Security In A Changing World:

Security in a Changing World Volker Franke, 2002-03-30 The end of the Cold War has brought about significant changes in the political economic social and cultural structure of the international system Absent a distinct enemy and the threat of global thermonuclear war the United States today faces a host of new security challenges that require policymakers to make difficult decisions with significant domestic and international implications The range of conflicting goals expectations and capabilities demands fresh solutions to international conflicts and civil unrest new strategies for conducting peace support operations and the preparation of America s forces for completing operational assignments under increasingly uncertain conditions The case studies and exercises constructed for this book examine some of the most pertinent management leadership and accountability issues related to U S national security Each case places readers at the center of difficult decisions illustrates more general policy dilemmas and is designed to stimulate discussion of those issues beyond the classroom Cases highlight dilemmas at two levels pertaining specifically to the case and pertaining to its larger policy implications The absence of a one sided argument specific policy recommendations or logical conclusions enables readers to recognize the importance of the issues at hand and their greater policy implications and to discern lessons that might apply more generally to public policy administration and management Particularly useful in courses dealing with national security international relations public policy administration civil military relations and organizational management An instructor s manual is available upon request

Water in a Changing World World Water Assessment Programme (United Nations), 2009 The United Nations World Water Development Report published every three years is a comprehensive review providing an authoritative picture of the state of the world's freshwater resources It offers best practices as well as in depth theoretical analyses to help stimulate ideas and actions for better stewardship in the water sector It is the only report of its kind resulting from the collaboration and contributions of the 26 UN agencies commissions program funds secretariats and conventions that have a significant role in addressing global water concerns The news media are full of talk of crises in climate change energy and food and troubled financial markets These crises are linked to each other and to water resources management Unresolved they may lead to increasing political insecurity and conflict Water is required to meet our fundamental needs and rising living standards and to sustain our planets fragile ecosystems Pressures on the resource come from a growing and mobile population social and cultural change economic development and technological change Adding complexity and risk is climate change with impacts on the resource as well as on the sources of pressure on water The challenges though substantial are not insurmountable The Report shows how some countries have responded Progress in providing drinking water is heartening with the Millennium Development Goal target on track in most regions But other areas remain unaddressed and after decades of inaction the problems in water systems are enormous and will worsen if left unattended Leaders in the water sector can inform decisions outside their domain and manage water resources to achieve agreed socioeconomic objectives and environmental integrity Leaders in government the private sector and civil society determine these objectives and allocate human and financial resources to meet them Recognizing this responsibility they must act now Two volume set 336 96 pages case studies Includes CD ROM Published jointly with UNESCO Publishing Security in a Changing World Volker Franke,2002 The United Nations and Changing World Politics David P. Forsythe,Roger A. Coate,Kelly-Kate Pease,2013-07-30 A comprehensive and contemporary examination of the United Nations using a thematic approach to explore the UN s role in three core issues in international relations international peace and security human rights and humanitarian affairs and building peace through sustainable development International Security in a Changing Global Order Canadian Institute of Strategic Studies. Spring Seminar,1990 These proceedings contain papers on the following topics as they relate to international security the role of the United Nations implications for international financial institutions domestic pressures and the international environment international security in a changing global order Europe and 1992 the China situation and a Hungarian view of Europe present and future It also contains 12 documents relating to international security Food Security and Global Environmental Change John Ingram,Polly Ericksen,Diana Liverman,2012-07-26 Global environmental change GEC represents an immediate and unprecedented threat to the food security of hundreds of millions of people especially those who depend on small scale agriculture for their livelihoods As this book shows at the same time agriculture and related activities also contribute to GEC by for example intensifying greenhouse gas emissions and altering the land surface Responses aimed at adapting to GEC may have negative consequences for food security just as measures taken to increase food security may exacerbate GEC The authors show that this complex and dynamic relationship between GEC and food security is also influenced by additional factors food systems are heavily influenced by socioeconomic conditions which in turn are affected by multiple processes such as macro level economic policies political conflicts and other important drivers The book provides a major accessible synthesis of the current state of knowledge and thinking on the relationships between GEC and food security Most other books addressing the subject concentrate on the links between climate change and agricultural production and do not extend to an analysis of the wider food system which underpins food security this book addresses the broader issues based on a novel food system concept and stressing the need for actions at a regional rather than just an international or local level It reviews new thinking which has emerged over the last decade analyses research methods for stakeholder engagement and for undertaking studies at the regional level and looks forward by reviewing a number of emerging hot topics in the food security GEC debate which help set new agendas for the research community at large Published with Earth System Science Partnership GECAFS and SCOPE

The Changing Global Order Madeleine O. Hosli, Joren Selleslaghs, 2019-11-22 This volume offers a comprehensive evaluation of the concept of global order with a particular emphasis on the role of regional organisations within global governance institutions such as the United Nations Building from a solid theoretical base it draws upon the expertise of numerous leading international scholars offering a broad array of timely and relevant case studies These all take into consideration the historical setting before analysing the contemporary situation and offering suggestions for potential realignments and readjustments that may be witnessed in the future The volume adopts an interdisciplinary approach when addressing some of the most pressing issues of global governance which our global community must tackle This presents the readers an opportunity to understand related topics such as political economy international law institutions of global governance in conjunction with the academic field of International Relations IR It further helps students and interested readers understand the theoretical and practical foundations to the changing nature of global affairs

Revisiting EU-Africa Relations in a Changing World Fargion, Valeria, Gazibo, Mamoudou, 2021-09-07 This timely book explores the current state of EU Africa relations from a multidisciplinary perspective placing emphasis on recent developments in five areas that are crucial for EU Africa relations development cooperation trade migration security and democratization It considers how Africa's dependence on the EU has decreased due to the declining importance of development cooperation and increasing cooperation with emerging powers notably the BRIC nations

Sustainable Nutrition in a Changing World Hans Konrad Biesalski, Adam Drewnowski, Johanna T. Dwyer, JJ Strain, Peter Weber, Manfred Eggersdorfer, 2017-07-18 This book is the first of its kind to tackle in detail the nutritional requirements of the industrialized so called developed world It discusses the link between socio economic status and food security focusing especially on the relationship between income and food security in different age groups The authors calculate the actual levels of essential micronutrients delivered by current dietary patterns identifying important shortfalls in the provision of key micronutrients and elucidate the public health consequences of nutrition insecurity Finally the authors discuss future approaches for ensuring nutrition security on the basis of three pillars access availability and nutritional value The approaches advocated in this ground breaking publication will allow all people irrespective of age and social status to have access to a safe and nutritious diet Key stakeholders such as legislators government academia and industry as well as consumers themselves all have important roles to play in making this a reality
