

An aerial photograph of a desert landscape, showing a series of wavy, undulating sand dunes in shades of tan and brown. The dunes are oriented horizontally across the frame, creating a rhythmic pattern of light and shadow. The sky is not visible, as the dunes fill the entire background.

Real And The Good A Geographical Guide:

A Geographical Guide to the Real and the Good Robert Sack, 2016-05-06 First published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Planning in an Uncanny World Nicholas A. Phelps, Judy Bush, Anna Hurlimann, 2022-12-23 This book places Australian conditions and urban planning centrally within comparative analysis of planning systems and cultures around the world to address issues including urban governance climate change transportation planning regional development and migration planning Australian urban conditions and their associated planning responses can and often have been seen as unique or exceptional They are seldom discussed in the same breath as conditions and associated planning systems internationally Yet as well as being somewhat different from those elsewhere in the world Australian urban conditions and planning responses are also somewhat similar They are uncanny strangely familiar yet unfamiliar In this book Australian urban conditions and their planning policies and practices are informally compared and contrasted with those existing internationally If Australian urban planning policy and practice have had limited influence internationally the partial familiarity of challenges posed by its urban conditions ensure that Australia is a more important global reference point for scholarship and practice than commonly is appreciated In this book the authors assert the potential and actual originality of urban planning scholarship arising from the Australian context It will be useful for students and faculty planners working in Australia as well as anyone interested in international planning debates Gated Communities in China Choon-Piew Pow, 2009-09-11 This book examines the nature and dynamics of gated communities within the specificities of reform Shanghai a city that arguably has been at the forefront of China's new urban consumer revolution

Key Concepts in Geography Nicholas Clifford, Sarah Holloway, Stephen P Rice, Gill Valentine, 2008-12-12 This book clearly outlines key concepts that all geographers should readily be able to explain It does so in a highly accessible way It is likely to be a text that my students will return to throughout their degree Dr Karen Parkhill Bangor University The editors have done a fantastic job This second edition is really accessible to the student and provides the key literature in the key geographical terms of scale space time place and landscape Dr Elias Symeonakis Manchester Metropolitan University An excellent introductory text for accessible overviews of key concepts across human and physical geography Professor Patrick Devine Wright Exeter University Including ten new chapters on nature globalization development and risk and a new section on practicing geography this is a completely revised and updated edition of the best selling standard student resource Key Concepts in Geography explains the key terms space time place scale landscape that define the language of geography It is unique in the reference literature as it provides in one volume concepts from both human geography and physical geography Four introductory chapters on different intellectual traditions in geography situate and introduce the entries on the key concepts Each entry then comprises a short definition a summary of the principal arguments a substantive 5 000 word discussion the use of real life examples and annotated notes for further reading Written in an accessible way by established figures in the discipline the definitions provide thorough explanations of all the core concepts that undergraduates of geography must understand to complete their degree

Facs - Florida Atlantic Comparative Studies Ilaria Serra, Peggy Schaller, 2007-11 The editors of the Florida Atlantic Comparative Studies literary journal provide a forum for comparative study in the arts humanities language culture and social sciences

Localism, Landscape, and the Ambiguities of Place David Blackburn, James Retallack, 2015-01-15 What makes a person call a particular place home Does it follow simply from being born there Is it the result of a language shared with neighbours or attachment to a familiar landscape Perhaps it is a piece of music or a painting or even a travelogue that captures the essence of home And what about the sense of belonging that inspires nationalist or local autonomy movements Each of these can be a marker of identity but all are ambiguous Where you were born has a different meaning if like so many modern Germans you have moved on and now live elsewhere Representing the national interest in parliament becomes more difficult when voters demand attention to local and regional issues or when ethnic tensions erupt In all these situations the landscape of home takes on a more elusive meaning

Localism Landscape and the Ambiguities of Place is about the German nation state and the German speaking lands beyond it from the 1860s to the 1930s The authors explore a wide range of subjects music and art elections and political festivities local landscape and nature conservation tourism and language struggles in the family and the school Yet they share an interest in the ambiguities of German identity in an age of extraordinarily rapid socio economic change These essays do not assume the primacy of national allegiance Instead by using the sense of place as a prism to look at German identity in new ways they examine a sense of Germanness that was neither self evident nor unchanging

Careful Eating: Bodies, Food and Care Emma-Jayne Abbotts, Anna Lavis, Luci Attala, 2016-03-03 Critically reflecting on the interplays between food and care this multidisciplinary volume asks why do individuals institutions and agencies care about what other people eat It explores how acts of caring about food and eating shape and intervene in individual bodies as well as being enacted in and through those bodies In so doing the volume extends current critical debates regarding food and care as political mechanisms through which social hierarchies are constructed and both self and other re produced Addressing the ways in which eating and caring interact on multiple scales and sites from public health and clinical settings to the market the home and online communities Careful Eating asks what eating and caring are what relationships they create and rupture and how their interplay is experienced in myriad spaces of everyday life Taking account of this two directional flow of engagement between eating and caring the chapters are organized into three central theoretical dimensions how eating practices mobilize discourses and forms of care how discourses and practices of care look to shape particular forms of eating and food preferences and how it is often in the bodies of individual consumers that eating and care encounter one another

Geographies and Moralities Roger Lee, David M. Smith, 2011-07-22 This topical book addresses contemporary concern with the interconnections between geography and morality Covers both the geographical context of morality and moralities in geographical methods and practices Contains up to date case studies based on original research Deals with controversial issues such as problems of globalization European integration human rights in Nigeria territorial conflict in Israel and land reform in post apartheid South Africa The editors are well published leading international authorities The contributors are drawn from Australia Eastern Europe Israel South Africa the UK and the US Imprints John N. Low, 2016-02-01 The Pokagon Band of Potawatomi Indians has been a part of Chicago since its founding In very public expressions of indigeneity they have refused to hide in plain sight or assimilate Instead throughout the city s history the Pokagon Potawatomi Indians have openly and aggressively expressed their refusal to be marginalized or forgotten and in doing so they have contributed to the fabric and history of the city Imprints The Pokagon Band of Potawatomi Indians and the City of Chicago examines the ways some Pokagon Potawatomi tribal members have maintained a distinct Native identity their rejection of assimilation into the mainstream and their desire for inclusion in the larger contemporary society without forfeiting their Indianness Mindful that contact is never a one way street Low also examines the ways in which experiences in Chicago have influenced the Pokagon Potawatomi Imprints continues the recent scholarship on the urban Indian experience before as well as after World War II

Integral Ecology Sean Esbjörn-Hargens, Michael E. Zimmerman, 2009 Dozens of real life applications and examples of this framework currently in use are examined including three in depth cases studies work with marine fisheries in Hawaii i strategies of eco activists to protect Canada s Great Bear Rainforest and a study of community development in El Salvador In addition eighteen personal practices of transformation are provided for you to increase your own integral ecological awareness Jacket
