Speech and Thought Representation in English Lieven Vandelanotte, 2009 Main description The author argues for a new linguistically grounded typology of speech and thought representation in English from a cognitive linguistic perspective Apart from direct and indirect speech thought the types described include the character oriented free indirect and the narrator oriented distancing indirect type and two subjectified types in which reporting clauses such as I think function as hedges

Reported Discourse Tom Güldemann, Manfred von Roncador, 2002-09-24 The present volume unites 15 papers on reported discourse from a wide genetic and geographical variety of languages Besides the treatment of traditional problems of reported discourse like the classification of its intermediate categories the book reflects in particular how its grammatical semantic and pragmatic properties have repercussions in other linguistic domains like tense aspect modality evidentiality reference tracking and pronominal categories and the grammaticalization history of quotative constructions Almost all papers present a major shift away from analyzing reported discourse with the help of abstract transformational principles toward embedding it in functional and pragmatic aspects of language Another central methodological approach pervading this collection consists in the discourse oriented examination of reported discourse based on large corpora of spoken or written texts which is increasingly replacing analyses of constructed de contextualized utterances prevalent in many earlier treatments The book closes with a comprehensive bibliography on reported discourse of about 1 000 entries Reanimated Voices Daniel E.

Collins,2001-07-09 Reanimated Voices addresses three activities reporters evoking speech events interpreters re constituting those speech events and historical pragmaticians eavesdropping in time on the reporters and interpreters Can one reconstruct aspects of pragmatic competence on the basis of written texts only Reanimated Voices answers this in the affirmative It offers a methodology for historical pragmatic reconstruction to explain the synchronic patterns of variation in premodern writings Reanimated Voices examines the distribution of reporting strategies in a corpus of medieval Russian texts Forms preferred in specific recurring contexts are matched with the needs served by those contexts a fit reflecting collective intentionality Occasional residual forms strategies that appear in contexts where others predominate also reflect cooperative behavior they index utterances departing from the prototype or unusual configurations of participants Thus Reanimated Voices explores reporting as an activity of rational agents coordinating interpretation in accordance with cultural and institutional notions of relevance Latin Embedded Clauses Lieven Danckaert,2012-04-18 This monograph is one of the first studies that approaches Latin syntax from a formal perspective combining detailed corpus based description with formal theoretical analysis The empirical focus is word order in embedded clauses with special attention to clauses in which one or more constituents surface to the left of a subordinating conjunction It is proposed that two such types of left peripheral fronting should be distinguished The proposed analyses shed light not only on the clausal left periphery but also on the overall structure of the Latin clause The study is couched in the framework of generative grammar but since a thorough introduction is provided no special background in formal syntax is required Major topics touched upon are word order information structure locality and the syntax of pied piping The book covers both synchronic and diachronic topics of Latin syntax and is of interest for classical philologists historical linguists and formal syntacticians Acta Societatis

Interpreting Quoted Speech in Prophetic Literature Samuel Hildebrandt,2017-08-28 In Interpreting Quoted Speech Samuel Hildebrandt analyzes the literary phenomenon of one speaker quoting the words of another speaker within prophetic discourse Challenging approaches that categorize these speech quotations and use them as direct windows into Israel s past Hildebrandt makes a compelling case for reading quoted speech in its literary context He presents a substantial method for such an interpretive approach demonstrates its value in a detailed analysis of Jeremiah 2 1 3 5 and highlights the significance of quoted phrases in Jeremiah and other prophetic texts Interpreting Quoted Speech marks an important contribution to the exploration of Jeremiah s discourse and polyphony and due to its accessible methodology and exegesis offers a model for further research in prophetic literature

Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts ,2008 Beyond Misunderstanding Kristin Bührig,Jan D. ten Thije,2006-05-09 This book challenges two tacit presumptions in the field of intercultural communication research Firstly misunderstandings can frequently be found in intercultural communication although one could not claim that intercultural communication is constituted by misunderstandings alone This volume shows how new perspectives on linguistic analyses of intercultural communication go beyond the analysis of misunderstanding Secondly intercultural communication is not solely constituted by the fact that individuals from different cultural groups interact Each contribution of this volume analyses to what extent instances of discourse are institutionally and or interculturally determined These linguistic reflections involve different theoretical frameworks e g functional grammar systemic functional linguistics functional pragmatics rhetorical conversation analysis ethno methodological conversation analysis linguistic anthropology and a critical discourse approach As the contributions focus on the discourse of genetic counseling gate keeping discourse international team co operation international business communication workplace discourse internet communication and lamentation discourse the book exemplifies that the analysis of intercultural communication is organized in response to social needs and therefore may contribute to the social justification of linguistics

Коллектив авторов, 2018-03-23 16 19 1997 90 XX Rethinking Communicative Interaction Colin B. Grant, 2003-01-01

From government eavesdropping to Internet crime reality TV to computer mediated communication and mobile telephones the face of communication has fundamentally changed The contingencies and complexities of communication can be witnessed in old and new media in changing patterns of face to face interactions and the pluralization of the self and blurring of the distinction between the real and virtual To date theories of interaction have been slow to conceptualize communication in terms of its instabilities Social communication models remain heavily indebted to an interaction paradigm which is often intuitive epistemologically conservative and even a critical By contrast an interdisciplinary programme in communication covers a complex field which requires the broadest possible range of approaches beyond current disciplinary confines This collection seeks to examine some of the implications for our understanding of interaction when communication is conceptualized as a complex uncertainty

Passive and perspective

Louise H. Cornelis, 2022-06-08 The passive construction in Dutch represents a long standing problem both in linguistics and in written communications This book proposes a new analysis of the passive in Dutch integrating insights from theoretical especially cognitive linguistics and rhetoric composition The point of departure is the observation that the Dutch passive has a demonstrable perspective effect in texts the passive discourages identification with the agent and this in fact is the meaning of the Dutch passive construction This meaning forms the basis for a solution to a number of text problems including the problem of how to best use the passive in computer manuals We can also understand the passive's role in specific texts For example it becomes clear why policy paper writers use so many passives Finally in one of the case studies it is shown why passives were used differently in the NRC Handelsblad a Rotterdam daily newspaper and in the Parool from Amsterdam when they both reported that Ajax Amsterdam's football team became the national soccer champion

Historical Pragmatics Andreas H. Jucker, 1995-12-07

Until very recently pragmatics has been restricted to the analysis of contemporary spoken language while historical linguistics has studied historical texts and language change in a decontextualized way This has now radically changed and scholars from around the world are trying to build a new theoretical framework that integrates recent advances both in pragmatics and in historical linguistics The volume which contains 22 original articles starts with an introduction that is both a state of the art account of historical pragmatics and a programmatic statement of its future potential and its different

subfields Part I contains seven pragmaphilological papers that deal with historical texts and their interpretations by paying close attention to the communicative context of these texts The second and third parts comprise papers in diachronic pragmatics The ten papers of part II take a linguistic form as their starting point e g particular lexical items or syntactic constructions and study their pragmatic functions at different times diachronic form to function mappings while the four papers of part III take a particular pragmatic function as their starting point e g discourse strategies or politeness and study their linguistic realisation at different times diachronic function to form mappings Pragmatic Markers and Sociolinguistic Variation Gisle Andersen, 2001-01-01 This book combines theoretical work in linguistic pragmatics and sociolinguistics with empirical work based on a corpus of London adolescent conversation It makes a general contribution to the study of pragmatic markers as it proposes an analytical model that involves notions such as subjectivity interactional and textual capacity and the distinction between contextual alignment divergence These notions are defined according to how information contained in an utterance interacts with the cognitive environment of the hearer Moreover the model captures the diachronic development of markers from lexical items via processes of grammaticalisation arguing that markerhood may be viewed as a gradient phenomenon The empirical work concerns the use of like as a marker as well as a characteristic use of two originally interrogative forms innit and is it which are used as attitudinal markers throughout the inflectional paradigm despite the fact that they contain a third person singular neuter pronoun The author provides an in depth analysis of these features in terms of pragmatic functions diachronic development and sociolinguistic variation thus adding support to the hypothesis that adolescents play an important role in language variation and change
