"RACE" PANIC AND THE MEMORY OF MIGRATION

Edited by Meaghan Morris and Brett de Bary

"The idea of an Asian-based series that speaks to the international community of cultural studies, and that would be published simultaneously in multiple languages, is quite simply the most interesting development in cultural studies of the past decade."

— Lawrence Grossberg,
North Davis Professor of Communication Studies and Cultural Studies, University of North Carolina and Editor, Cultural Studies

Race Panic And The Memory Of Migration:

Traces 2 Meaghan Morris, Brett De Bary, 2001-01-01 This book explores complex relations between violence historical memory and the production of ethnicity and race Some essays analyze the panicked othering that has led to violence against Chinese Indonesians and to the little known massacres of Hui Muslims in nineteenth century China and of Cheju Islanders in Korea in 1948

History, Memory and Migration Irial Glynn, 2012-05-04 By conversing with the main bodies of relevant literature from Migration Studies and Memory Studies this overview highlights how analysing memories can contribute to a better understanding of the complexities of migrant incorporation The chapters consider international case studies from Europe North America Australia Asia and the Middle East

The Irregularization of Migration in Contemporary Europe Yolande Jansen, Robin Celikates, Joost de Bloois, 2014-12-12 Working from an interdisciplinary perspective that draws on the social sciences legal studies and the humanities this book investigates the causes and effects of the extremities experienced by migrants Firstly the volume analyses the development and political cultural conditions of current practices and discourses of bordering illegality and irregularization Secondly it focuses on the varieties of irregularization and on the diversity of the fields techniques and effects involved in this variegation Thirdly the book examines examples of resistance that migrants and migratory cultures have developed in order to deal with the predicaments they face The book uses the European Union as its case study exploring practices and discourses of bordering border control and migration regulation But the significance of this field extends well beyond the European context as the monitoring of Europe's borders increasingly takes place on a global scale and reflects an internationally increasing trend

Globalization, Migration and Social Transformation Bryan Fanning, Ronaldo Munck, 2016-04-22 In the space of around ten years Ireland went from being a traditional labour exporter to a leading European economy and thus an attractive destination for immigrants from Eastern Europe and further afield This produced a singular social laboratory which this book explores in all its complexity set against the backdrop of globalization Until recently seen as a showcase for the success of globalization Ireland also became a destination for those displaced by the effects of globalization elsewhere Globalization Migration and Social Transformation takes Ireland as a paradigmatic case of social transformation exploring the reasons why emigration was so rapidly replaced by immigration along with the social political cultural and economic effects of this shift Presenting the latest research around the themes of identity social transformations and EU and Irish politics and policy this book offers a rich array of detailed empirical case studies drawn from Ireland which shed light on the experiences of immigrant groups from around the world and the wider processes of social transformation In addition it examines the manner in which the Irish state and the broader political system relate to new migrants and vice versa thus advancing our comparative understanding of how the European Union is responding to the challenge of mass migration Globalization Migration and Social Transformation makes a strong contribution to the comparative literature on immigration and integration diaspora and social transformation in the era of globalization and as such it will appeal to social scientists with interests in migration race and ethnicity globalization and Irish studies

Memory, Reconciliation, and Reunions in South Korea Nan Kim, 2016-10-31 Winner of the 2019 Scott Bills Memorial Prize for Outstanding First Book in Peace History Memory Reconciliation and Reunions in South Korea Crossing the Divide explores the history and tells the story of the emotionally charged meetings that took place among family members who after having lost all contact for over fifty years on opposite sides of the Korean divide were temporarily reunited in a series of events beginning in 2000 During an unprecedented period of reconciliation between North and South Korea those nationally televised reunions would prove to be the largest meetings held theretofore among civilians from the two states since the inter Korean border was sealed following the end of active hostilities in 1953 Drawing on field research during the reunions as they happened oral histories with family members who participated interviews among government officials involved in the events negotiation and planning and observations of breakthrough developments at the turn of the millennium this book narrates a grounded history of these pivotal events The book further explores the implications of such intimate family encounters for the larger political and cultural processes of moving from a disposition of enmity to one of recognition and engagement through attempts at achieving sustained reconciliation amid the complex legacies of civil war and the global Cold War on the Korean Peninsula

Documentary Across Platforms Patricia R. Zimmermann, 2019-10-01 In Documentary Across Platforms noted scholar of film and experimental media Patricia R Zimmermann offers a glimpse into the ever evolving constellation of practices known as documentary and the way in which they investigate engage with and interrogate the world Collected here for the first time are her celebrated essays and speculations about documentary experimental and new media published outside of traditional scholarly venues These essays envision documentary as a complex ecology composed of different technologies sets of practices and specific relationships to communities engagement politics and social struggles Through the lens of reverse engineering the concept that ideas just like objects can be disassembled to learn how they work and then rebuilt into something new and better Zimmermann explores how numerous small scale documentary works present strategies of intervention into existing power structures Adaptive to their context modular and unfixed the documentary practices she explores exploit both sophisticated high end professional and consumer grade amateur technologies moving through different political terrains different platforms and different exhibition contexts Together these essays demonstrate documentary's role as a conceptual practice to think through how the world is organized and to imagine ways that it might be reorganized with actions communities and ideas

Violent Conflicts in Indonesia Charles A. Coppel, 2006-04-07 Indonesia is currently affected by many serious conflicts which have arisen as a result of a variety of ethnic religious and regional tensions Presenting important new thinking on violent conflict in the world's largest Muslim majority nation this book examines a selection of conflicts in detail and discusses the nature of violence and the reasons behind violent outbreaks Chapters include analysis of conflicts in Aceh East Timor Maluku Java West Kalimantan West Papua and elsewhere The contributors provide analysis of political ethnic and nationalistic killings with a concentration on the post Suharto era The book goes on to examine vital questions concerning the way in which violence in Indonesia is represented in the media and explores ways in which violent conflicts could be resolved or prevented The last section turns the focus onto victims of violence and forms of justice and retribution The Reflexivity of Pain and Privilege Ellis Hurd,2019-01-21 The Reflexivity of Pain and Privilege offers a fresh and critical perspective to people of indigenous and or marginalized identifications It highlights the research shared experiences and personal stories and the artistic collections of those who are of mixed heritage and or identity as well as the perspectives of young adolescents who identify as being of mixed racial socio economic linguistic and ethno cultural backgrounds and experiences These auto ethnographic collections serve as an impetus for the untold stories of millions of marginalized people who may find solace here and in the stories of others who are of mixed identity

State of the Field and Disciplinary Approaches André Laliberté,Stefania Travagnin,2019-08-05 The three volume project Concepts and Methods for the Study of Chinese Religions presents a history of the study of Chinese religions It evaluates the current state of scholarship discusses a variety of analytical approaches and theories about methodology epistemology and the ontology of the field The three books display an interdisciplinary approach and offer debates that transcend national traditions It engages with a variety of methodologies for the study of East Asian religions and promotes dialogues with Western and Chinese voices This volume covers successive historical stages in the study of religion in modern China draws out the genealogy of major figures and intellectual achievements in a variety of research traditions and highlights as well the challenges and evolutions experienced by the main disciplines in the last 30 years This volume serves as a reference for graduate students and scholars interested by religions in modern Chinese societies i e mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and Chinese communities oversea Using a wide range of methods from textual analysis to fieldwork it presents case studies via the disciplines of religious studies anthropology sociology history and political science Women and China's Revolutions Gail Hershatter,2018-09-04 If we place women at the center of our account of China s last two centuries how does this change our understanding of what happened This deeply knowledgeable book illuminates the places where the Big History of recognizable events intersects with the daily lives of ordinary people using gender as its analytic lens Leading scholar Gail Hershatter asks how these events affected women in particular and how women affected the course of these events For instance did women have a 1911 revolution A socialist revolution If so what did those revolutions look like Which women had them Hershatter uses two key themes to frame her analysis The first is the importance of women s visible and invisible labor The labor of women in domestic and public spaces shaped China s move from empire to republic to socialist nation to rising capitalist power The second is the symbolic work performed by gender itself What women should do and be was a constant topic of debate during China s transformation from empire to weak state to partially occupied territory to nascent socialist republic to reform era powerhouse What sorts of concerns did people express through the language of gender How did that language work and why was it so powerful Drawing on decades of Hershatter s groundbreaking scholarship and mastery of a range of literatures this beautifully written book will be essential reading for all students of China s modern history
