

Super Simple Research Paper

*The research and writing process takes time. Expect to skim 5-10 resources (websites, databases, books, etc.) before selecting one you will use. Once you select a resource, plan to read all or most of it to select portions that will support your research. A research project involves doing, um, research.

- Step 1 – Select a topic. Make sure you are interested. You don't want to spend days (weeks?) working on a topic you find boring. Make sure you can find enough information to support your topic. If not, pick a new topic.
- Step 2 – Think about what your topic is, who you are writing for (do they know anything about your topic?), your writing style, and purpose. Is the purpose of your paper to persuade (argue a viewpoint or convince others your viewpoint is correct), summarize, evaluate (give criteria and determine if something meets it), analyze, or investigate (research a topic to find little-known facts without bias)?
- Step 3 – Write a research question. Once you have selected your topic and determined your purpose, do some preliminary research. This is when you can use Wikipedia to find out enough about your topic that you can ask a question. Your research question helps to focus your topic. It should not be too broad. Your question can ask "How?" "What?" or "Why?"
- Step 4 – Write a thesis statement. A thesis statement usually appears at the end of your first paragraph and tells the reader what your paper will be about. You can adjust your thesis statement as you write your paper if your focus changes.
- Step 5 – Find your first source. Before you start looking, decide what kind of information you need – facts, opinions, news reports, research studies, history. Decide what kind of sources would most likely have what you are looking for – books, websites, databases, newspaper articles, primary sources. Remember that websites do not contain all of the knowledge in the world. There is a lot of information hidden in online databases, books and other sources. A Google search will not return this information.

How do I know if I am using a Website or a Database?

The school library purchases databases. They can be accessed through the library web page with a password. A database is an organized collection of information. The information is usually scholarly and authoritative. The search results can be filtered to get the exact information you are looking for.

Open Access Neil Jacobs,2006-07-31 This book brings together many of the worlds leading open access experts to provide an analysis of the key strategic technical and economic aspects on the topic of open access Open access to research papers is perhaps a defining debate for publishers librarians university managers and many researchers within the international academic community Starting with a description of the current situation and its shortcomings this book then defines the varieties of open access and addresses some of the many misunderstandings to which the term sometimes gives rise There are chapters on the technologies involved researchers perspectives and the business models of key players These issues are then illustrated in a series of case studies from around the world including the USA UK Netherlands Australia and India Open access is a far reaching shift in scholarly communication and the book concludes by going beyond todays debate and looking at the kind of research world that would be possible with open access to research outputs Chapters by leading experts in the field including Professor Jean Claude Gu n Clifford Lynch Stevan Harnad Peter Suber Charles Bailey Jr Alma Swan Fred Friend John Shipp and Leo Waaijers Discussion of open access from a wide range of perspectives Country case studies summarising open access in the USA UK Netherlands Australia and India Scientific American ,1923 The Clay-worker ,1927 Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1987 Biodiversity Conservation in Costa Rica

Gordon W. Frankie,Alfonso Mata,S. Bradleigh Vinson,2025-03-21 The beautiful tropical dry forest of northwest Costa Rica with its highly seasonal rainfall and diversely vegetated landscape is disappearing even more rapidly than Costa Rica s better known rain forest primarily because it has been easier to convert to agriculture This book based on more than thirty years of study offers the first comprehensive look at the ecology biodiversity and conservation status of this endangered and fragile region The contributors from Costa Rica Britain Mexico and the United States and representing the fields of ecology environmental education policy and the law examine the major plant and animal groups living in the dry forest and present the first technical evaluation of Costa Rica s conservation efforts As they assess the status of their area of specialty in the dry forest the contributors also look beyond this particular region to show how its plants and animals are ecologically and evolutionarily connected to other geographic areas in Costa Rica and Central America Their chapters cover topics such as watershed and coastal management plant phenology pollination insects birds mammals amphibians and reptiles They also consider the socioeconomic policy legal and political aspects of biodiversity conservation giving the volume a wide ranging perspective and making a unique contribution to our knowledge of the tropical dry forest The book concludes with an important synthesis of the contributors recommendations on future directions policies and actions that will better conserve biodiversity in Costa Rica and other neotropical forests as well This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 2005 The Poland China Journal ,1919 Labor-federal Security Appropriation Bill, 1948 United States.
