Education in the Muslim World Rosarii Griffin,2006-05-15 This collection of articles is an eclectic selection of studies of a range of educational situations relating to Muslim populations in different parts of the world It is intended as a selection and in no way contains any overarching theme other than illustrating the wide diversity of situations and issues relating to education in Muslim societies The contributors provide a wide and fascinating range of insights and problems many of which apply to other communities as well there is much to be shared and celebrated between east and west but only with greater understanding It is hoped this book will contribute something towards that understanding

Islamic Identity, Postcoloniality, and Educational Policy Jeffrey Ayala Milligan,2020-02-26 This book theorizes a philosophical framework for educational policy and practice in the southern Philippines where decades of religious and political conflict between a minority Muslim community and the Philippine state has plagued the educational and economic development of the region It offers a critical historical and ethnographic analysis of a century of failed attempts under successive U S colonial and independent Philippine governments to deploy education as a tool to mitigate the conflict and assimilate the Muslim minority into the mainstream of Philippine society and examines recent efforts to integrate state and Islamic education before proposing a philosophy of prophetic pragmatism as a more promising framework for educational policy and practice that respects the religious identity and fosters the educational development of Muslim Filipinos It represents a timely contribution to the search for educational policies and practices more responsive to the needs and religious identities of Muslim communities emerging from conflict not only in the southern Philippines but in other international contexts as well

Islamic Identity, Postcoloniality, and Educational Policy J. Milligan,2005-07-31

Tensions between Muslim communities and state institutions are endemic in many parts of the world For decades successive colonial and independent governments in the Philippines have deployed educational policy as a tool to mitigate one such conflict between Muslims and Christians a conflict which has claimed more than 100 000 lives since the 1970 s Postcolonial Education and Islamic Identity in the Southern Philippines offers a postcolonial critique of this century long educational project in an effort to understand how educational policy has failed Muslim Filipinos and to seek insight from their experience into the potential and pitfalls of educational responses to ethnic and religious tensions

Mapping the Terrain of Education Reform Vicente Chua Reyes, Jr., 2015-06-26 This book envisions the formulation of critical perspectives on education reform using the Philippine experience recognizing the need to address relevant issues and challenges particularly in an increasingly globalized twenty first century setting A specific education reform project the Leaders and Educators in Asia Programme LEAP a joint effort between the Philippines Department of Education the Ateneo de Manila University in the Philippines the National Institute of Education Singapore and Singapore's Temasek Foundation serves as the analytical focus of how education reform as a globalized movement is implemented interpreted and made sense of by stakeholders involved in the reform project This inquiry proposes to examine the problematique of education reform from a Philippine perspective by focusing on three analytical starting points 1 describing the most relevant and urgent issues of education reform 2 diagnosing the causes and consequences of reform failures and 3 developing critical and contextualized perspectives on reform trajectories Mapping the Terrain of Education Reforms Global trends and local responses in the Philippines discusses the following Challenges against effective education reforms The oscillation between global and local imperatives The dissociation between policymakers and practitioners Education reform aid in the Philippines This book will be of interest to researchers interested in education policy politics and reforms It will also appeal to scholars examining Asian and particularly Southeast Asian educational systems The Many Faces of Corruption J. Edgardo Campos, Sanjay

Pradhan, 2007-04-04 Corruption How can policymakers and practitioners better comprehend the many forms and shapes that this social pandemic takes From the delivery of essential drugs the reduction in teacher absenteeism the containment of illegal logging the construction of roads the provision of water and electricity the international trade in oil and gas the conduct of public budgeting and procurement and the management of public revenues corruption shows its many faces The Many Faces of Corruption attempts to bring greater clarity to the often murky manifestations of this virulent and debilitating social disease It explores the use of prototype road maps to identify corruption vulnerabilities suggests corresponding warning signals and proposes operationally useful remedial measures in each of several selected sectors and for a selected sample of cross cutting public sector functions that are particularly prone to corruption and that are critical to sector performance Numerous technical experts have come together in this effort to develop an operationally useful approach to diagnosing and tackling corruption The Many Faces of Corruption is an invaluable reference for policymakers practitioners and researchers engaged in the business of development The Role of the Public Bureaucracy in Policy

Implementation in Five ASEAN Countries Jon S. T. Quah, 2016-02-12 This pioneering book addresses an important gap in the literature by comparing the role of the public bureaucracies in policy implementation in Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Vietnam It highlights the importance of the policy context especially the commitment of the government in allocating the necessary resources and the support of the implementers as well as the public bureaucracy's effectiveness as the critical factors responsible for effective policy implementation The comparative analysis shows that the public bureaucracies in Singapore and Malaysia are more effective in policy implementation than their counterparts in Indonesia the Philippines and Vietnam because of their favourable policy contexts and higher level of organizational effectiveness The focus on policy context and the public bureaucracy's role in the policy making process and its implementation of two ASEAN policies will be of interest to policymakers civil servants scholars and students concerned with

enhancing policy implementation in the ASEAN countries

State and Society in the Philippines Patricio N.

Abinales, Donna J. Amoroso, 2017-07-06 This clear and nuanced introduction explores the Philippines ongoing and deeply charged dilemma of state society relations through a historical treatment of state formation and the corresponding conflicts and collaboration between government leaders and social forces Patricio N Abinales and Donna J Amoroso examine the long history of institutional weakness in the Philippines and the varied strategies the state has employed to overcome its structural fragility and strengthen its bond with society The authors argue that this process reflects the country's recurring dilemma on the one hand is the state's persistent inability to provide essential services guarantee peace and order and foster economic development on the other is the Filipinos equally enduring suspicions of a strong state To many citizens this powerfully evokes the repression of the 1970s and the 1980s that polarized society and cost thousands of lives in repression and resistance and billions of dollars in corruption setting the nation back years in economic development and profoundly undermining trust in government The book's historical sweep starts with the politics of the pre colonial era and continues through the first year of Rodrigo Duterte's controversial presidency

Navigating the Common Good in Teacher

Education Policy Nikola Hobbel, Barbara L. Bales, 2018-05-11 Navigating the Common Good in Teacher Education Policy examines the changing relationships between the state and the common or public good Using teacher education policy as the frame of analysis the authors examine history cultural context and lived experiences in 12 countries and the European Union to explicate which notions of justice social inclusion and exclusion and citizenship emerge By situating teacher education policy within a larger philosophical framework regarding the relationship between the state and conceptions of the common good this book analyzes the ideological and political desires of the state how the state understands the common good the future of national identity and to what end schooling is imagined

Philippine Politics Lynn White III, 2014-12-17 Philippine political history especially in the twentieth century challenges the image of democratic evolution as serving the people and does so in ways that reveal inadequately explored aspects of many democracies In the first decades of the twenty first century the Philippines has nonetheless shown gradual socioeconomic progress This book provides an interpretive overview of Philippine politics and takes full account of the importance of patriotic Philippine factors in making decisions about future political policies It analyses whether regional and local politics have more importance than national politics in the Philippines Discussing cultural traditions of patronism it also examines how clan feuds localize the state and create strong local policies These conflicts in turn make regional and family run politics collectively stronger than the central state institution The book goes on to explore elections in the Philippines and in particular the ways in which politicians win democratic elections the institutionalized role of public money in this process and the role that media plays Offering a new interpretive overview of Philippine progress over many decades the author notes recent economic and political changes during the current century while also trying to advance ideas that might prove useful to Filipinos Presenting an in depth analysis of the problems and possibilities of politics and society in the Philippines the book will be of interest to those researching Southeast Asian Politics Political History and Asian Society and Culture

Drivers of Corruption Tina Søreide, 2014-10-15 This report provides an overview of arguments explaining the risk of corruption Corrupt acts are subject to decision making authority and assets available for grabbing These assets can be stolen created by artificial shortage or become available as the result of a market failure Assets that are especially exposed to corruption include profits from the private sector revenues from the export of natural resources aid and loans and the proceeds of crime Whether or not opportunities for corruption are exploited depends on the individuals involved the institution or society they are part of and the law enforcement circumstances Corruption usually persists in situations in which players are aware of the facts but nonetheless condone the practice Absence of reaction can result from information asymmetries in which the people who are supposed to act are not aware of the need to act coordination failure patronage determined loyalty and incentive problems at the political level This review of results and insights from different parts of the scholarly literature on corruption focuses on areas where research can guide anticorruption policy The report also describes a number of corruption related challenges in need of more attention from researchers

Accountability in education: meeting our commitments UNESCO, 2017-10-30 The second edition of the Global Education Monitoring Report GEM Report presents the latest evidence on global progress towards the education targets of the UN Sustainable Development Goals With hundreds of millions of people still not going to school and many not achieving minimum skills at school it is clear education systems are off track to achieve global goals The marginalized currently bear the most consequences but also stand to benefit the most if policy makers pay sufficient attention to their needs Faced with these challenges along with tight budgets and increased emphasis on results oriented value for money countries are searching for solutions Increased accountability often tops the list The 2017 8 GEM Report shows the entire array of approaches to accountability in education It ranges from countries unused to the concept where violations of the right to education go unchallenged to countries where accountability has become an end in itself instead of a means to inclusive equitable and high quality education and lifelong learning for all The report emphasizes that education is a shared responsibility While governments have primary responsibility all actors schools teachers parents students international organizations private sector providers civil society and the media 0 3 have a role in improving education systems The report emphasized the importance of transparency and availability of information but urges caution in how data are used It makes the case for avoiding accountability systems with a disproportionate focus on narrowly defined results and punitive sanctions In an era of multiple accountability tools the report provides clear evidence on those that are working and those that are not
