Pliocene Record In Deep Sea Mediterranean:

Initial Reports of the Deep Sea Drilling Project Scripps Institution of Oceanography, 1969 Proceedings of the Ocean Drilling Program Ocean Drilling Program, 1996 Vol 174AX bound with Proceedings of the Ocean Drilling Program Scientific results Vol 174A Ecosystem Dynamics in a Polar Desert, 1998 Presents information from the primary abiotic forces defining the system and from the present hydrology biogeochemistry and physics of major sites of organic carbon production of the McMurdo Dry Valleys Additionally research on the physical chemical and biological properties of the dry valley soils is included The role of environmental management in long term ecological studies is also addressed The accompanying CDROM provides details and scale to visualize the McMurdo Dry Valleys from an ecosystem perspective Initial Reports of the Deep Sea Drilling Project Scripps Institution of Oceanography, 1969 Geological Evolution of the Mediterranean Basin Daniel J. Stanley, Forese-Carlo Wezel, 2012-12-06 The Mediterranean Sea nestled between Africa southern Europe and the Middle East may be envisioned as a complex picture puzzle comprising numerous intricate pieces many of which are already in place A general image in terms of science has emerged although at this time large gaps are noted and some areas of the picture remain fuzzy and indistinct In recent years this fascinating mind teasing puzzle image has become clearer with individual pieces more easily recognized and rapidly emplaced largely by means of multidisciplinary and multinational team efforts In this respect the Special Program Panel on Marine Sciences of the NATO Scientific Affairs Division considered the merits of initiating four conferences bearing on the Mediterranean ecosystem It was suggested that the first emphasizing geology should dovetail with subsequent seminars on physical oceanography marine biology and ecology and man's influence on the natural Mediterranean regime At a conference held in Banyuls sur Mer France in August 1979 Professor Raimondo Selli was urged by some panel members to initiate an Advanced Research Institute ARI that would focus primarily on the geologically recent evolution of the Mediterranean Sea and serve as a logical base for future NATO conferences on the Mediterranean Cold-Water Corals and Ecosystems André Freiwald, J. Murray Roberts, 2006-01-17 Following the exciting exploration of hot vent and cold seep ecosystems the rediscovery of cold water coral ecosystems with high technology instrumentation is currently another hot topic in multidisciplinary marine research Conventionally coral reefs are regarded as restricted to warm and well illuminated tropical seas not associated with cold and dark waters of higher latitudes However ongoing scientific missions have shed light on the global significance of this overlooked ecosystem Cold water coral ecosystems are involved in the formation of large seabed structures such as reefs and giant carbonate mounds and they represent unexploited paleo environmental archives of earth history Like their tropical cousins cold water coral ecosystems harbour rich species diversity Despite the great water depths commercial interests overlap more and more with the coral occurrences Human activities already impinge directly on cold water coral reefs causing severe damage to this vulnerable ecosystem In this volume the current key institutions involved in cold water coral research have contributed 62 state of the art articles from geology and oceanography to biology and conservation Initial Reports of the Deep Sea Drilling Project ,1984 Global Palaeoclimate of the Late Cenozoic V.A. Zubakov,I.I. Borzenkova,1990-03-20 This is a detailed description of the history and chronology of global climate based on event signal stratigraphy The history of global climate is described for the last fifty million years with the description for the last one million years in detail

Climatostratigraphic sequences of twelve key regions are taken as a basis eight of them situated in the USSR territories Chronology of climatic events of the Pleistocene Pliocene and Miocene is developed based on palaeomagnetic and radiometric data The authors version of its correlation with oxygen isotope scales of deep sea sediments is given Theoretical problems of climatic stratigraphy and palaeoclimatology are discussed in particular the causes of climatic change The Northern Hemisphere palaeoclimatic reconstructions are made for the Holocene Eemian and Pliocene temperature optima considered as possible palaeoanalogues of climate of the 21st Century The book is intended primarily for a wide circle of scientific workers palaeoclimatologists and palaeogeographers but will also interest geologists biologists palaeomagnetologists and archaeologists Magnetic Methods and the Timing of Geological Processes Luigi Jovane,Emilio Herrero-Bervera,Linda Alide Hinnov,Bernard Arthur Housen,2013 Magnetostratigraphy is best known as a technique that employs correlation among different stratigraphic sections using the magnetic directions defining geomagnetic polarity reversals as marker horizons The ages of the polarity reversals provide common tie points among the sections allowing accurate time correlation Recently studies of magnetic methods and the timing of geological processes have acquired a broader meaning now referring to many types of magnetic measurements within a stratigraphic sequence Many of these measurements provide correlation and age control not only for the older and younger boundaries of a polarity interval but also within intervals Thus magnetostratigraphy no longer represents a dating tool based only on geomagnetic polarity reversals but comprises a set of techniques that includes measurements of geomagnetic field parameters environmental magnetism rock magnetic properties radiometric dating and astronomically forced palaeoclimatic change recorded in sedimentary rocks and key corrections to magnetic directions related to geodynamics palaeocurrents tectonics and diagenetic processes The Mediterranean Sea in the Era of Global Change 1 Christophe Mignon,Paul Nival,Antoine Sciandra,2020-02-19 Due to its particular characteristics the Mediterranean Sea is often viewed as a microcosm of the World Ocean Its proportionally reduced dimensions and peculiar hydrological circulation render it susceptible to environmental and climatic constraints which are rapidly evolving The Mediterranean is therefore an ideal site to examine in order to better understand a number of key oceanographic phenomena This is especially true of the Ligurian Sea where due to its geology oceanic conditions are found close to the coast As such 30 years ago an offshore time series site provided a fresh impetus to a long history of marine biology research which has generated a very important body of data and knowledge This is the first volume in a two volume series that summarizes this research Across these two books the reader will find 13 chapters that examine the geology physics chemistry and biology of the Ligurian Sea always with the goal of providing key elements of oceanography in a changing world Geological Structure of the Northeastern Mediterranean Valerii Arkad'evich Krashennnikov, John Kendrick Hall, 1994 Miocene Stratigraphy A. Montanari, R. Coccioni, G.S. Odin, 1997-06-18 Integrated stratigraphy is essential for detailed paleoecologic studies of critical intervals in Earth history the calibration of the time scale for global use the establishment of Global Stratotype Sections and Points GSSPs for the definition of chronostratigraphic boundaries This book constitutes an excellent and probably unique example of how interdisciplinary stratigraphic and geochronologic studies are approached with modern methodologies and techniques It contains numerous unpublished accurate radioisotopic dates of volcano sedimentary layers interbedded in fossiliferous marine and continental Miocene sequences representing Mediterranean and Pacific environments New extremely detailed paleontologic data which constitute the basis for an accurate definition of the Miocene biostratigraphy and the study of the ecologic evolution of Miocene marine environments are also included The chapters are complimented by black and white photographs graphic figures and tables Stratigraphers paleontologists and sedimentologists plus geologists working in oil companies will certainly find this work of interest Paleoecology of Late Miocene Mediterranean Foraminifera G. J. van der Zwaan, 1982

Plankton Stratigraphy: Volume 1, Planktic Foraminifera, Calcareous Nannofossils and Calpionellids Hans M. Bolli, John B. Saunders, Katharina Perch-Nielsen, 1989-05-25 This comprehensive synthesis of our knowledge of the biostratigraphy of marine plankton is the work of an international team of eighteen authors It covers all the major fossil groups that can be used to date sediments and rocks in the time interval Late Mesozoic to Holocene Altogether more than 3200 taxa are considered almost all of which are illustrated and depicted on range charts making the book a valuable work of reference in the earth sciences For ease of reference by specialists interested in either calcareous or non calcareous microfossils the original work is now divided into two independent volumes Volume I covers the calcareous microfossils and includes planktic foraminifers calcareous nannofossils and calpionellids The Mediterranean Sea Stefano Goffredo, Zvy Dubinsky, 2013-09-09 This volume is an indispensable addition to the multidisciplinary coverage of the science of the Mediterranean Sea The editors have gathered leading authorities from the fields of Marine Biology Ecology paleoclimatology Chemical and Physical Oceanography Zoology Botany Aquatic Photosynthesis Socioeconomics Mariculture Mediterranean History and Science of Humanity Beginning with the birth of the Mediterranean Sea and its myths From coral to fish an introduction is given to its major inhabitants of plants and animals past and present The chapters illustrate how organisms interact as part of the structure and function of the Sea s main ecosystems The rise of the Mediterranean as the cradle of the Western Civilization leads to a discourse on the status of human interaction with the sea Accelerating global climate change water warming ocean acidification and sea level rise and analyses of their effects on key organisms entire ecosystems and human socioeconomics are given Forecasting and predictions are presented taking into account different future scenarios from the IPCC

International Panel on Climate Change The volume is richly illustrated in color with an extensive bibliography A valuable addition to the limited literature in the field offering up to date broad coverage merging science and humanities The Climate of the Mediterranean Region P. Lionello, 2012-04-19 The Mediterranean region contains a diverse and interesting climate ranging from areas with permanent glaciers to areas of subtropical semiarid regions The region is potentially sensitive to climate change and its progress has environmental social and economic implications within and beyond the region Produced by the Mediterranean Climate Variability and Predictability Research Networking Project this book reviews the evolution of the Mediterranean climate over the past two millennia with projections further into the twenty first century as well as examining in detail various aspects of the Mediterranean region s climate including evolution atmospheric variables and oceanic and land elements Integrated with this the book also considers the social and economic problems or vulnerabilities associated with the region Written and reviewed by multiple researchers to ensure a high level of information presented clearly Mediterranean Climate Variables will be an invaluable source of information for geologists oceanographers and anyone interested in learning more about the Mediterranean climate Written by leading experts in the field Presents clear compelling and concise evidence Includes the latest thinking in Mediterranean climate research Rapports Et Procès-verbaux Des Réunions Commission Internationale Pour L'Exploration Scientifique de la Mer Méditerranée International Commission for the Scientific Exploration of the Mediterranean Sea, 1975 Sea-floor Distribution and Late Quaternary Faunal Patterns of Planktonic and Benthic Foraminifers in the Angola Basin R.
