Real Time Accelerating Narrative From Balzac To Zola:

Real Time David F. Bell, 2010-10-01 In Real Time David F. Bell explores the decisive impact the accelerated movement of people and information had on the fictions of four giants of French realism Balzac Stendhal Dumas and Zola Nineteenth century technological advances radically altered the infrastructure of France changing the ways ordinary citizens and literary characters viewed time space distance and speed The most influential of these advances included the improvement of the stagecoach the growth of road and canal networks leading to the advent of the railway and the increasing use of mail and of the optical telegraph Citing examples from a wide range of novels and stories Bell demonstrates the numerous ways in which these trends of acceleration became not just literary devices and themes but also structuring principles of the novels themselves Beginning with both the provincial and the Parisian communications networks of Balzac Bell proceeds to discuss the roles of horses and optical telegraphs in Stendhal and the importance of domination of communication channels to the characters of Dumas whose Count of Monte Cristo might be seen as the ultimate fictional master of this accelerated culture Finally Bell analyzes the cinematic vision created by the arrival of the railroad as depicted by Zola in La B te Humaine

Brian Joseph Martin, 2011 The first book length study of the origin of queer soldiers in modern France Balzac, Literary Sociologist Allan H. Pasco, 2016-10-04 Melding the fields of literature sociology and history this book develops analyses of the ten novels in Balzac s Sc nes de la vie de province Following the order of the novels projected in La Com die humaine

Allan H Pasco investigates how Balzac used art as a tool of social inquiry to obtain startlingly accurate insights into the relationships that defined his turbulent society His repeated claim to be an historian of manners was more than an empty boast Though Balzac was first and foremost a great novelist he was also a trailblazing sociologist joining Henri de Saint Simon and the subsequent Auguste Comte in considering the relationships that represent society as an interacting interlocking web Using a methodology that combines close analysis with a broad cultural context Pasco demonstrates that Balzac s sociological vision was extraordinarily pertinent to both his and our days Literature and Cartography Anders Engberg-Pedersen,2017-11-24 The relationship of texts and maps and the mappability of literature examined from Homer to Houellebecq Literary authors have frequently called on elements of cartography to ground fictional space to visualize sites and to help readers get their bearings in the imaginative world of the text Today the convergence of digital mapping and globalization has spurred a cartographic turn in literature This book gathers leading scholars to consider the relationship of literature and cartography Generously illustrated with full color maps and visualizations it offers the first systematic overview of an emerging approach to the study of literature The literary map is not merely an illustrative guide but represents a set of relations and tensions that raise questions about representation fiction and space Is literature even mappable In exploring the cartographic components of literature the contributors have not only brought literary theory to bear on the map but have also enriched the vocabulary and perspectives of literary studies with cartographic terms After establishing the theoretical and methodological terrain they trace important developments in the history of literary cartography considering topics that include Homer and Joyce Goethe and the representation of nature and African cartographies Finally they consider cartographic genres that reveal the broader connections between texts and maps discussing literary map genres in American literature and the coexistence of image and text in early maps When cartographic aspirations outstripped factual knowledge mapmakers turned to textual fictions Contributors Jean Marc Besse Bruno Bosteels Patrick M Bray Martin Br ckner Tom Conley J rg D nne Anders Engberg Pedersen John K Noyes Ricardo Padr n Barbara Piatti Simone Pinet Clara Rowland Oliver Simons Robert Stockhammer Dominic Thomas Burkhardt Wolf Vocal Virtuosity Sean M. Parr,2021 Introduction Coloratura and Female Vocality The New Franco Italian School of Singing Verdi and the End of Italian Coloratura Melismatic Madness and Technology Caroline Carvalho and Her World Carvalho Gounod and the Waltz Vestiges of Virtuosity The French Coloratura Soprano Epilogue Unending Coloratura Alexandre Dumas as a French Symbol since 1870 Eric Martone,2020-03-17 Nineteenth century writer Alexandre Dumas 1802 1870 author of The Three Musketeers and The Count of Monte Cristo has been a controversial part of the French patrimony and faced various forms of racial prejudice in France because of his biracial ancestry and due to being a descendant of a slave During the late nineteenth century the rise of scientific racism and aggressive European imperialism resulted in worldviews supporting European superiority and equated European with being white Such developments complicated perceptions of Dumas as part of the French patrimony French intellectuals and politicians from the late nineteenth century onward created their own imaginative visions of what Dumas had represented in order to employ them ideologically to support or counter prevailing mainstream views of French history and identity This collection traces the evolution of Dumas's legacy as a controversial symbol of France since 1870 as the nation has struggled to deal with colonialism and its aftermath and increased diversity and globalization

Literary Geographies in Balzac and Proust Melanie Conroy, 2021-12-16 Literary geography is one of the core aspects of the study of the novel both in its realist and post realist incarnations Literary geography is not just about connecting place names to locations on the map literary geographers also explore how spaces interact in fictional worlds and the imaginary of physical space as seen through the lens of characters perceptions The tools of literary cartography and geographical analysis can be particularly useful in seeing how places relate to one another and how characters are associated with specific places This Element explores the literary geographies of Balzac and Proust as exemplary of realist and post realist traditions of place making in novelistic spaces The central concern of this Element is how literary cartography or the mapping of place names can contribute to our understanding of place making in the novel

The Nineteenth-Century Novel and the Pre-Cinematic Imagination Alberto Gabriele, 2024-11-14 This book fills a gap in existing scholarship on the history of the novel in relation to visual culture by discussing the visual fascination that novelists such as Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville Honor de Balzac and George Eliot show for several types of pre cinematic spectacle It also identifies a so far neglected aspect of novel theory that nineteenth century authors elaborated by incorporating suggestions from pre cinematic visual spectacles By shedding light on forms of visibility that were not entertained by the dominant aesthetic modes of painting and photography The Nineteenth Century Novel and the Pre Cinematic Imagination argues that the presence of nineteenth century pre cinematic optical illusions in works of fiction redefines the notion of mimesis as animated movement and points to a continuity between pre cinema the literary imagination and the structures of knowledge production of the modern episteme

Postal Pleasures Kate Thomas, 2012 In 1889 uniformed post boys were discovered moonlighting in a West End brothel frequented by men of the upper classes The Cleveland Street Scandal erupted and Victorian Britain faced the possibility that the Post Office a bureaucratic backbone of nation and empire was inspiring and servicing subversive sexual behavior However the unlikely alliance between sex and the postal service was not exactly the news the sensational press made it out to be Postal Pleasures explores the relationship between illicit sex and the Royal Mail from reforms initiated in 1840 up to the imperial end of the nineteenth century With a combination of historical details and literary analyses Kate Thomas illustrates how the postal network its uniformed employees and its material trappings envelopes postmarks stamps were used to signal and circulate sexual intrigue For many the idea of an envelope promiscuously jostling its neighbors in a post boy's bag or the notion that secrets passed through the eyes and fingers of telegraph girls was more stimulating than the actual contents of correspondence Writers like Anthony Trollope Eliza Lynn Lynton Henry James Oscar Wilde Arthur Conan Doyle and others invoked the postal system as both an instrument and a metaphor for sexual relations that crossed and double crossed lines of class marriage and heterosexuality Postal Pleasures adds a new dimension to studies of the era as it uncovers the unlikely linkage between the Victorian Post Office and the queer networks it inspired Locomotion in Literature Martin

on realist narrative and occasional polemics against realist narrative have assumed that realism promotes the values of sameness against those of otherness and that it does so by use of a narrative mode that excludes certain epistemologies ideologies and ways of thinking However the truth is more complex than that as the essays in this volume all demonstrate Realism s Others examines the various strategies by which realist narratives create the idea of difference whether that difference is registered in terms of class ethnicity epistemology nationality or gender The authors in this collection examine in detail not just the fact of otherness in some canonical realist and canonical magical realist and postmodern novels but the actual means by which that otherness is established by the text These essays suggest that neither realist narrative nor narratives positioned as anti realist take otherness for granted rather the texts discussed here actively create difference and this creation of difference often occasions severe difficulties for the novels representational schema How does one represent different types of knowledge other aesthetic modes or other spaces for example in texts whose epistemology has long been seen as secular and empirical whose aesthetic mode has always been approached as pure descriptive mimesis and whose settings are largely domestic These essays all begin with a certain collision of nationalities of classes of representational matrices of religions and go on to chart the challenges that this collision presents to our ideas or stereotypes of realism or to the possibilities of writing against and beyond realism This question motivates examination of key realist or social realist texts in some of these essays by Honor de Balzac George Eliot Franz Grillparzer Theodor Storm Gottfried Keller Theodor Fontane Wilhelm Raabe Mar a Amparo Ruiz de Burton Henry James William Dean Howells Charles Chesnutt Theodore Dreiser H T Tsiang Alan Sillitoe and Richard Yates However it is no less central a question in certain non realist texts which engage realist aims to a surprising degree often to debate them openly some of these essays discuss in this light fantastic magical realist and postmodern works by Abram Tertz Paul Auster Alejo Carpentier Toni Morrison Gabriel Garc a M rquez Salman Rushdie and A S Byatt Realism becomes more than an aesthetic aim or narrative mode It becomes rather a value evoked and discussed by all of the works analyzed here in order to reveal its impact on fiction s treatment of ethnicity nationality ideology space gender and social class

Time Machines Richard Taws, 2025-01-21 A riveting exploration of the relationship between art and telegraphy and its implications for understanding time and history in nineteenth century France In Time Machines Richard Taws examines the relationship between art and telegraphy in the decades following the French Revolution The optical telegraph was a novel form of visual communication developed in the 1790s that remained in use until the mid 1850s This pre electric telegraph based on a semaphore code irrevocably changed the media landscape of nineteenth century France Although now largely forgotten in its day it covered vast distances and changed the way people thought about time It also shaped and was shaped by a proliferating world of images What happens Taws asks if we think about art telegraphically Placed on prominent buildings across France for several years there was one on top of the Louvre the telegraph s waving limbs were a ubiquitous sight shifting how public space was experienced and represented The system was depicted by a wide range of artists who were variously amused appalled irritated or seduced by the telegraph's intractable coded messages and the uncanny environmental and perceptual disruption it caused Clouds architecture landscapes and gestures all signified differently in the era of telegraphy and the telegraph became a powerful means to comprehend France's technological and political past While Paris's famous arcades began to crisscross the city at ground level a more enigmatic network was operating above Shifting attention from the streets to the skies this book shows how modern France took shape quite literally under the telegraph's sign Engine of modernity Masha Belenky, 2020-02-28 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license The Tell-Tale Art Christine A. Jackson, 2011-11-16 Greed and guilt near indecipherable codes murder plots born of madness these motifs drive the best modern mysteries but they are rooted in the early nineteenth century and the carefully constructed fiction of Edgar Allan Poe Poe's methods of storytelling and suspense remain relevant reappearing in detective novels and on screens large and small This work examines a wide selection of today's mystery and thriller novels films television programs and video games to explore Poe's ongoing influence on popular entertainment Authors such as Michael Connelly Stieg Larsson and Dennis Lehane television shows like The Closer and Dexter and movies from Laura and Vertigo to Shutter Island and The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo all receive attention The popularity of Poe's narratives in these contemporary guises is testimony to his visionary genius Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here
