Race And Affluence An Archaeology Of African America And Consumer Culture

Paul R. Mullins

Race And Affluence An Archaeology Of African America And Consumer Culture:

Race and Affluence Paul R. Mullins, 2005-12-02 An archaeological analysis of the centrality of race and racism in American culture Using a broad range of material historical and ethnographic resources from Annapolis Maryland during the period 1850 to 1930 the author probes distinctive African American consumption patterns and examines how those patterns resisted the racist assumptions of the dominant culture while also attempting to demonstrate African Americans suitability to full citizenship privileges

Race and Practice in Archaeological Interpretation Charles E. Orser, Jr., 2013-04-19 Scholars who investigate race a label based upon real or perceived physical differences realize that they face a formidable task The concept has been contested and condoned debated and denied throughout modern history Presented with the full understanding of the complexity of the issue Race and Practice in Archaeological Interpretation concentrates on the archaeological analysis of race and how race is determined in the archaeological record Most archaeologists even those dealing with recent history have usually avoided the subject of race yet Charles E Orser Jr contends that its study and its implications are extremely important for the science of archaeology Drawing upon his considerable experience as an archaeologist and using a combination of practice theory as interpreted by Pierre Bourdieu and spatial theory as presented by Henri Lefebvre Orser argues for an explicit archaeology of race and its interpretation The author reviews past archaeological usages of race including a case study from early nineteenth century Ireland and explores the way race was used to form ideas about the Mound Builders the Celts and Atlantis He concludes with a proposal that historical archaeology cast as modern world archaeology should take the lead in the archaeological analysis of race because its purview is the recent past that period during which our conceptions of race developed

The Archaeology of Consumer Culture Paul R. Mullins, 2012 Mullins has provided us a much needed overview of the many ways that historical archaeologists in America have engaged the subject of consumption He engages in a thoughtful conversation with a wide range of scholars at once demonstrating historical archaeology's value to those outside of historical archaeology while also making connections raising questions and offering caveats for historical archaeologists to consider in future studies of the subject Hadley Kruczek Aaron coauthor of Investigations at a Nineteenth Century Shaker Outfamily Farm in Ashburnham Massachusetts Americans have long identified themselves with material goods In this study Paul Mullins sifts through this continent's historical archaeological record to trace the evolution of North American consumer culture He explores the social and economic dynamics that have shaped American capitalism from the rise of mass production techniques of the eighteenth century to the unparalleled dominance of twentieth century mass consumer culture The last half millennium has witnessed profound change in the face of a worldwide consumer revolution that has transformed labor relations marketing and household materialism This pathbreaking research into consumption examines the concrete evidence of the transformation in individual households across lines of difference and over time Mullins builds a case for how interdisciplinary scholarship and archaeology together provide a foundation for a rigorous sophisticated and challenging vision of consumption Given that the material culture so often encountered by historical archaeologists speaks to the consumption patterns of past peoples it is an essential and overdue addition to the historical archaeologist s canon Paul R Mullins professor of anthropology at Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis is the author of Race and Affluence An Archaeology of African America and Consumer Culture and Glazed America A History of the Doughnut The Archaeology of Contemporary America William R. Caraher,2024-03-05 This book provides a survey of contemporary archaeology in the United States demonstrating the plurality of theoretical and methodological approaches that make this discipline in the US unique Critical Rhetorics of Race Kent A. Ono,2011-07-11 According to many pundits and cultural commentators the U S is enjoying a post racial age thanks in part to Barack Obama s rise to the presidency This high gloss of optimism fails however to recognize that racism remains ever present and alive spread by channels of media and circulated even in colloquial speech in ways that can be difficult to analyze In this groundbreaking collection edited by Michael G Lacy and Kent A Ono scholars seek to examine this complicated and contradictory terrain while moving the field of communication in a more intellectually productive direction An outstanding group of contributors from a range of academic backgrounds challenges traditional definitions and applications of rhetoric From the troubling media representations of black looters after Hurricane Katrina and rhetoric in news coverage about the Columbine and Virginia Tech massacres to cinematic representations of race in Crash Blood Diamond and Quentin Tarantino s films these essays reveal complex intersections and constructions of racialized bodies and discourses critiquing race in innovative and exciting ways Critical Rhetorics of Race seeks not only to understand and navigate a world fraught with racism but to change it one word at a time Ethnic Ambiguity and the African Past Francois G Richard, Kevin C MacDonald,2016-07 Authors engage with contemporary anthropological historical and archaeological perspectives to examine how ideas of self understanding belonging and difference in ancient Africa were made and unmade in their intersection with other salient domains of social experience states landscapes discourses memory technology politics and power Handbook of Postcolonial Archaeology Jane Lydon, Uzma Z Rizvi,2016-07-01 This essential handbook explores the relationship between the postcolonial critique and the field of archaeology a discipline that developed historically in conjunction with European colonialism and imperialism In aiding the movement to decolonize the profession the contributors to this volume themselves from six continents and many representing indigenous and minority communities and disadvantaged countries suggest strategies to strip archaeological theory and practice of its colonial heritage and create a discipline sensitive to its inherent inequalities Summary articles review the emergence of the discipline of archaeology in conjunction with colonialism critique the colonial legacy evident in continuing archaeological practice around the world identify current trends and chart future directions in postcolonial archaeological research Contributors provide a synthesis of research thought and practice on their topic The articles embrace multiple voices and case study approaches and have consciously aimed to recognize the utility of comparative work and interdisciplinary approaches to understanding the past This is a benchmark volume for the study of the contemporary politics practice and ethics of archaeology Sponsored by the World Archaeological Congress Atlantic Crossing in the Wake of Frederick Douglass Mark Leone, 2017-03-06 Atlantic Crossings in the Wake of Frederick Douglass takes its bearings from the Maryland born former slave Frederick Douglass's 1845 sojourn in Ireland and Britain a voyage that is understood in editors Mark P Leone and Lee M Jenkins collection as paradigmatic of the crossings between American African American and Irish historical experience and culture with which the collection as a whole is concerned In crossing the Atlantic Douglass also completed his journey from slavery to freedom and from political and cultural marginality into subjective and creative autonomy Atlantic Crossings traces the stages of that journey in chapters on literature archaeology and spatial culture that consider both roots and routes landscapes of New World slavery subordination and state sponsored surveillance and narratives of resistance liberation and intercultural exchange generated by transatlantic connectivities and the transnational transfer of ideas Contributors Lee M Jenkins Mark P Leone Katie Ahern Miranda Corcoran Ann Coughlan Kathryn H Deeley Adam Fracchia Mary Furlong Minkoff Tracy H Jenkins Dan O'Brien Eoin O'Callaghan Elizabeth Pruitt Benjamin A Skolnik and Stefan Woehlke Building Houses Out of Chicken Legs Psyche A. Williams-Forsyth, 2006 Chicken both the bird and the food has played multiple roles in the lives of African American women from the slavery era to the present It has provided food and a source of income for their families shaped a distinctive culture and helped women define This Is Our Home Whitney Nell Stewart, 2023-11-14 The cultural memory of plantations in the Old South has long been clouded by myth A recent reckoning with the centrality of slavery to the US national story however has shifted the meaning of these sites Plantations are no longer simply seen as places of beauty and grandiose hospitality their reality as spaces of enslavement exploitation and violence is increasingly at the forefront of our scholarly and public narratives Yet even this reckoning obscures what these sites meant to so many forced to live and labor on them plantations were Black homes as much as white Insightfully reading the built environment of plantations considering artifact fragments found in excavations of slave dwellings and drawing on legal records and plantation owners papers Whitney Nell Stewart illuminates how enslaved people struggled to make home amid innumerable constraints and obstacles imposed by white southerners By exploring the material remnants of the past Stewart demonstrates how homemaking was a crucial part of the battle over slavery and freedom a fight that continues today in consequential confrontations over who has the right to call this nation home
