivant 1997 short films by Lynne Ramsey and David MacKenzie and artists film and video work by Bill Viola and Tracey Emin

Managing in the Media William Houseley, Tom Nicholls, Ron Southwell, 2013-04-26 Managing in the Media has been devised for a broad audience It is based upon the perceived need for a text that amalgamates cultural theories film and television analysis management theories and media production practice into one volume There are many books on film and cultural studies Similarly there are copious numbers of texts written on management To date little has been written that analyses the management of the audiovisual industry set against the backdrop of the cultural and economic environment within which the media manager operates Managing in the Media is divided into three sections that take the reader from the global to the specific from the strategic to the tactical Each chapter discusses specific topics that can be read in isolation yet contribute to the theme within each part Taken as a whole the book provides the potential professional media manager and current practising media manager with a framework of issues that will give them an awareness of the range of knowledge needed by the successful media manager This book does not try to be a manual to success The media industry is awash with successful individuals none of whom needed textbooks to set them on their chosen career paths Yet these exceptional people prove the rule that in the main most media practitioners would benefit from some additional support and guidance The aim of this book is to present to them some of the management issues that have or will have an impact upon their working careers The accompanying website www.mediaops.net which can also be accessed via www.focalpress.com features Tutor notes and reader activities Updated list of further reading Additional support material such as production templates Interviews with the authors A discussion forum Industry and education links Media News

The Screenwriter in British Cinema Jill Nelmes, 2019-07-25 Though screenwriting is an essential part of the film production process in Britain it is yet to be fully recognised as a form in itself In this original study Jill Nelmes brings the art of screenwriting into sharp focus foregrounding the role of the screenwriter in British cinema from the 1930s to the present day Drawing on otherwise unseen drafts of screenplays correspondence and related material held in the Special Collections of the BFI National Archive Nelmes s close textual analysis of the screenplay in its many forms illuminates both the writing and the production process With case studies of a diverse range of key writers from individuals such as Muriel Box Robert Bolt and Paul Laverty to teams such as the Carry On writers Nelmes exposes the depth and breadth of this thriving field

commercially successful films encompasses a range of genres including biblical films war films romances comic book adaptations animated features and historical epics It discusses the characteristics history and modes of distribution and exhibition that unite big budget pictures from their beginnings in the late nineteenth century to the present Moving chronologically it examines the roots of today's blockbuster in the feature special superspecial roadshow epic and spectacle of earlier eras with special attention to the characteristics of each type of picture Editor Past and Present James Chapman, 2005-09-23 This ground breaking book takes as its focal point director Ken Loach's view that The only reason to make films that are a reflection on history is to talk about the present In the first book to take on this major genre in all its complexity James Chapman argues that historical films say as much about the times in which they are made as about the past they purport to portray Through in depth case studies of fourteen key films spanning the 1930s up to the turn of the twenty first century from The Private Life of Henry VIII and Zulu to Chariots of Fire and Elizabeth Chapman examines the place of historical films in British cinema history and film culture Looking closely at the issues that they present from gender class and ethnicity to militarism and imperialism he also discusses controversies over historical accuracy and the ways in which devices such as voice overs title captions and visual references to photographs and paintings assert a sense of historical verisimilitude Exploring throughout the book the dialectical relationship between past and present Chapman reveals how such films promote British achievements but also sometimes question them and how they project images of Britishness to audiences both in the UK and internationally Entertainment Industry Economics Harold L. Vogel, 2020-07-23 Fully updated this edition offers a unique integrated approach to the economics and financing of entertainment and media sectors
