The Flame of Courage George Gibbs,1926 Vagueness and Contradiction Roy Sorensen,2001-09-27 Did Buddha become a fat man in one second Is there a tallest short giraffe Epistemicists answer Yes They believe that any predicate that divides things divides them sharply They solve the ancient sorites paradox by picturing vagueness as a kind of ignorance The alternative solutions are radical They either reject classical theorems or inference rules or reject our common sense view of what can exist Epistemicists spare this central portion of our web of belief by challenging peripheral intuitions about the nature of language So why is this continuation of the status quo so incredible Why do epistemicists themselves have trouble believing their theory In Vagueness and Contradiction Roy Sorensen traces our incredulity to linguistic norms that build upon our psychological tendencies to round off insignificant differences These simplifying principles lead to massive inconsistency rather like the rounding off errors of calculators with limited memory English entitles speakers to believe each tolerance conditional such as those of the form If n is small then $n + 1$ is small The conjunction of these a priori beliefs entails absurd conditionals such as If 1 is small then a billion is small Since the negation of this absurdity is an a priori truth our a priori beliefs about small numbers are jointly inconsistent One of the tolerance conditionals at the threshold of smallness must be an analytic falsehood that we are compelled to regard as a tautology Since there are infinitely many analytic sorites arguments Sorensen concludes that we are obliged to believe infinitely many contradictions These contradictions are not specifically detectable They are ineliminable like the heat from a light bulb Although the light bulb is not designed to produce heat the heat is inevitably produced as a side effect of illumination Vagueness can be avoided by representational systems that make no concession to limits of perception or memory or testimony But quick and rugged representational systems such as natural languages will trade rationality for speed and flexibility Roy Sorensen defends epistemicism in his own distinctive style inventive and amusing But he has some serious things to say about language and logic about the way the world is and about our understanding of it Cases Argued and Decided in the Supreme Court of the United States United States. Supreme Court,1885 Dreaming by the Book Elaine Scarry,2013-05-21 A pathbreaking work about the way literature teaches us to use our imagination We often attribute to our imaginative life powers that go beyond ordinary perception or sensation In Dreaming by the Book the noted scholar Elaine Scarry explores the apparently miraculous but in fact understandable processes by which poets and writers confer those powers on us how they teach us the work of imaginative creation Writers from Homer to Heaney Scarry argues instruct us in the art of mental composition even as their poems progress just as painters understand paint composers musical sounds and sculptors stone or metal verbal artists understand and deploy the only material in which their creations will get made the backlit tissue of the human imagination In her brilliant synthesis of cognitive psychology literary criticism and philosophy she explores the five principal formal practices by which writers bring things to life for their readers she calls them radiant ignition rarity dyadic addition and subtraction stretching and floral supposition The transforming power of these mental practices can be seen in their appearance in great literature of course but also in applying them to and watching how they revise our own daydreams Dreaming by the Book is not only an utterly original work of literary analysis but a sequence of on the spot mental experiments The book of gardening, by J.M. Abbot [and others] and ed. by W.D. Drury Book,1900 Illustrated Catalogue of Pictures in Pastel, Oil and Water Colors James Wells Champney,1904 Searl's Key to Australian Gardening Searl and sons, Sydney,1922 The Dog Fancier Eugene Glass,1914 The Dog Fancier ,1914
