Christ as the Telos of Life Bradley Arnold, 2014-08-27 Bradley Arnold examines Paul's argument in his letter to the Philippians He looks particularly at how this argument is structured similarly to the pattern of thinking in ancient moral philosophy utilizes athletic imagery within this argumentative framework and employs a rhetorical practice known as vivid description

First Lessons Christine Richardson-Hay, 2006 This book provides a detailed commentary on Book 1 epistulae 1-12 of Seneca's Ad Lucilium Epistulae Morales written in the last years 62-65 AD of the philosopher's life The importance of the Epistulae Morales as an example possibly the consummation of Seneca's writings and a discussion of Roman Stoic moral philosophy is universally acknowledged The purpose in focusing upon these first twelve epistles which establish the principle and intention of this large collection of twenty extant Books is to interpret and annotate the letters and add insight to the understanding of the Epistulae Morales overall Every letter in Book 1 is discussed in the form of a commentary Areas of comment include vocabulary and style personal allusions to Seneca relevant issues of history and social environment and inevitably the moral and philosophical concepts which form the substance of Seneca's argument throughout the Epistulae Morales Two further issues the Structure and Style of Book 1 are discussed in separate chapters

Common Property, the Golden Age, and Empire in Acts 2:42-47 and 4:32-35 Joshua Noble, 2020-10-15 Joshua Noble focuses on the rapid appearance and disappearance in Acts 2 and 4 of the motif that early believers hold all their property in common and argues that these descriptions function as allusions to the Golden Age myth Noble suggests Luke's claims that the believers had all things in common and that no one claimed private ownership of any possessions a motif that does not appear in any biblical source rather calls to mind Greek and Roman traditions that the earliest humans lived in utopian conditions when no one possessed any private property but all things were common By analyzing sources from Greek Latin Jewish and Christian traditions and reading Acts 2:42-47 and 4:32-35 as Golden Age allusions Noble illustrates how Luke's use of the motif of common property is significant for understanding his attitude toward the Roman Empire Noble suggests that Luke's appeal to this myth accomplishes two things it characterizes the coming of the Spirit as marking the beginning of a new age the start of a universal restoration that will find its completion at the Second Coming of Christ and it creates a contrast between Christ who has actually brought about this restoration and the emperors of Rome who were serially credited with inaugurating a new Golden Age

Classics at the core of its curriculum Religion and Illness Annette Weissenrieder, Gregor Etzelmüller, 2016-11-04 What are the relevant conceptualities and terminologies marking the coupling of religion and medical interpretations of illness in different religions such as Judaism Islam Buddhism and Christianity How do religious orientations influence courses of a disease How do experiences of illness change images of the divine in late modernity This collection of essays from a symposium held at the International Research Institute of the University of Heidelberg examines connections between religious and medical interpretations of illness in different cultures in order to suggest criteria for coupling religion and medicine in ways that enhance rather than diminish life By discerning which relationships between religion and medicine appear to be beneficial and which harmful the book as a whole proposes criteria that are not limited to a single scientific approach cultural tradition or time period such as the present The book has four parts which deal with Islamic medicine Chinese medicine and the relationship between religion and medicine in both Jewish and Christian traditions All chapters cover from antiquity to the present Manual of Classical Literature Johann Joachim Eschenburg, 1850 The Renaissance Rediscovery of Intimacy Kathy Eden, 2017-11-06 In 1345 when Petrarch recovered a lost collection of letters from Cicero to his best friend Atticus he discovered an intimate Cicero a man very different from either the well known orator of the Roman forum or the measured spokesman for the ancient schools of philosophy It was Petrarch's encounter with this previously unknown Cicero and his letters that Kathy Eden argues fundamentally changed the way Europeans from the fourteenth through the sixteenth centuries were expected to read and write The Renaissance Rediscovery of Intimacy explores the way ancient epistolary theory and practice were understood and imitated in the European Renaissance Eden draws chiefly upon Aristotle Cicero and Seneca but also upon Plato Demetrius Quintilian and many others to show how the classical genre of the familiar letter emerged centuries later in the intimate styles of Petrarch Erasmus and Montaigne Along the way she reveals how the complex concept of intimacy in the Renaissance leveraging the legal affective and stylistic dimensions of its prehistory in antiquity pervades the literary production and reception of the period and sets the course for much that is modern in the literature of subsequent centuries Eden's important study will interest students and scholars in a number of areas including classical Renaissance and early modern studies comparative literature and the history of reading rhetoric and writing Classical Literature and Its Times Joyce Moss, 2006 Examines the relationship between the political social climate during which books were written and the works themselves This volume focuses on classical literature The Oxford encyclopedia of ancient Greece and Rome. - Vol. 1 - 7 Michael Gagarin, 2010 Manual of Classical Literature. From the German, with Additions by N. W. Fiske. Third Edition Johann Joachim ESCHENBURG, 1844 The Cambridge History of Classical Literature E. J. Kenney, W. V. Clausen, 1983 Ancient Rome Monica M. Bontty, 2020-03-17 This book shares little known facts from and excerpts of primary source documents to correct popular misconceptions about Ancient Rome and to show how those misconceptions became widespread Roman personalities and history have always had a larger than life profile in American popular culture but most people think of this ancient civilization as merely decadent cruel and elitist Most of our stereotypical conceptions of the empire and its people however are wrong This book corrects popular misconceptions about the ancient Roman world thus making ancient history relevant and accessible to modern readers and allowing modern critics of American politics and society to draw accurate comparisons Each chapter discusses how a particular misconception developed spread and evolved into what we now believe to be the historical truth Topics discussed include crucifixion the destruction of Carthage Julius Caesar s last words and Roman hygiene Excerpts from primary source documents provide evidence of both the rise of the historical fictions and the truths behind the myths

Roman Letters Matthew B. Schwartz,Finley Hooper,2018-07-20 In this selection of letters notable Romans write about themselves and their times as well as about personal and public matters Seneca provides indignant remarks about the behavior of women in Nero s Rome From his monastic cell in Bethlehem St Jerome berates St Augustine for gossip he may have spread Some letters give a different perspective to history while other talk of harvests marriages and day to day events For historical continuity Hooper and Schwartz include a running commentary and brief biographical sketches on the writers

Beginnings in Classical Literature Francis M. Dunn,Thomas Cole,1992-03-26 This volume explores the various ways in which literary works begin with essays on nearly all the major genres of Greek and Latin literature including epic and lyric poetry tragedy and comedy history philosophy and biography This collection offers an important perspective by bringing together a variety of authors and a broad range of approaches from formal analysis of opening devices to post structural interpretation

Stoicism in Early Christianity Tuomas Rasimus,Troels Engberg-Pedersen,Ismo Dunderberg,2010-11-01 Highlighting the place of Stoic teaching in early Christian thought an international roster of scholars challenges the prevailing view that Platonism was the most important philosophical influence on early Christianity They suggest that early Christians were more often influenced by Stoicism than by Platonism an insight that sheds new light on the relationship between philosophy and religion at the birth of Christianity

Paul and the Greco-Roman Philosophical Tradition Joseph R. Dodson,Andrew W. Pitts,2017-10-19 Paul and the Greco Roman Philosophical Tradition provides a fresh examination of the relationship of Greco Roman philosophy to Pauline Christianity It offers an in depth look at different approaches employed by scholars who draw upon philosophical settings in the ancient world to inform their understanding of Paul The volume houses an international team of scholars from a range of diverse traditions and backgrounds which opens up a platform for multiple voices from various corridors Consequently some of the chapters seek to establish new potential resonances with Paul and the Greco Roman philosophical tradition but others question such connections While a number of them propose radically new relationships between Paul and GrecoRoman philosophy a few seek to tweak or modulate current discussions There are arguments in the volume which are more technical and exegetical and others that remain more synthetic and theological This diversity however is accentuated by a goal shared by each author to further our understanding of Paul's relationship to and appropriation of Greco-Roman philosophical traditions in his literary and missionary efforts
