Pink Guitar Writing As Feminist Practice

Celia Lury, Nina Wakeford

Pink Guitar Writing As Feminist Practice:

The Pink Guitar Rachel Blau DuPlessis, 1990 The aim of this book is to explore the depiction of women and the uses to which culture has put the female figure The author examines the possibility of finding a language which would question the most deeply held assumptions about gender

The Pink Guitar Rachel Blau DuPlessis, 1990 A noted feminist critic and innovative poet Rachel DuPlessis has gathered her speculative essays in a unique collection that is as much a work of art as a book of feminist criticism Fusing meditation and passion The Pink Guitar articulates an extensive critique of modernist representations of the female whose prose reverberates with the intensive rhythms of art

Feminist Practices Lori A. Brown, 2016-04-15 Women continue to be extremely under represented in the architectural profession Despite equal numbers of male and female students entering architectural studies there is at least 17 25% attrition of female students and not all remaining become practicing architects In both the academic and the professional fields of architecture positions of power and authority are almost entirely male and as such the profession is defined by a heterosexual Eurasian male perspective This book argues that it is vital for all architectural students and practitioners to be exposed to a diversity of contemporary architectural practices as this might provide a first step into broadening awareness and transforming architectural engagement It considers the relationships between feminist methodologies and the various approaches toward design and their impact upon our understanding and relationship to the built environment In doing so this collection challenges two conventional ideas firstly the definition of architecture and secondly what constitutes a feminist practice This collection of up and coming female architects and designers use a wide range of local and global examples of their work to question different aspects of these two conventional ideas While focusing on feminist perspectives the book offers insights into many different issues concerns and interpretations of architecture proposing through these types of engagement architecture can become more culturally politically and environmentally relevant This next generation of architects claim feminism as their own and through doing so help define what feminism means and how it is evolving in the 21st century

Thinking with the Poem Andrew R. Mossin, 2024-12-15 Broad ranging and pluralistically investigative the essays in Thinking with the Poem document Rachel Blau DuPlessis's authorial interventions as a poet scholar and cultural critic steeped in the linguistic and political frames of her time The writers included in this volume engage root level questions at the heart of DuPlessis's praxis as posed by her in a recent essay What is a poem what is a poet what is an oeuvre what is the poetic Inventive and noncanonical these essays offer substantive responses to these and other questions providing new routes of inquiry into the poetry and poetics of this preeminent figure of new writing
