Pervert Catherine Lord, University of California, Irvine. Art Gallery, 1995 Curator Catherine Lord describes the word pervert as inspiration for this exhibit in a range of contexts in order to make a point about the word its ability to be reversed and define a variety of audiences Blatantly she embraces pervert as a derogatory word that was once applied to heterosexuals appropriating it to simultaneously connect with the standard form of companionship and contrast with the application of it to homosexuals Contemplatively Lord approaches this exhibit with much forethought wanting to organize something that would reflect the explosion of gay and lesbian cultural production in the 80s

Art of Transition Elise Herrala, 2021-12-30 The dissolution of the Soviet Union brought a massive change in every domain of life particularly in the cultural sector where artists were suddenly free from party mandated modes of representation and now could promote and sell their work globally But in Russia the encounter with Western art markets was fraught The Russian field of art still remains on the periphery of the international art world struggling for legitimacy in the eyes of foreign experts and collectors This book examines the challenges Russian art world actors faced in building a field of art in a society undergoing rapid and significant economic political and social transformation and traces those challenges into the twenty first century Drawing on historical and ethnographic research Art of Transition traces the ways the field of art has developed evolved and been sustained in Russia after socialism It shows how Russia s art world has grappled with its Soviet past and negotiated its standing in an unequal globalized present By attending to the historical legacy of Russian art throughout the twentieth century this book constructs a genealogy of the contemporary field of postsocialist art that illuminates how Russians have come to understand themselves and their place in the world Perverted by Language
