Senses of the Empire Eleanor Betts, 2017-02-24 The Roman empire afforded a kaleidoscope of sensations Through a series of multisensory case studies centred on people places buildings and artefacts and on specific aspects of human behaviour this volume develops groundbreaking methods and approaches for sensory studies in Roman archaeology and ancient history Authors explore questions such as what it felt like and symbolised to be showered with saffron at the amphitheatre why the shape of a dancer's body made him immediately recognisable as a social outcast how the dramatic gestures loud noises and unforgettable smells of a funeral would have different meanings for members of the family and for bystanders and why feeling the weight of a signet ring on his finger contributed to a man's sense of identity. A multisensory approach is taken throughout with each chapter exploring at least two of the senses of sight, hearing, smell, taste, and touch. The contributors' individual approaches vary reflecting the possibilities and the wide application of sensory studies to the ancient world. Underlying all chapters is a conviction that taking a multisensory approach enriches our understanding of the Roman empire but also an awareness of the methodological problems encountered when reconstructing past experiences. Experimental Psychology, Cognition, and Human Aging Donald H. Kausler,2012-12-06 This book is a major revision and extension of my earlier book Experimental Psychology and Human Aging which appeared in 1982 The intervening years have seen a remarkable expansion of psychological research on human aging especially on topics dealing with cognition They have also seen research on cognitive aging gain increasing importance within the mainstream of basic cognitive research As my lecture notes for my course in the psychology of aging grew so did my apprehension regarding the task ahead of me in revising the first edition The research explosion in cognitive aging forced several major changes in content from the first to the second edition Two chapters on learning and memory in the first edition were necessarily expanded to six chapters in the present edition Similarly the single prior chapter on perception and attention became two chapters as did the single prior chapter on thinking Another change from the first edition is in the addition of some review of the effects of abnormal aging on various cognitive processes particularly in regard to memory functioning To keep the revision within reasonable length some sacrifices had to be made The multiple chapters on methodology and theory in the first edition were condensed into the present single chapter However the major topics from the first edition were retained and in fact added to by the inclusion of important topics and issues that emerged over the past eight years      The Web of Life Imperative Michael J. Cohen, 2003

A book and course that teaches you the Natural Systems Thinking Process A nature connected learning tool enables our psyche to genuinely tap the healing powers of nature and regenerate 48 peaceful natural intelligences in our awareness and thinking Backyard or backcountry this practical multiple sense book empowers you to improve your health relationships and happiness by replacing destructive omissions in how we learn to think with rejuvenated natural sensitivities Learn how to reconnect your psyche to its nurturing origins in the restorative vigor sustainability and peace of nature Help yourself and your community benefit from the profound renewal that lies in the magnificence of a beautiful day the wisdom of an ancient tree and the fortitude of a weed Let nature s invincible healing energies help your thinking transform your stress disorders and harmful bonds into constructive personal social and environmental rewards Grow from hands on accredited Applied Biophilia classes essays activities research internships ethics counseling and healing Strengthen your inborn natural genius Enjoy an Earth friendly job career internship or teaching certification Take advantage of subsidized online courses and degree programs To understand how and why this book will work for you as it has for so many others consider the following key intelligence test question one that ordinarily might help assess a person s mathematical aptitude If you count a dog s tail as one of its legs how many legs does a dog have Five of course is the correct answer for a math test Intelligent people say five because it is valid in mathematical systems and contemporary thinking and is highly regarded and rewarded by our society However we don t solely live our lives or think in mathematical systems Our natural sense of reason can consider what we know from our actual contact with a real normal dog too That s when our multitude of other natural senses come into play senses of touch motion color texture language sound smell consciousness community trust contrast and love They each provide further information and help our sense of reason make more sense and a more informed decision They enable our thinking to register that a tail is different than a leg that a dog has four legs not five no matter what might be correct in mathematical logic It is a grave mistake for anyone not to take seriously the difference between 4 leg and 5 leg ways of knowing and our learned prejudice for the latter As this book shows when they are not in balance the schism between their two different ways of registering the world is significant Four leg knowing is a magnificent psychological and physiological phenomenon with deep natural system roots into the eons the heart of Earth and our psyche It brings our widely diverse multiplicity of natural sensory experiences into our awareness Five leg knowing produces important awareness through abstract imagination labels and stories However when it does not also seek and contain 4 leg knowledge it results not only in our desensitization but in the separation of our thinking from the regenerative powers of Earth s natural systems within and around us This profound loss produces the many destructive side effects of our artificial world that we can not readily solve Four leg versus 5 leg discord creates an entrenched conflict in our psyche between how we think and how nature works This is a point source of the stress and contamination our society produces in the integrity of people and the environment It generates our many disorders and troubles that are seldom found in nature It is important to recognize is that by financially and socially rewarding us for getting good grades or for making the grade by using nature isolated 5 leg thinking our socialization habitually bonds conditions programs or ad     The Social, Cultural, and Political Discourses of Autism Jessica Nina Lester,Michelle O'Reilly,2021-11-13 Taking up a social constructionist position this book illustrates the social and cultural construction of autism as made visible in everyday educational institutional and historical discourses alongside a careful consideration of the bodily and material realities of embodied differences The authors highlight the economic consequences of a disabling culture and explore how autism fits within broader arguments related to normality abnormality and stigma To do this they provide a theoretically and historically grounded discussion of autism one designed to layer and complicate the discussions that surround autism and disability in schools health clinics and society writ large In addition they locate this discussion across two contexts the US and the UK and draw upon empirical examples to illustrate the key points Located at the intersection of critical disability studies and discourse studies the book offers a critical reframing of autism and childhood mental health disorders more generally     Neural processing of emotion in multimodal settings Martin Klasen,Benjamin Kreifelts,Yu-Han Chen,Janina Seubert,Klaus Mathiak,2015-05-06 Our everyday life is characterized by a multitude of emotionally relevant cues that we perceive and communicate via various sensory channels This does not only encompass the obvious cases of auditory and visual modalities but also olfactory gustatory and even tactile stimuli Any kind of emotional situation in a natural setting is usually a multimodal experience A friend welcomes us with warm words a smile and a happy voice the sight of our favourite food is accompanied by a seductive smell and a delicious taste the thrill of watching an exciting movie scene is intensified by a gripping soundtrack In these situations the signals from various senses do not stand on their own they interact and create a unified emotional experience Recent neuroscientific research has begun to accommodate this inherent multimodality of emotions in natural situations by studying the interaction of affectively relevant information from more than one sensory channel Fascinating new aspects emerge concerning the neurobiology of emotion processing and there is evidence that integrating emotional cues from various sources invokes brain processes that go beyond the well known patterns observed during unimodal stimulation The aim of this volume is to present novel and interesting studies dealing with the multimodality of emotions and their neural processing This includes findings from novel paradigms beyond the classical stimulus response pattern fascinating new insights into the interaction of the chemical senses new analysis methods comprehensive reviews of selected topics multimodality in social interactions and clinical perspectives Taken together the studies of this volume thus help us to better understand the interplay of various senses in our daily emotional experiences     Reductive Model of the Conscious Mind Galus, Wieslaw,Starzyk, Janusz,2020-08-21 Research on natural and artificial brains is proceeding at a rapid pace However the understanding of the essence of consciousness has changed slightly over the millennia and only the last decade has brought some progress to the area Scientific ideas emerged that the soul could be a product of the material body and that calculating machines could imitate brain processes However the authors of this book reject the previously common dualism the view that the material and spiritual psychic processes are separate and require a completely different substance as their foundation Reductive Model of the Conscious Mind is a forward thinking book wherein the authors identify processes that are the essence of conscious thinking and place them in the imagined simplified structure of cells able to memorize and transmit information in the form of impulses which they call neurons The purpose of the study is to explain the essence of consciousness to the degree of development of natural sciences because only the latter can find a way to embed the concept of the conscious mind in material brains The book is divided into three parts Part 1 works to convince readers that the emergence of consciousness does not require detailed knowledge of the structure and morphology of the brain with the exception of some specific properties of the neural network structure that the authors attempt to point out Part 2 proves that the biological structure of many natural brains fulfills the necessary conditions for consciousness and intelligent thinking Similarly Part 3 shows the ways in which artificial creatures imitating natural brains can meet these conditions which gives great hopes for building artificially intelligent beings endowed with consciousness Covering topics that include cognitive architecture the embodied mind and machine learning this book is ideal for cognitive scientists philosophers of mind neuroscientists psychologists researchers academicians and advanced level students The book can also help to focus the research of linguists neurologists and biophysicists on the biophysical basis of postulated information processing into knowledge structures
