My Mother's House Colette, 1968 My Mother's House; and Sido Sidonie-Gabrielle Colette, 2005-07-01 In My Mother's House to her garden with its inhabitants especially to her children particularly her youngest Colette whom she called Minet Cheri These two stories center on the compelling figure of a powerful nurturing woman in late 19th century rural France vividly conveying the impact she had on her community her daughter who grew up to be a great writer There is not a word which does not count Translated from the French My Mother's House Colette, 1969 Colette and the Conquest of

Self Laurel Cummins, 2005 The Mother / Daughter Plot Marianne Hirsch, 1989-10-22 Mothers and daughters the female figures neglected by classic psychoanalysis and submerged in traditional narrative are at the center of this book The novels of nineteenth and twentieth century women writers from the Western European and North American traditions reveal that the story of motherhood remains the unspeakable plot of Western culture Focusing on the feminine and more controversially on the maternal this book alters our perception of both the familial structures basic to traditional narrative the Oedipus story and the narrative structures basic to traditional representations of the family Freud's family romance Confronting psychoanalytic theories of subject formation with narrative theories Marianne Hirsch traces the emergence and transformation of female family romance patterns from Jane Austen to Marguerite Duras Thinking through the Mothers Janet Beizer, 2011-03-15 If questions of subjectivity and identification are at stake in all biographical writing they are particularly trenchant for contemporary women biographers of women Often their efforts to exhume buried lives in hope of finding spiritual foremothers awaken maternal phantoms that must be embraced or confronted Do women writing in fact have any greater access to their own mothers lives than to the lives of other women whose stories have been swept away like dust in the debris of the past In Thinking through the Mothers Janet Beizer surveys modern women's biographies and contemplates alternatives to an approach based in lineage and the form of thought that emphasizes the line the path hierarchy unity resemblance reflection and the aesthetic mimesis that depends on these ideas Through close readings of memoirs and fictions about mothers Beizer explores how biographers of the women who came before rehearse and rewrite relationships to their own mothers biographically as they seek to appropriate the past in a hybrid genre she calls bio autography Thinking through the Mothers features the work of George Sand and Colette and spans such varied figures as

Gustave Flaubert Julian Barnes Louise Colet Eunice Lipton Vladimir Nabokov Huguette Bouchardeau and Christa Wolf Beizer seeks an alternative to women's salvation biography or resurrection biography that might resist nostalgia be attentive to silence and reinvent the means to represent the lives of precursors without appropriating traditional models of genealogy

Colette and the Incest Taboo Dr. Carol Mastrangelo Bove, 2025-01-14 This book makes an argument critical to literary theory and sexuality in 2022 It argues that Colette's fiction portrays a woman struggling to live in the throes of the incest taboo understood in its psychological implications for power relations both private and public then and now Informed by Julia Kristeva's work it approaches Colette's writing and its translation along with two films via close psychoanalytic readings It demonstrates that this version of Kristeva's psychoanalytic theory in an accessible form and with emphasis on the psychology of women and social transformation helps to read Colette for the twenty-first century as well as to show how Kristeva's theory works This volume examines especially Colette's most admired novels especially from the second half of her life including the much misunderstood La Maison de Claudine 1922 where the incest taboo surfaces in the relationship of the narrator with the mother The taboo had appeared two years earlier in Chéri 1920 in the rapport between the maternal L a a woman of a certain age and the young man Chéri finally in Gigi the incest taboo characterises the relations between the young teenager of the eponymous title and her much older uncle figure Gaston
