Pinder,2012-01-01 Whiteness and Racialized Ethnic Groups in the United States in order to account for the never ending discrimination toward racialized ethnic groups including First Nations blacks Chinese and Mexicans revisits the history of whiteness in the United States It shows the difference between remembering a history of human indignities and recreating one that composes its own textual memory More specifically it reformulates how the historically reliant positionality of whiteness as a part of the everyday practice and discourse of white supremacy would later become institutionalized Even though whiteness studies with the intention of exposing white privilege has entered the realm of academic research and is moving toward antiracist forms of whiteness or at least toward antiracist approaches for a different form of whiteness it is not equipped to relinquish the privilege that comes with normalized whiteness Hence in order to construct a post white identity whiteness would have to be denormalized and freed of it of its presumptive hegemony Feminist Waves, Feminist Generations Hokulani K. Aikau,Karla A. Erickson,Jennifer L. Pierce,2007 Feminist Waves Feminist Generations challenges the static figuring of feminist generations that positions the second wave of feminist scholars against a homogeneous third wave Based on life stories from contemporary feminist scholars this volume emphasizes how feminism develops unevenly over time and across institutions and ultimately offers a new paradigm for theorizing the intersections between generations and feminist waves of thought Contributors Sam Bullington U of Missouri Susan Cahn SUNY Buffalo Dawn Rae Davis U of Minnesota Lisa J Disch U of Minnesota Sara Evans U of Minnesota Elizabeth Faue Wayne State U Roderick A Ferguson U of Minnesota Peter Hennen Ohio State U at Newark Wendy Leo Moore Texas A Toni McNaron U of Minnesota Jean M O Brien U of Minnesota Felicity Schaeffer Grabiell U of California Santa Cruz Anne Firor Scott Duke U Janet D Spector U of Minnesota Amanda Lock Swarr U of Washington Seattle Miglena Todorova U of Minnesota Hokulani K Aikau is assistant professor of indigenous politics in the department of political science at the University of Hawai i at Manoa Karla A Erickson is assistant professor of sociology at Grinnell College Jennifer L Pierce is associate professor of American studies at the University of Minnesota

The Palgrave Handbook of Power, Gender, and Psychology Eileen L. Zurbriggen, Rose Capdevila, 2023-12-28 The Palgrave Handbook of Power Gender and Psychology takes an intersectional feminist approach to the exploration of psychology and gender through a lens of power The invisibility of power in psychological research and theorizing has been critiqued by scholars from many perspectives both within and outside the discipline This volume addresses that gap The handbook centers power in the analysis of gender but does so specifically in relation to psychological theory research and praxis Gathering the work of sixty authors from different geographies career stages psychological sub disciplines methodologies and experiences the handbook showcases creativity in approach and diversity of perspective The result is a work featuring a chorus of different voices including diverse understandings of feminisms and power Ultimately the handbook presents a case for the importance of intersectionality and power for any feminist psychological endeavor

Broken Silence Lena Myers, 2002-02-28 This book addresses the interlocking systems of race and gender in institutions of higher education in America The study is based on empirical data from African American women of various disciplines in faculty and administrative positions at traditionally white colleges and universities It focuses primarily on narratives of the women in terms of how they are affected by racism as well as sexism as they perform their duties in their academic environments The findings suggest that a common thread exists relative to the experiences of the women The book challenges and dispels the myth that Black progress has led to equality for African American women in the academy The results of this study make it even more critical that the voices of African American women be heard and their experiences in the academy be expressed This may be one way to inform academic and lay readers that racism and sexism are not dead

On Privilege, Fraudulence, and Teaching As Learning Peggy McIntosh, 2019-07-04 From one of the world's leading voices on white privilege and anti racism work comes this collection of essays on complexities of privilege and power Each of the four parts illustrates Peggy McIntosh's practice of combining personal and systemic understandings to focus on power in unusual ways Part I includes McIntosh's classic and influential essays on privilege or systems of unearned advantage that correspond to systems of oppression Part II helps readers to understand that feelings of fraudulence may be imposed by our hierarchical cultures rather than by any actual weakness or personal shortcomings Part III presents McIntosh's Interactive Phase Theory highlighting five different world views or attitudes about power that affect school curriculum cultural values and decisions on taking action The book concludes with powerful insights from SEED a peer led teacher development project that enables individuals and institutions to work collectively toward equity and social justice This book is the culmination of forty years of McIntosh's intellectual and organizational work

Equity Planning for School Leaders Todd M.
