Os Maias:

The Maias Eça de Queirós, 1965 Interiors and Narrative Estela Vieira, 2012-12-17 Interiors and Narrative shows how crucial interiors are for our understanding of the nature of narrative. A growing cultural fascination with interior dwelling so prevalent in the late nineteenth century parallels an intensification of the rhetorical function interior architecture plays in the development of fiction. The existential dimension of dwelling becomes so intimately tied to the novelistic project that fiction surfaces as a way of inhabiting the world. This study illustrates this through a comparative reading of three realist masterpieces of the Luso Hispanic nineteenth century: Machado de Assis's Quincas Borba (1891), Eça de Queirós's The Maias (1888) and Leopoldo Alas's La Regenta (1884-1885). The first full-length study to juxtapose the renowned writers, Interiors and Narrative analyzes the authors' spatial poetics while offering new readings of their work. The book explores the important links between interiors and narrative by explaining how rooms, furnishings, and homes function as metaphors for the writing of the narrative, reflecting on the complex relation between private dwellings and human interiority and arguing that the interior design of rooms becomes a language that gives furnishings and decorative objects a narrative life of their own. The story of homes and furnishings in these narratives creates a semiotic language that both readers and characters rely on in order to make sense of fiction and reality.

How to Show Things with Words Rui Linhares-Dias, 2011-05-03 How to Show Things with Words is an interdisciplinary research study at the interface between linguistics and philosophy which sheds new light on the narrative theoretical issue of proximal vs. distal stance adoption in discourse. Narrative distance ultimately depends on the epistemological source of the information conveyed, but English and other Indo-European languages have no inflectional systems for encoding that source of knowledge. To fill in the gap, speech act theory is reconsidered in the light of philosophical research on linguistic functions, and a parallel is drawn between grammaticalized evidential categories and the objectifying acts of Husserl's phenomenology of constitution. These intuitive vs. signitive intentional acts do indeed roughly correspond to direct vs. indirect evidentiary forms and can be inferred from the temporal perspectival organization of discourse by the so-called intimation or announcement function of language systems. It turns out that perspectival immediacy requires tenses with overlapping event and reference points, but predictions of the sort are non-monotonic forms of reasoning defeasible by quantificational aspect distinctions on the one hand and inherent meaning considerations on the other. To substantiate this claim, the bulk of the book provides an in-depth formal semantic account of tense aspect and Aktionsart interwoven with a detailed analysis of the cognitive processes associated with eventuality description types. The book addresses an audience of linguists in general, formal semanticists, cognitive scientists, philosophers, and narratologists with an interest in natural language semantics.

Eça de Queiroz Maria Filomena Mónica, 2005 The first literary biography in English of Eça de Queiroz, the Portuguese Dickens, Genealogical Fictions Jobst Welge, 2015-02-16 Moving through time, he uncovers often unsuspected novelistic continuities and international transformations and echoes from Maria

Edgeworth's Castle Rackrent published in 1800 to G. Tomasi di Lampedusa's 1958 book Il Gattopardo. By revealing the family resemblance of novels from Great Britain, Italy, Spain, Portugal, and Brazil, this volume shows how genealogical narratives take on special significance in contexts of cultural periphery. Welge links private and public histories while simultaneously integrating detailed accounts of various literary fields across the globe. In combining theories of the novel, recent discussions of cultural geography, and new approaches to genealogical narratives, Genealogical Fictions addresses a significant part of European and Latin American literary history in which texts from different national cultures illuminate each other in unsuspected ways and reveal the repetition as well as the variation among them.

Natural Language Processing and Information Systems Gosse Bouma, Ashwin Ittoo, Elisabeth Métais, Hans Wortmann, 2012-06-22 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 17th International Conference on Applications of Natural Language to Information Systems held in Groningen, The Netherlands, in June 2012. The 12 full papers, 24 short papers, and 16 poster papers presented in this volume, together with a full paper length invited talk, were carefully reviewed and selected from 90 submissions. The rapidly evolving state of the art in NLP and the shifting interest to applications targeting document and data collections available on the Web, including an increasing amount of user-generated content, is reflected in the contributions to this book. Topics covered are information retrieval, text classification and clustering, summarization, normalization of user-generated content, forensic NLP, ontologies, and natural language sentiment analysis, question answering, and information extraction, terminology, and named entity recognition, and NLP tools development.

Otherness in Literary and Intercultural Communication Cândido Oliveira Martins, Carmen Ramos Villar, Michela Graziani, 2024-10-15 Looking at both Lusophone literature and literatures from around the globe from the perspective of intercultural communication, this book addresses post-colonial literature, intercultural negotiations, and how multicultural debates are reflected in literary production. Topics addressed include mobility and its effects, be it through work, business, leisure, travel, or study; contact between countries, even within the boundaries of the country itself; migration or exile, be it by choice or by force. As a whole, the volume provides a comparative study of representations of intercultural communication in literature. The volume conceives literature broadly to include both traditional fictional and non-fictional prose and more recent genres like social media posts.
