Race Class And Gender In Exclusion From School:

"Race," Class, and Gender in Exclusion from School Cecile Wright, Debbie Weekes-Bernard, Alex McGlaughlin, 2000
This book explores the impact of race class and gender on the interaction of pupils and their teachers in the classroom setting It seeks to examine the extent to which these variables can account for differential rates of school exclusion between pupils from different ethnic racial groups socio economic classes and genders 'Race', Class and Gender in Exclusion From School Alex McGlaughlin, Debbie Weekes, Cecile Wright, 2002-11 First published in 1999 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Social Class, Gender and Exclusion from School Jean Kane, 2013-10-14 Rising exclusion rates indicate the continuing marginalisation of many young people in education in the UK Working class boys children living in poverty and children with additional special educational needs are among those experiencing a disproportionate rate of exclusion This book traces the processes of exclusion and alienation from school and relates this to a changing social and economic context Jean Kane argues that policy on schooling including curricular reform needs to be re connected to the broad political pursuit of social justice and presents compelling case studies of excluded pupils showing the multi faceted identities of pupils with a particular focus on masculine and feminine identities This invaluable contribution to the literature offers an alternative analysis where the social identities of pupils are shown to be tied up with their exclusion from school Themes investigated include the meanings of school exclusions social class gender and schooling social identities of excluded pupils negotiating identities in school moving towards exclusion exclusions and young people s lives improving participation in schooling Providing fascinating reading for teachers social workers researchers and policy makers this book considers how educational disadvantage might be addressed through recognition of the gender and class identities of pupils

School's Out Catherine Connell, 2014-11-14 How do gay and lesbian teachers negotiate their professional and sexual identities at work given that these identities are constructed as mutually exclusive even as mutually opposed Using interviews and other ethnographic materials from Texas and California School s Out explores how teachers struggle to create a classroom persona that balances who they are and what s expected of them in a climate of pervasive homophobia Catherine Connell s examination of the tension between the rhetoric of gay pride and the professional ethic of discretion insightfully connects and considers complicating factors from local law and politics to gender privilege She also describes how racialized discourses of homophobia thwart challenges to sexual injustices in schools Written with ethnographic verve School s Out is essential reading for specialists and students of queer studies gender studies and educational politics

Exclusion From School Eric Blyth, Judith Milner, 2002-05-03 The number of pupils excluded from school has risen sharply over the past few years To a great extent this can be directly attributed to the increased competition between schools following the introduction of the 1988 Education Reform Act Many schools are concerned that children with behavioural problems will damage the image of the school and so can be reluctant to admit these pupils to the classroom However little has been done to follow up what happens to these pupils once they have been excluded from school or to examine ways in which their exclusion might be prevented This collection written from a range of professional perspectives examines current trends in exclusion including the consequences of exclusion It also gives practical guidance on preventative strategies based on real life experiences and examines how professionals such as teachers social workers and other support agencies can work together to help to avoid exclusion

Educational Diversity Y. Taylor, 2012-09-26 This collection explores the relationship between new equality regimes and continued societal inequalities exploring change ambivalence and resistance specifically in relation to compulsory and post compulsory education seeking to more fully situate the educational journeys and experiences of staff and students
