The Social Politics of Research Collaboration Gabriele Griffin, Katarina Hamberg, Britta Lundgren, 2013-06-07 The past two decades have seen an increasing emphasis on large and interdisciplinary research configurations such as research networks and centers of excellence including those in Social Sciences and Humanities research Little research has been undertaken however to understand how these new large research structures that are being called forth by research funders and research higher education institutions alike function socially and what the impact of operating within such structures is on those working within and those working with them Past writers have discussed the intra agentic operations of human researchers and the material laboratory environment in its broadest sense This volume is concerned with the social politics of research collaboration in relation to six key positions leaders of large research formations leaders of sub projects within large collaborations participant researchers junior and early career researchers advisory board members and those who look in from the outside such as researchers who are unfunded. It explores the mostly unacknowledged but critical aspect of social structures in research discussing issues such as struggles over leadership styles, the marginalization of researchers working cross-disciplinarily, power hierarchies and intellectual ownership and the silencing of dissent in research.

A Year in the Woods Colin Elford, 2010-03-04 Colin Elford's A Year in the Woods is an enthralling journey into the heart of the English countryside with a preamble by Craig Taylor. Colin Elford spends his days alone, but for the deer, the squirrels, the rabbits, the birds and the many other creatures inhabiting the woods. From the crisp cold of January through the promise of spring and the heat of summer and then into damp autumn and the chill winds of winter, we accompany the forest ranger as he goes about his work: stalking in the early morning darkness, putting an injured fallow buck out of its misery, watching stoats kill a hare, observing owls and simply being a part of the outdoors. Colin Elford immerses himself in the richly diverse and unique landscapes of Britain, existing in rhythm with natural environments. For fans of Robert Macfarlane's Landmarks, Helen Macdonald's H is for Hawk or James Rebanks' A Shepherd's Life, Colin's rare and uplifting journey will unveil the true nature and beauty of Britain's countryside. This is nature for real. Elford describes woodland wonders in short paragraphs of luminous intensity. Daily Mail: A poetic insight in the world of hidden Nature. Countryman: Stalking sharpens the senses and there is an almost hallucinatory clarity to Elford's writing. Observer: Refreshingly unsentimental. Contains some wonderful descriptions and sentences which are so profound they demand a second reading. Sunday Express: Colin Elford is a forest ranger on the Dorset/Wiltshire border. Craig Taylor is the author of Return to Akenfield and One Million Tiny Plays About Britain and the editor of the magazine Five Dials.

A New Abridgment of the Law Matthew Bacon, 1832 A Library of Famous Fiction, 1873

Blood of the Dragon David T. Pudelvitcz, 2003-11 A team of archaeologists digging in present-day Romania uncover a mass execution ground. They have unexpectedly also unearthed the executioner himself: Prince Vlad Dracula. The King of the Undead has been waiting for hundreds of years to resurrect himself in a bid for world domination. In the meantime, he forces Doctors Peter Ralston and Louise Johnston to transcribe his awesome memoirs. In this book, penned by his own dead hand, Dracula describes his monstrous birth, life and rise to power and finally the dark forces which caused him to become the world's most powerful vampire. He describes a world of evil rituals and necromancy that is beyond the rules and laws that govern mankind. He is an inhuman monster who lusts after only immortality and power. This is the Dracula that Bram Stoker shocked the world with. Once again, Dracula has risen from his grave to cast a shadow of evil over the world.

The History of the

Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. Illustrated Edward Gibbon, 2022-10-03 The History of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire traces Western civilization as well as the Islamic and Mongolian conquests from the height of the Roman Empire to the fall of Byzantium in the fifteenth century The six volumes cover the history from 98 to 1590 of the Roman Empire the history of early Christianity and then of the Roman State Church and the history of Europe and discusses the decline of the Roman Empire among other things Gibbon offers an explanation for the fall of the Roman Empire a task made difficult by a lack of comprehensive written sources though he was not the only historian to attempt it According to Gibbon the Roman Empire succumbed to barbarian invasions in large part due to the gradual loss of civic virtue among its citizens He began an ongoing controversy about the role of Christianity but he gave great weight to other causes of internal decline and to attacks from outside the Empire

Accidental Saints Bolz-Weber Nadia, 2015-10-27 What if the annoying person you try to avoid is actually an accidental saint in your life What if even in our failings holy moments are waiting to happen Nadia Bolz Weber demonstrates what happens when ordinary people meet to explore the Christian faith Their faltering steps towards wholeness will ring true for believer and sceptic alike
