Quicksand Plot:

Losing the Plot Pardis Dabashi, 2023-11-06 An examination of the relationship between literature and classical Hollywood cinema reveals a profound longing for plot in modernist fiction The modernist novel sought to escape what Virginia Woolf called the tyranny of plot Yet even as twentieth century writers pushed against the constraints of plot driven Victorian novels plot kept its hold on them through the influence of another medium the cinema Focusing on the novels of Nella Larsen Djuna Barnes and William Faulkner writers known for their affinities and connections to classical Hollywood Pardis Dabashi links the moviegoing practices of these writers to the tensions between the formal properties of their novels and the characters in them Even when they did not feature outright happy endings classical Hollywood films often provided satisfying formal resolutions and promoted normative social and political values Watching these films modernist authors were reminded of what they were leaving behind both formally and in the name of aesthetic experimentalism by losing the plot

Heterosexual Plots and Lesbian Narratives Marilyn Farwell, 1996-01-01 What is lesbian literature Must it contain overtly lesbian characters and portray them in a positive light Must the author be overtly or covertly lesbian Does there have to be a lesbian theme and must it be politically acceptable Marilyn Farwell here examines the work of such writers as Adrienne Rich Marion Zimmer Bradley Jeanette Winterson Gloria Naylor and Marilyn Hacker to address these questions Dividing their writings into two genres the romantic story and the heroic or quest story Farwell addresses some of the most problematic issues at the intersection of literature sex gender and postmodernism Illustrating how the generational conflict between the lesbian feminists of twenty years ago and the queer theorists of today stokes the critical fires of contemporary lesbian and literary theory Heterosexual Plots and Lesbian Narratives concludes by arguing for a broad and generous definition of lesbian writing

Mothering the Race Allison Berg, 2002 Maternal metaphors articulating gender race and nation at the turn of the century Reconstructing motherhood Pauline Hopkins's Contending Forces and the rhetoric of racial uplift The romance plot reproducing silence reinscribing race in The Awakening and Summer Hard Labor Edith Summers Kelley's Weeds and the language of eugenics Fatal contractions Nella Larsen's Quicksand and the new Negro mother Epilogue representing motherhood at century's end

From Slave Cabins to the White House Koritha Mitchell, 2020-08-31 Koritha Mitchell analyzes canonical texts by and about African American women to lay bare the hostility these women face as they invest in traditional domesticity Instead of the respectability and safety granted white homemakers black women endure pejorative labels racist governmental policies attacks on their citizenship and aggression meant to keep them in their place Tracing how African Americans define and redefine success in a nation determined to deprive them of it Mitchell plumbs the works of Frances Harper Zora Neale Hurston Lorraine Hansberry Toni Morrison Michelle Obama and others These artists honor black homes from slavery and post emancipation through the Civil Rights era to post racial America Mitchell follows black families asserting their citizenship in domestic settings while the larger society and culture

marginalize and attack them not because they are deviants or failures but because they meet American standards Powerful and provocative From Slave Cabins to the White House illuminates the links between African American women s homemaking and citizenship in history and across literature Psychoanalysis and Black Novels Claudia Tate,1998-02-12 Although psychoanalytic theory is one of the most important and influential tools in contemporary literary criticism to date it has had very little impact on the study of African American literature and culture Now Claudia Tate argues that psycholanalytic paradigms can produce rich readings of African American desire alienation and subjectivity Tate summarizes the work of such figures as Freud and Lacan with references to their contemporary literary proponents and examines a series of texts by Emma Kelly W E B Du Bois Richard Wright Zora Neale Hurston and Nella Larsen This provocative new book will serve as an introduction to psychoanalytic theory and its application for African American literature and culture Tate strikes uncharted territory and her work will be of great interest to scholars and students in African American studies The Kindness of Strangers John Boswell,1998-11 Using a wide variety of sources John Boswell examines the evidence that parents of all classes gave up unwanted children exposing them in public places donating them to the church or delivering them in later centuries to foundling hospitals He shows what happened to these children and he illuminates the moral codes that condoned abandonment Best White Rebecca Davis,2015-05-01 Rebecca Davis has been described as one of the funniest writers in South Africa today Her razor sharp wit combines with her acute powers of observation to produce social and political commentary that will have you in stitches even as it informs and provokes you to think seriously about the topics she discusses In Best White Davis offers advice on life s tricky issues discusses the perils of being a Best White laments the fact that society does not have a universally adopted form of greeting such as the high five explores the intricacies of social media and internet dating considers the future of reading and tackles a range of controversial topics in between In Search of Nella Larsen George Hutchinson,2009-07-01 Born to a Danish seamstress and a West Indian cook Larsen lived her life in the shadows of America s racial divide Hutchinson exposes the truths and half truths surrounding her and the complex reality they mask and mirror His book is a cultural biography of the color line as lived by a person who embodied all its ambiguities and complexities Ugly Feelings Sianne Ngai,2009-07-01 Ngai mobilizes the aesthetics of unprestigious negative affects such as irritation envy and disgust to investigate not only ideological and representational dilemmas in literature with a particular focus on those inflected by gender and race but also blind spots in contemporary literary and cultural criticism Nella Larsen - African-American Artist of the Harlem Renaissance Kathrin Haubold,2003-08-27 Seminar paper from the year 2002 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 1 A University of Frankfurt Main Institute for England and American Studies course Harlem Renaissance language English abstract This seminar paper will sketch some of the elements of the cultural Zeitgeist that shaped and was reflected in Nella Larsen s writings But it will concentrate on the novels that she left behind Quicksand and Passing An important topic Larsen is dealing with is race identity Larsen assimilates these themes in her two novels not by representing the lower class problem but more by focusing on the life and problems of middle class females. It is more the psychological than the sociological side she portrays. This paper demonstrates that race identity and race dualism reflects Larsen's own life story. First, I will give an introduction on the Harlem Renaissance era. Then, I will focus on Nella Larsen's life. I will examine her two novels, Quicksand and Passing, to find out how race identity and race dualism is assimilated in her novels.
