The Future of

Social Movement Research Jacqueliën van Stekelenburg, Conny Roggeband, Bert Klandermans, 2013-07-01 Are the dynamics of contention changing This is the question confronted by the contributors of this volume among the most influential scholars in the field of social movements The answers arriving at a time of extraordinary worldwide turmoil not only provide a wide ranging and varied understanding of how social movements arise and persist but also engender unanswered questions pointing to new theoretical strands and fields of research The Future of Social Movement Research asks How are the dynamics of contention shaped by globalization By societies that are becoming increasingly more individualized and diverse By the spread of new communication technologies such as social media cell phones and the Internet Why do some movements survive while others dissipate Do local and global networks differ in nature The authors essays explore such questions with reference to changes in three domains of contention the demand of protest changes in grievances and identities the supply of protest changes in organizations and networks and how these changes affect the dynamics of mobilization In doing so they theorize and make empirically insightful how globalization individualization and virtualization create new grievances new venues for action new action forms and new structures of contention The resulting work brought together through engaging discussions and debates between the contributors is interdisciplinary and unusually broad in scope constituting the most comprehensive overview of the dynamics of social movements available today
