Practice offers a collection of essays by leading pastoral theologians that represent emerging trajectories in the fields of pastoral theology and care. The topics explored include qualitative research and ethnography, advances in neuroscience, care across pluralities and intersections in religion and spirituality, the influence of neoliberal economics in socio-economic vulnerabilities, postcolonial theory and its implications, the intersections of race and religion in caring for black women, and the usefulness of intersectionality for pastoral practice. Each of the essays offers a richly illustrated review of a practice of pastoral care relationally and in the public domain. The contributions to this volume engage seven critical directions emerging in the literature of pastoral theology in the United States and internationally among pastoral and practical theologians. While coverage of these topics does not exhaust important points of activity in the field, it does represent especially promising resources for theory and practice. This important work offers unique coverage of new directions in the field. Includes contributions from an exceptional group of experts who are noted leaders in their areas of study. Introduces the newest perspectives on pastoral care and offers constructive proposals. Filled with case illustrations that make chapters pedagogically useful. Korean Resources for Pastoral Theology James Newton Poling, HeeSun Kim, 2012-07-19. In a time of life and death challenges to the human spirit, global economics, nuclear dangers, environmental threats, and religious polarization and war, Christians must look for resources that provide new insights of God's power and care for all people. What are the forms of suffering and hope in the world today, and how can Christians respond with healing resources? Korean Christians have unique contributions to make to our understanding of pastoral theology and counseling. Pastoral counselors and theologians from the United States should look to the South Korean Christian churches and other Asian churches for conversation partners about the nature of care and healing in today's world. In this book, the authors explore important ideas such as han, jeong, and salim from Korean history and culture that can inform the healing ministries of the churches.

Living Devotions Mary Clark Moschella, 2008-01-01 Living Devotions explores how a particular community has creatively negotiated its religious bonds of connection in the context of immigration These matters cannot be studied in the abstract Religious practice is not something separate from the economic cultural and psychological dimensions of life but rather something integral which shapes and is being shaped by all of these other realities The author examines these dynamics through an ethnographic case study of the living devotions of a group of Italian Catholic immigrants to San Pedro California The narrative describes how the group's historical experiences of immigration and fishing find expression in their particular forms of prayer art artifacts and food The healing and transformative power of these shared religious practices is explored As contemporary theologians pastors and congregations seek to welcome and care for immigrants and other strangers in a shifting social landscape we need ways to engage in care full and attentive relationships The ethnographic method employed here suggests a way to lift up the voices of ordinary people allowing them to tell their own stories while piecing together emerging bits of theological wisdom and compelling care practices While the particular insights of any community are situated and specific theological reflection in one context can animate a broader discussion of transformative pastoral theology and practice

Prophetic Liturgy Tércio Junker, 2014-02-07 The primary purpose of Prophetic Liturgy is to inquire into the prophetic dimension of the liturgy Some questions addressed in the book are How can a liturgy be prophetic How can liturgy form and transform individuals and communities In which sense does the liturgy facilitate a living participation in socio political economic life How does the sacramental practice challenge the church to mediate God's gifts of grace love justice and mercy to the world Possible answers for these questions begin to emerge as we develop an understanding of religious praxis as an active and dynamic prophetic action in which the community of faith claims its identity promotes an engaged faithful Christian life and affirms the sacramental life of the church as a source of formation and inspiration for prophetic praxis mediating God's gift for the life of the world There is risk in presenting an option for prophetic praxis in that it may go beyond the comfort zone of a community and engender spiritual and political alienation The most challenging ethical hope of this book is to provide the worshipping community with prophetic awareness of socio economic injustice while at the same time preserving the community's historical cultural identity its religious values and its sacramental spirituality
