Saint John's North End Harold E. Wright, Paul James, 1997-03-01 With Saint John's North End we continue our journey into the past of this lively and beloved city. This new pictorial history combines a wealth of over two hundred photographs taken between 1864 and 1975 with insightful commentary. The images cover all areas of the original City of Portland from Indiantown to Mount Pleasant Avenue and from Paradise Row to the Reversible Falls. Some of the scenes included were captured before the Indiantown Fire of 1899; all are rare and depict a heartfelt appreciation for the North End. Each page turn invites readers to experience a taste of nostalgia. We go to work at the Snowflake Lime Kiln, visit the Community Market, take in a movie at the Regent Theater or go to Splanes to buy a fishing reel. Readers get reacquainted with some familiar faces like Oakie O'Connor or Carl White. Family and children are not forgotten as we look at Joe Logana's new tricycle or watch as every kid on Wellsley Avenue goes bike riding. Come venture into Rockwood Park to see the bear cage or go swimming at Lily Lake. Watch Sollyas hockey team battle against the Atlantic All Stars at the Forum or relive the excitement of a ball game at St. Peter's Park.

Lancaster Harold E. Wright, 1999-06-01 For many the City of Lancaster lasted less than one generation. Incorporated as Canada's newest city on January 1, 1953, Lancaster was swallowed up in an amalgamation with Canada's oldest city, Saint John, on January 1, 1967, Canada's centennial year. Since then the name Lancaster has conjured up images of that part of Saint John known as the west side or Saint John West. Yet even prior to 1953, when Lancaster was a collection of communities including Fairville, Beaconsfield, Randolph, Milford, and South Bay, area residents have been bonded by a unique sense of community and pride. The name lives on today in the Lancaster Mall and the Lancaster Centennial Arena, as well as in the names of local sports teams.

Righting Canada's Wrongs: Anti-Semitism and the MS St. Louis Rona Arato, 2024-09-03 This story and the others in the Righting Canada's Wrongs series should be essential teaching in Canadian classrooms at all grades. CM Canadian Review of Materials. Prior to the Second World War, Canada's Jewish community was well established in many cities including Toronto, Montreal, and Winnipeg. As war grew closer, anti-Semitism across Europe was increasing. Hitler's Nazis were spreading hatred and violence towards Jews across Germany. At first Jews were allowed to leave Germany and thousands escaped to save themselves and their families. Then countries around the world closed their doors to Jewish refugees. In 1939 the MS St. Louis sailed for Cuba with nearly a thousand Jewish men, women, and children looking for safety. They were turned away by Cuba, then the US. The ship sailed on to Canada. Despite pleas from the Canadian Jewish community, the government refused to allow the passengers to land in Canada. After war broke out, Canada continued to refuse Jewish refugees entry. When Britain forced Canada to take some refugees, Canada imprisoned them in internment camps alongside Nazis. Some of these Jewish refugees were only teenagers. Three years after the war ended and after the horrors of the Holocaust were universally known, Canada finally changed immigration policies and began to accept Jews equally with other immigrants. Canada's long history of anti-Semitic immigration policies was deemed shameful. In November

2018 Prime Minister Justin Trudeau made an official apology to the Jewish community for Canada's refusal to accept the passengers of the MS St Louis as well as for its historical anti-Semitic policies This title is also available in immersion French L'antisémitisme et le MS Saint Louis ISBN 9781459419735 Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 1924 The Canadian Alternative Klaus Martens, 2004 Canadian Railway and Marine World, 1917 Canadian Engineer, 1920
