Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 List of Serials and Monographs Indexed for Online Users ,1980 The NLM Technical Bulletin ,1977 Multifunctional Proteins James F. Kane,2019-06-04 First Published in 1983 this book offers a full comprehensive guide into proteins and their functions Carefully compiled and filled with a vast repertoire of notes diagrams and references this book serves as a useful reference for Students of Alternative Medicine and other practitioners in their respective fields Biophysics W. Hoppe,W. Lohmann,H. Markl,H. Ziegler,2012-12-06 What is biophysics As with all subjects which straddle traditional boundaries between fields it eludes a precise definition Furthermore it is impossible to do biophysics without having a certain foundation of knowledge in biology physics physical chemistry chemistry and biochemistry One approach to a biophysics textbook would be to refer the student to the literature of these neighboring fields and to leave the selection of the appropriate supplementary material up to the student The editors of this volume are of the opinion that it is more useful and less time consuming to present a selection of the supplementary knowledge in concentrated form together with the subject matter specific to biophysics The reader will thus find in this book introductions to such subjects as the structure and function of the cell the chemical structure of biogenic macromolecules and even theoretical chemistry What indeed is biophysics Must we consider it to include physiology electromedicine radiation medicine etc The field has evolved continuously in recent years Molecular understanding of life processes has come more and more to the fore Just as the field of molecular physics has developed to describe structures and processes in the realm of non living systems there has been a corresponding development of molecular biophysics Molecular Mechanisms in the Control of Gene Expression Donald P. Nierlich,W.J. Rutter,C. Fred Fox,2013-10-22 Molecular Mechanisms in the Control of Gene Expression documents the proceedings of the ICN UCLA conference on Molecular Mechanisms in the Control of Gene Expression organized through the Molecular Biology Institute of UCLA held in Keystone Colorado 21 26 March 1976 The conference focused on three topics the action of repressors on specific nucleotide sequences in DNA how DNA and histones are intertwined in eucaryotic chromosomes and in the development of new techniques that appear to lift genes from complex genomes The volume contains 65 chapters organized into nine parts The papers in Part I examine the organization of prokaryotic and eukaryotic chromosomes Part II presents studies on the interaction of RNA a polymerase and regulatory molecules with defined DNA sites Parts III and IV focus on RNA polymerases of eukaryotes and the regulation of transcription in eukaryotic systems respectively Part V contains papers dealing with nucleic acid sequences transcription and processing Part VI covers cellular aspects in the study of gene expression Part VII takes up cloning while Part VIII is devoted to genetic analysis through restriction mapping and molecular cloning Finally Part IX summarizes the recent progress reported at the conference and also indicates some of the limitations that can be placed upon interpretation of data High Pressure Effects in Molecular Biophysics and Enzymology

John L. Markley, Dexter B. Northrop, Catherine A. Royer, 1996-09-12 High Pressure Effects in Molecular Biophysics and Enzymology is designed to acquaint biochemists biophysicists and graduate students with advances in the application of high pressure in connection with spectroscopy as a research tool in the study of biomolecules The 23 chapters written by leading authorities present an overview of current approaches to the use of high pressure in research on enzyme kinetics protein folding and structure lipid bilayer structure and organization lipid protein interaction and DNA structure This important timely volume is the first devoted exclusively to high pressure effects in biochemistry and will be the definitive reference in its subject for the next several years

Arber, W. Henle, P. H. Hofschneider, J. H. Humphrey, N. K. Jerne, P. Koldovský, H. Koprowski, O. Maaløe, R. Rott, H. G. Schweiger, M. Sela, L. Syru?ek, P. K. Vogt, 2012-12-06 Expression of an immune response is the net result of complex synergis tic and antagonistic activities performed by a variety of cell types It includes macrophages T and B populations which may interact in performance of a response and suppressor cells interfering with it Accordingly a lack of response may not necessarily indicate absence of immunocompetent cells but rather nonexpression of competence. Thus one should consider two possible situations which are by no means mutually exclusive to account for immunologic unresponsiveness: a) one or more of the cell populations composing the synergistic unit is absent or immature and b) an antagonistic unit which interferes with the response is dominating. In view of this, an approach to development of immune reactivity necessitates parallel surveys of development of cells with the potential to perform as well as of cells which can suppress the response. Classification of the various cell types has been based so far on their phenotypic properties, e.g., membrane antigen markers, cell receptors, production and secretion of immunoglobulins, etc. Genotypically, T and B cells may represent either separate independent cell lines or different stages of development within the same cell lineage.
