Flaherty Paul Rotha,2015-09-30 Producer of Nanook of the North Moana Man of Aran and other pioneering documentaries between 1920 and 1940 Robert J Flaherty was America s first independent film artist Popular conceptions of Flaherty have led many either to worship his work and regard him in mythical terms or to debunk him as a fraud and castigate him for lack of a social consciousness Rarely has the attempt been made to understand him in the context of his times This captivating study presents Flaherty through the eyes of someone who knew him personally the brilliant British filmmaker and scholar Paul Rotha A colleague and close friend of Flaherty Rotha gives us s a powerfully written biography that is a balanced and intimate look at the life and work of an American genius Editor Jay Ruby has restored the Rotha biography including a wealth of anecdotes letters and memoirs that begin to bring Robert Flaherty the man into focus An especially valuable dimension of this work is the appraisal of Flaherty the filmmaker from the viewpoint of a major figure of the British industry He summarizes in detail the critical response to Flaherty of his contemporaries about which only sketchy information has previously been available Flaherty regarded himself as an explorer as well as a filmmaker The exciting story of this biography takes us from the Arctic where Flaherty spent years filming Nanook to the South Pacific England the Aran Islands and finally the United States his courage and overarching vision resulted in an unprecedented recording of the human struggle and in documentary films that reached a wider audience than ever before      Robert and Frances Flaherty Robert J. Geiger,2007-04-30 The enduring popularity of Polynesia in western literature art and film attests to the pleasures that Pacific islands have over the centuries afforded the consuming gaze of the west connoting solitude release from cares and more recently self renewal away from urbanized modern life Facing the Pacific is the first study to offer a detailed look at the United States intense engagement with the myth of the

South Seas just after the First World War when at home a popular vogue for all things Polynesian seemed to echo the expansion of U S imperialist activities abroad Jeffrey Geiger looks at a variety of texts that helped to invent a vision of Polynesia for U S audiences focusing on a group of writers and filmmakers whose mutual fascination with the South Pacific drew them together and would eventually drive some of them apart Key figures discussed in this volume are Frederick O Brien author of the bestseller White Shadows in the South Seas filmmaker Robert Flaherty and his wife Frances Hubbard Flaherty who collaborated on Moana director W S Van Dyke who worked with Robert Flaherty on MGM s adaptation of White Shadows and Expressionist director F W Murnau whose last film Tabu was co directed with Flaherty

McLane, 2022-12-29 A New History of Documentary Film includes new research that offers a fresh way to understand how the field began and grew Retaining the original edition s core structure there is added emphasis of the interplay among various approaches to documentaries and the people who made them This edition also clearly explains the ways that interactions among the shifting forces of economics technology and artistry shape the form New to this edition An additional chapter that brings the story of English language documentary to the present day Increased coverage of women and people of color in documentary production Streaming Animated documentaries List of documentary filmmakers organized chronologically by the years of their activity in the field

A Philosophical History of Documentary, 1895-1959 Dan Geva, 2021-09-15 This book presents a chronology of thirty definitions attributed to the word term phrase and concept of documentary between the years 1895 and 1959 The book dedicates one chapter to each of the thirty definitions scrutinizing their idiosyncratic language games from close range while focusing on their historical roots and concealed philosophical sources of inspiration Dan Geva s principal argument is twofold first that each definition is an original ethical premise of documentary and second that only the structured assemblage of the entire set of definitions successfully depicts the true ethical nature of documentary insofar as we agree to consider its philosophical history as a reflective object of thought in a perpetual state of being self defined an ethics sui generis

It has spread to all parts of the globe and is enjoyed by audiences that cut across all sections of society. The Oxford History of World Cinema traces the history of this enduringly popular entertainment medium. An international team of distinguished film historians tells the story of the major inventions and developments in the cinema business, its institutions, genres and personnel. Other chapters outline the evolution of national cinemas round the world, the varied and distinctive filmic traditions that have developed alongside Hollywood.
