The Rise and Fall of Paramount Records Scott Blackwood,2023-03-01 Founded in 1917 Paramount Records incongruously was one of several homegrown record labels of a Wisconsin chair making company The company pinned no outsized hopes on Paramount Its founders knew nothing of the music business and they had arrived at the scheme of producing records only to drive sales of the expensive phonograph cabinets they had recently begun manufacturing Lacking the resources and the interest to compete for top talent Paramount s earliest recordings gained little foothold with the listening public On the threshold of bankruptcy the label embarked on a new business plan selling the music of Black artists to Black audiences It was a wildly successful move with Paramount eventually garnering many of the biggest selling titles in the race records era Inadvertently the label accomplished what others could not making blues jazz and folk music performed by Black artists a popular and profitable genre Paramount featured a deep roster of legendary performers including Louis Armstrong Charley

Patton Ethel Waters Son House Fletcher Henderson Skip James Alberta Hunter Blind Blake King Oliver Blind Lemon Jefferson Ma Rainey Johnny Dodds Papa Charlie Jackson and Jelly Roll Morton Scott Blackwood s The Rise and Fall of Paramount Records is the story of happenstance But it is also a tale about the sheer force of the Great Migration and the legacy of the music etched into the shellacked grooves of a 78 rpm record With Paramount Records Black America found its voice Through creative nonfiction Blackwood brings to life the gifted artists and record producers who used Paramount to revolutionize American music Felled by the Great Depression the label stopped recording in 1932 leaving a legacy of sound pressed into cheap 78s that is among the most treasured and influential in American history The New York Times Book Review Index, 1896-1970: Subject index ,1973 The New York Times Book Review Index, 1896-1970: Byline index ,1973 Portraits of Resistance Jennifer Van Horn,2022-01-01 A highly original history of American portraiture that places the experiences of enslaved people at its center This timely and eloquent book tells a new history of American art how enslaved people mobilized portraiture for acts of defiance Revisiting the origins of portrait painting in the United States Jennifer Van Horn reveals how mythologies of whiteness and of nation building erased the aesthetic production of enslaved Americans of African descent and obscured the portrait s importance as a site of resistance Moving from the wharves of colonial Rhode Island to antebellum Louisiana plantations to South Carolina townhouses during the Civil War the book illuminates how enslaved people s relationships with portraits also shaped the trajectory of African American art post emancipation Van Horn asserts that Black creativity subjecthood viewership and iconoclasm constituted instances of everyday rebellion against systemic oppression Portraits of Resistance is not only a significant intervention in the fields of American art and history but also an important contribution to the reexamination of racial constructs on which American culture was built Princeton Alumni Weekly ,1972 New York Times Saturday Review of Books and Art ,1973

Archaeological Survey in the Lower Mississippi Alluvial Valley, 1940-1947 Philip Phillips,James A. Ford,James B. Griffin,2003-10-08 Documents prehistoric human occupation along the lower reaches of the Mississippi River A Dan Josselyn Memorial Publication The Lower Mississippi Survey was initiated in 1939 as a joint undertaking of three institutions the School of Geology at Louisiana State University the Museum of Anthropology at the University of Michigan and the Peabody Museum at Harvard Fieldwork began in 1940 but was halted during the war years When fieldwork resumed in 1946 James Ford had joined the American Museum of Natural History which assumed co sponsorship from LSU The purpose of the Lower Mississippi Survey LMS a term used to identify both the fieldwork and the resultant volume was to investigate the northern two thirds of the alluvial valley of the lower Mississippi River roughly from the mouth of the Ohio River to Vicksburg This area covers about 350 miles and had been long regarded as one of the principal hot spots in eastern North American archaeology Phillips Ford and Griffin surveyed over 12 000 square miles identified 382 archaeological sites and analyzed over 350 000 potsherds in order to define ceramic typologies and establish a number of cultural periods The commitment of these scholars to developing a coherent understanding of the archaeology of the area as well as their mutual respect for one another enabled the publication of what is now commonly considered the bible of southeastern archaeology Originally published in 1951 as volume 25 of the Papers of the Peabody Museum of American Archaeology and Ethnology this work has been long out of print Because Stephen Williams served for 35 years as director of the LMS at Harvard succeeding Phillips and was closely associated with the authors during their lifetimes his new introduction offers a broad overview of the work s influence and value placing it in a contemporary context
